Introduction

Historical

The University of Southern Mississippi and its Board of Trustees were established by an act of the Legislature approved on March 30, 1910, by Governor Edmund F. Noel. Its first name was the Mississippi Normal College, and its original purpose was to train teachers for the rural schools of Mississippi. On February 2, 1932, the Legislature established the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning and placed under its jurisdiction the five colleges and one university owned and operated by the state. On November 3, 1942, the people of the state voted to make the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning a constitutional board for all colleges and universities of the state. The University of Southern Mississippi is now operated under the jurisdiction of that constitutional board.

The act of March 30, 1910, did not provide any state money for the building of Mississippi Normal College, but did provide that localities in the state might bid for its location by offering land for a site and money for constructing buildings. On September 16, 1910, the Board of Trustees accepted the bid of Hattiesburg and Forrest County to supply $250,000.00 and a free site. That site was west of the city in cut-over timberland with great pine stumps everywhere. Contracts were let to clear the land and to build buildings.

The five permanent buildings (College Hall, Forrest County Hall, Hattiesburg Hall, the Industrial Cottage [now the Honor House], and the President's Home [now the Alumni House]), a temporary wooden Dining Hall, and other necessary improvements were barely finished when the Mississippi Normal College opened on the rainy morning of September 18, 1912, with a president, a faculty of eighteen, and a student body of 200.

On October 17, 1911, Joseph Anderson Cook, Superintendent of Schools, Columbus, Mississippi, was elected president. The University of Southern Mississippi has had only seven presidents since its founding. The Board of Trustees elected Claude Bennett president effective October 10, 1928. On April 23, 1933, the Board of Trustees elected Dr. Jennings Burton George as the third president, effective July 1, 1933. On June 13, 1945, the Board of Trustees elected Dr. Robert Cecil Cook as the fourth president and he officially assumed office on July 1, 1945. On October 21, 1954, President Cook submitted his resignation. He served until December 31, 1954, and Dr. Richard Aubrey McLemore became acting president on January 1, 1955. The Board of Trustees, on May 19, 1955, elected Dr. William David McCain as the fifth president. He officially assumed office on August 1, 1955, and retired as of June 30, 1975. Dr. Aubrey Keith Lucas became the sixth president of the University on July 1, 1975, and served until his retirement on December 31, 1996, the longest tenure of any president. Dr. Horace Weldon Fleming, Jr., was appointed as the seventh president, assuming office on January 1, 1997.

As has been stated, The University of Southern Mississippi was founded on March 30, 1910, as the Mississippi Normal College. On March 7, 1924, the Legislature changed the name to State Teachers College. On February 8, 1940, the Legislature changed the name to Mississippi Southern College, and on February 27, 1962, the Legislature changed the name to The University of Southern Mississippi.

The Mississippi Normal College did not grant degrees in its early years, but awarded certificates for the completion of certain specified courses of study. On April 8, 1922, the Legislature authorized the awarding of the Bachelor of Science degree. The Bachelor of Music degree was authorized by the Board of Trustees on June 19, 1934. The first Bachelor of Arts degree was awarded on August 20, 1940. On May 26, 1947, the Board of Trustees authorized the initiation of graduate work and the awarding of the Master of Arts degree. In the years since 1947, the University's graduate programs have developed logically to meet the needs for professional competence beyond the academic measure of the baccalaureate degree. Doctoral programs were first authorized by the Board of Trustees on May 20, 1959. The administrative and academic organization of The University of Southern Mississippi is divided into the following areas: Office of the University Provost, Vice President for Administrative Affairs, Vice President for Research and Planning, Vice President for Business and Finance, Vice President for Student Affairs, and Director of Intercollegiate Athletics. The academic area of The University of Southern Mississippi is organized into the College of The Arts, the College of Business Administration, the College of Education and Psychology, the College of Health and Human Sciences, the College of International and Continuing Education, the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Nursing, the College of Science and Technology, the Honors College, and the Graduate School. The number of graduates is some measure of the growth of a university. The University of Southern Mississippi has awarded 100,114 degrees since the first one was conferred in 1922.

The Graduate School

The Graduate School at The University of Southern Mississippi was established in 1947 to recognize the University's growing responsibilities as a center of higher learning and provide an academic environment in which advanced research and free inquiry could develop to the advantage of both the student and the State. In the years since 1947, the University's graduate programs have developed logically on the growing points of strong undergraduate schools and departments to meet the needs for professional competence beyond the academic measure of the baccalaureate degree.

In response to the need to offer graduate programs beyond the boundaries of the Hattiesburg Campus, the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning in 1972 authorized the University to grant graduate degrees on the campus at The University of Southern Mississippi, Gulf Coast. Course work taken at the Hattiesburg and Gulf Park campuses is considered as campus work. Graduate classes taken as part of International Programming under Hattiesburg registration and accompanied by a USM professor are considered campus work also.

The Graduate Council

The Graduate School is administered by a dean executing policies determined by the Graduate Council. The present composition of the Graduate Council includes the Dean of the Graduate School and elected members from the Colleges of The Arts, Business Administration, Education and Psychology, Health and Human Sciences, International and Continuing Education, Liberal Arts, Nursing, Science and Technology, and the Institute of Marine Sciences. Permanent ex officio members are the President of the University and the University Librarian. The Council elects a chair from its regular members. The University Registrar serves as secretary to the Council. The Dean of the Graduate School serves as corresponding secretary.

The responsibilities of the Graduate Council, representing both administration and faculty, include:

1. Determining policies of admission to the Graduate School.
2. Considering and approving graduate programs submitted to the Council through curriculum committees of each college.
3. Electing members of the Graduate Faculty upon recommendation by the academic deans.
4. Approving new courses (and deleting courses) for graduate credit.
5. Acting upon any other problems affecting graduate programs.

The graduate programs approved by the Council are carried out through the Graduate Faculty in each degree-granting college of the University's academic organization.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended (FERPA)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 as amended deals with one subject only: educational records. The purpose of the law is to define, more precisely than ever has been done, who may or may not see them. On the one hand, the law grants students guaranteed access; on the other hand, it takes from the universities the privilege of indiscriminate disclosure.

The FERPA sets forth these main requirements:

1. it allows a student access to each educational record that a university or college keeps on him or her;
2. it requires the institution to establish a policy on how students can go about seeing specific records;
3. it requires the institution to inform all students as to what rights they have under the Amendment, how they can act on these rights according to school policy, and how they can see a copy of the policy; and
4. it requires the institution to seek student permission, in writing, before disclosing any personally identifiable record to individuals other than professional personnel employed in the university or college (and others who meet certain specified requirements).

The University has developed and put into writing a policy for handling requests from students and for disclosing personally identifiable information about students. Students are notified of their rights under the law by publishing the University policy in the student handbook.

Oak Ridge Associated Universities

Since 1992, students and faculty of The University of Southern Mississippi have benefited from its membership in Oak Ridge Associated Universities (ORAU). ORAU is a consortium of colleges and universities and a management and operating contractor for the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) located in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. ORAU works with its member institutions to help their students and faculty gain access to federal research facilities throughout the country; to keep its members informed about opportunities for fellowship, scholarship, and research appointments; and to organize research alliances among its members.

Through the Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education, the DOE facility that ORAU manages, undergraduates, graduates, postgraduates, as well as faculty enjoy access to a multitude of opportunities for study and research. Students can participate in programs covering a wide variety of disciplines including business, earth sciences, epidemiology, engineering, physics, pharmacology, ocean sciences, biomedical sciences, nuclear chemistry, and mathematics. Appointment and program length range from one month to four years. Many of these programs are especially designed to increase the numbers of underrepresented minority students pursuing degrees in science- and engineering-related disciplines. A comprehensive listing of these programs and other opportunities, their disciplines, and details on locations and benefits can be found in the Resource Guide, which is available by calling either of the contacts below.

ORAU's Member Services office seeks opportunities for partnerships and alliances among ORAU's members, private industry, and major federal facilities. Current alliances include the Southern Association for High Energy Physics, Pan American Association for Physics, Materials Science Forum, and international initiatives in support of the New Independent States and the republics of Central and Eastern Europe. Other activities include faculty development programs, such as the Junior Faculty Enhancement Awards and the Visiting Industrial Scientist Program, and various services to chief research officers.

For more information about ORAU and its programs, contact Dr. Donald R. Cotten, ORAU Council member, at 601-266-5116; or contact Monnie E. Champion, ORAU Corporate Secretary, at 423-576-3306, website: www.ouau.gov

Retention of Students and Program Completion Information

A University fact book which includes information on retention and graduation is in the University library and is available upon request.

University Press of Mississippi

The University Press of Mississippi was founded in 1970 to encourage the dissemination of the fruits of research and study through the publication of scholarly works. Functioning as the scholarly publishing arm of the state-supported universities in Mississippi, The University Press is governed by a Board of Directors made up of one representative from each of the eight state universities, one representative from the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, and the director of the Press.

The University Press publishes more than fifty books each year. Primary areas of interest are Mississippi history and literature, but manuscripts in all areas of study are welcomed.

Administrative offices of the University Press are located in the Education and Research Center of Mississippi, 3825 Ridgewood Road, Jackson, Mississippi, 39211.

University of Southern Mississippi Alumni Association

The Alumni Association was established in 1917 as an organization mainly involved in functions relating to placement service. Since its rebirth in 1946, when the Executive Committee recognized the need for a working Alumni Association with organized alumni groups in the various counties of the state, the Association has operated in its present form, serving as a link between the University and its former students.

USM graduates and former students are encouraged to become active in the Alumni Association and its support of the University's various academic and athletic programs. Of approximately 97,000 graduates since the University's founding, the Alumni Association has enlisted in excess of 21,000 paid members for the past several years.

The Association provides a number of benefits to its members, including a subscription to the quarterly USM Alumni News magazine, which helps graduates stay informed on campus developments and provides updates on former classmates. Other benefits include a waiver of out-of-state tuition fees for children of members who meet certain requirements, receipt of mailings on area alumni chapter meetings, library privileges, the full four-issue subscription to the Southern News and Views Alumni Newsletter, car decals, eligibility to join the USM Credit Union, and various other special events.

The Association is very active in developing other programs to support all areas of the University. Some of these include organizing joint district Eagle Club meetings in conjunction with the Athletic Department, sponsoring high school student nights across Mississippi and the surrounding states, and organizing both athletic road game trips and educational excursions to such locations as Switzerland and England.

The Alumni Association also sponsored the drive to raise the funds necessary for the construction of the first R. C. Cook University Union Building, helped set up the USM Foundation (the receptacle for all gifts to the University), and organized the Student Alumni Association, an organization comprised of hard-working, enthusiastic students involved in a variety of activities each semester to promote the University.

Organized Alumni chapters are urged to hold a meeting each year for the election of officers on or around March 30, the date selected by the Association as USM Day in commemoration of the founding of the University on that date in 1910. All former students of USM are encouraged to get together in honor of the University on this date.

Admission Requirements and Procedures

Since applicants must always be admitted to a specific program within the Graduate School, all applications for admission to the Graduate School are closely reviewed and must be approved by the chair of the department in which the student intends to study, by the college dean, and by the Graduate Dean. U.S. citizens should obtain admission forms and should submit them to the Graduate Admissions Office. International applicants should obtain admission forms from the Office of International Admissions (see Office of International Admissions section of this Bulletin for specific details).

The General sections (verbal, quantitative and analytic sections) of the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE) are required of all applicants to the Graduate School, except in the College of Business Administration, which requires the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT), in some departments of the College of Education and Psychology, which accept the Miller Analogies Test (MAT), in some departments in the College of Health and Human Sciences which accept other graduate admission tests, e.g. MCAT. Prospective students should plan to take the appropriate examination, some of which are given several times a year at a number of university testing centers, (or by computer at designated centers given on a weekly basis) early in their senior year and request that a copy of their scores be sent to the Graduate Admissions Office.

The decision to admit an applicant to pursue studies at The University of Southern Mississippi results from evaluations of qualitative and quantitative information. All applicants must provide a completed application form and records of previous academic achievements (official transcripts). Applicants are required to provide letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and may be required to provide a writing sample/personal essay, or participate in an interview or audition. These additional criteria have been decided upon by the departments and colleges. Admission decisions are never based solely upon a test score nor is a specific score used as a cutoff level. The departments and the Graduate School consider all of the application materials which are reviewed and contribute to the final decision. A decision to accept an applicant into a graduate degree program is based upon not only the quality of his/her previous academic experience, but also on a consideration of his/her purpose of study concerning the opportunities in the proposed field, prior professional and employment activities, and recommendations of the faculty in the proposed field of study.

The academic record, character, and conditions of application of the applicant must be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning and with the laws of the State of Mississippi. The applicant must have excellent moral character in conformity with the generally accepted standards customarily in effect in the University.

The University reserves the right to cancel the admission or registration of an individual whose attendance at the University, in the opinion of the appropriate administrative officer and the President, would not be beneficial to the student and/or to the institution.

Admission Review

Any student who is denied admission, whose admission is suspended, who questions the type of admission granted, or has had admission status changed, may have his or her case reviewed by the Graduate Committee for Admissions and Credits. To initiate the review procedure, the student should send a written request to the Dean of the Graduate School, Box 5024, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5024. Any request for review must be made within one year of the date of the denial or suspension or it cannot be considered by the Committee.

It should be clearly understood that the admission requirements listed below represent the minimal standards set by the Graduate Council and that additional requirements and higher standards may well be stipulated by the various department chairs. Applicants should check for such requirements in the departmental section of this Bulletin.

Types of Admission to Master's Programs

An applicant may be granted regular or conditional admission to a masters program, or may take coursework as a non-degree graduate student with permission of the department chair and graduate dean. (See Regulations Governing Non-Degree Graduate Students.)

I. Regular Admission

Minimum Standards for Regular Admission are as follows:

- A. The applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from an institution approved by a recognized accrediting agency.
- B. The applicant must be eligible to re-enter in good standing the last college or university attended.
- C. The applicant must present evidence, by official transcript, of a grade point average of at least 2.75 (figured on an A equals 4.0 scale) for the last two years of undergraduate study, and a grade point average of at least 3.0 on undergraduate courses in the field of proposed graduate study.
- D. The applicant must have at least two (2) letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department or school. Some departments require more than two letters so check the department sections.
- E. Applicants must present standardized test scores (GRE, GMAT, or MAT or other approved graduate admission test). Consult specific departmental requirements for this information.
- F. The appropriate department chair, the college dean, and the Graduate Dean must be satisfied that the applicant shows promise of satisfying graduate degree requirements.

II. Conditional Admission

A student who fails to qualify for regular admission may be admitted on a conditional basis; provided, however, such student possesses a grade point average of at least 2.50 (calculated on an A equals 4.0 scale). Conditional admission can be given only upon the recommendation of the department chair, the college dean, and the Graduate Dean.

A conditional student at the master's level must maintain a grade point average of at least 3.00 on the first nine (9) semester hours of course work numbered 500 or above or on all courses taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement. In some cases, additional requirements may be imposed by the department chair. All requirements must be met or the student will not be allowed to continue to seek a master's degree. A student not maintaining the required grade point average after the first nine (9) semester hours of course work, and/or failing to satisfy any additional requirements, will be reclassified as a non-degree graduate student.

All courses taken to remove conditional admission must be taken on a campus of The University of Southern Mississippi. Upon recommendation of the department chair and approval by the Dean of the Graduate School, the conditional admission will be removed and the student reclassified as a regularly admitted student.

Types of Admission to Specialist's Programs

Advanced graduate programs leading to the specialist's degree are available to qualified students. An applicant may be granted regular or conditional admission to these programs, or may take course work as a non-degree graduate student with permission of the department chair and graduate dean (see Regulations Governing Non-Degree Graduate Students).

Conditional admission can be given only upon the recommendation of the department chair, the college dean, and the Graduate Dean.

A conditional student at the specialist level must maintain a grade point average of at least 3.25 on the first nine (9) semester hours of course work numbered 600 or above or on all courses taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement. Additional requirements may be imposed by the department chair. A student should meet with the chair to be clear about these requirements. All requirements must be met or the student will not be allowed to continue to seek the degree. A student not maintaining the required grade point average after the first nine (9) semester hours of course work 600 level or above or on all courses taken while meeting this requirement, and/or failing to satisfy any additional requirements, will be reclassified as a non-degree graduate student.

All courses taken to remove conditional admission must be taken on a campus of The University of Southern Mississippi. Upon recommendation of the department chair and approval by the Dean of the Graduate School, the conditional admission will be removed and the student reclassified as a regularly admitted student.

Types of Admissions to Doctoral Programs

Advanced graduate programs leading to the doctoral degree are available to qualified students. An applicant may be granted regular or conditional admission to these programs or may take classes as a non-degree graduate student with permission of department chair and Graduate Dean (see Regulations Governing Non-Degree Graduate Students).

Conditional admission can be given only upon the recommendation of the department chair, the college dean, and the Graduate Dean.

A conditional student at the doctoral level must maintain a grade point average of at least 3.5 on the first nine (9) semester hours of course work numbered 600 or above or on all courses taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement. Additional requirements may be imposed by the department chair. A student should meet with the chair to be clear about these requirements. All requirements must be met or the student will not be allowed to continue to seek a doctoral degree. A student not maintaining the required grade point average after the first nine (9) semester hours of course work 600 level or above or on all courses taken while meeting this requirement, and/or failing to satisfy any additional requirements, will be reclassified as a non-degree graduate student.

All courses taken to remove conditional admission must be taken on a campus of The University of Southern Mississippi. Upon recommendation of the department chair and approval of the Dean of the Graduate School, the conditional admission will be removed and the student reclassified as a regularly admitted student.

Regulations Governing Non-Degree Graduate Students

Permission to take courses as a non-degree graduate student may be granted for any of the following reasons:

- A. The student did not meet requirements for conditional or regular admission before the deadline. These admission requirements must be met and the Non-Degree status changed to conditional or regular by the end of the first full semester after the student enrolls in graduate courses in order to continue course work.
- B. The student may or may not be able to meet admission requirements but does not desire to work toward a graduate degree.
- C. The student is enrolled in another university and desires to obtain credit from The University of Southern Mississippi to be transferred to the graduate school in which he or she is seeking a degree.

Even though a non-degree graduate student is allowed to take courses at the University, he or she has not been admitted to any department or to any degree program. Moreover, no credit earned beyond the master's degree while classified as a non-degree student may be applied toward the doctoral degree. Non-degree graduate students must have the permission of the chair of the department offering the course and the Dean of the Graduate School to register for any graduate course. It is the responsibility of these students to check admission standards of the individual colleges before enrolling in their courses.

A non-degree graduate student must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution.

To be allowed to continue as a non-degree graduate student, the student must consult with the department chair or academic adviser of the department in which he or she is taking courses during the first semester enrolled at the University regardless of whether or not the student plans to seek a degree.

No more than nine (9) semester hours earned while classified as a non-degree graduate student will be accepted toward a master's degree at The University of Southern Mississippi. A student must, therefore, gain conditional or regular admission before completing more than nine (9) semester hours of study for additional hours to be counted toward a master's degree.

An applicant for specialist and doctoral study may take courses as a non-degree graduate student; however, no credit earned as a non-degree graduate student may be applied to doctoral degrees. All non-degree graduate students at the advanced level must have the permission of the chair of the department offering the course and the Dean of the Graduate School to register for any graduate course.

Limitations on University Faculty Members

Members of the faculty of The University of Southern Mississippi above the rank of instructor cannot become candidates for a doctoral degree at this institution. They may, however, enroll for graduate courses as a non-degree student. Faculty members of the rank of instructor may become candidates for doctoral degrees at The University of Southern Mississippi on the same terms as any other advanced graduate student candidate.

Students Denied Admission

Students who have been denied admission to a program, but who wish to take graduate courses, may request permission to take courses as a non-degree seeking graduate student. Therefore, they must have the permission of the chair of the department offering the course and the Dean of the Graduate School to register for any graduate course.

Procedures for Applying for Admission (U.S. Citizens)

- I. Application materials are available from the Office of Admissions, Box 5166, phone (601) 266-5000, or in person at Graduate Admissions, McCain Library, room 205, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-0066.
- II. Students can also apply by INTERNET: web page address: www-dept.usm.edu/~gradsch
- III. Students must submit a new application for each degree sought: master's, specialist's, and doctoral.
- IV. All credentials (application, an official transcript from each institution attended and standardized test scores) must be submitted to the Director of Graduate Admissions by the deadline published in the University Calendar, or the departmental deadline (p.#####). Letters of recommendation should be sent directly to the department.
- V. After all credentials are received, the Graduate Admissions Office will compute the applicant's grade point average for the last 60 hours of baccalaureate classwork and will forward the application and transcript to the appropriate department chair. As soon as the application has been processed by the department chair, the college dean concerned, and the Graduate Dean, the Office of Graduate Admissions will notify the applicant of the University's decision on the request for admission. The letter from the Graduate School is the official letter of admission.
- VI. If a student has been admitted but has not attended USM on that acceptance, the admit status is good for only one year. After that time all paperwork (transcripts, etc.) is shredded and a student must reapply for admission.
- VII. Students whose native language is not English and have recently come to the United States are required to take the TOEFL exam to demonstrate English proficiency.

Permission for Undergraduate Seniors to Register for Graduate Credit

Exceptionally well qualified undergraduate students at The University of Southern Mississippi may apply to the Graduate Office for permission to take course work for graduate credit if they are within nine (9) semester hours of meeting bachelor's degree requirements as certified by the University Registrar. If the Graduate Dean approves, the student may then register for graduate courses up to a maximum of six (6) semester hours of graduate credit with a total course load not exceeding twelve (12) semester hours. The student must complete requirements for the baccalaureate degree within the first semester/term in which he or she registers for graduate courses. The student's application for admission to the Graduate School will not be given final approval until after he or she satisfies all requirements for the baccalaureate degree.

An undergraduate student from another institution desiring to take graduate courses as listed above should file a graduate application, have a transcript sent to the Dean of the Graduate School, and receive permission from the department chair and Graduate Dean to take a graduate class.

International Admissions

Office of International Student Affairs

The Office of International Student Affairs coordinates all facets of international admissions and student services. The ISA provides counseling on immigration regulations, personal matters, culture shock and adjustment, as well as some academic counseling in conjunction with the various departments. The Office processes all international applications, evaluates foreign academic credentials, and issues the appropriate immigration documents for the non-immigrant foreign student. Multi-cultural programming for international students and the community is also coordinated by the ISA.

The ISA Office disseminates USM information to foreign schools, U.S. embassies/consulates abroad, and non-profit international organizations (such as the Institute for International Education). This Office also provides information to and immigration documents for research scholars invited by various USM department to participate in research opportunities. Student Expenses and Financial Aid

Student Expenses

The University of Southern Mississippi is supported chiefly by legislative appropriations. Increases in student fees are put into effect only when public support funds are inadequate and no other recourse is available. Increases are made only for support of the institution or improvement of the activity program of the students; therefore the University must reserve the right to increase or modify fees and expenses without prior notice but with approval of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning.

Fees and expenses are in the form of general tuition, room and board, and special fees.

General Tuition

This fee, together with the allocation from the legislative appropriation, is used for general support of the University. Athletic activities and UAC programs are not included for part-time students.

Full-time students for purposes of assessing fees are those who take nine (9) or more semester hours in Graduate School and twelve (12) or more semester hours in all other colleges during fall and spring semesters. During summer terms, seven (7) or more semester hours for Graduate School and nine (9) or more semester hours in all other colleges constitute full-time students for purposes of assessing fees. Undergraduate students enrolled for more than nineteen (19) semester hours during fall and spring semesters and for more than fourteen (14) semester hours during the summer term will be assessed the applicable fee for each additional semester hour. Graduate students enrolled for more than thirteen (13) semester hours during fall and spring semesters and for more than fourteen (14) semester hours during the summer term will be assessed the applicable fee for each additional semester hour.

Clinical and hospital services covered by the health service charge included in the general tuition fee are limited to cases of ordinary illness. Services are provided within the limits of the professional, technical, and physical resources of the Clinic. The University does not assume responsibility in cases of extended illness or for treatment of chronic diseases. Cases requiring surgery must be handled by a physician and hospital of the student's choice and at the student's expense.

Board

Board fees are assessed to all students living in the residence halls and fraternity houses. Board is available to all other students on an optional basis. Students may choose from a seven-day or five-day meal plan. Students with a basic meal plan may dine at the Commons, Elam Arms, Hillcrest, and occasionally at Seymour's. Every meal includes unlimited seconds and unlimited use of the beverage and salad bars. Commuter and Snack meal plans are also available.

Telephone Service

Telephone service in residence halls and family student housing is provided through the Communications Resources Department. The cost of local telephone service is included as a part of housing rent. For long distance service, students may use the University's system by completing an application at the Campus Telephone Office, Hub Building, Room 104. Long distance telephone authorization and a caller identification number will then be issued. Students must have been issued a university post office box prior to obtaining a caller identification number. Long distance calls are billed to the student at the end of each month, to be paid no later than the 10th of the following month. Students are responsible for payment for any calls charged to their caller identification number, and all charges must be settled prior to leaving the University (including graduation, withdrawal, and semester breaks).

Post Office Box

The post office box rental fee is assessed to all students living in University-controlled housing. Fees are assessed on an academic year basis and are calculated on time remaining in the academic year. The fee covers box rental for the remainder of the academic year provided the student remains enrolled. Those students living off campus may rent a post office box if they so desire.

Student ID Cards

The ID card is a PERMANENT card for each student. The Fall Semester (permanent) ID card will also be used for Spring and Summer Semesters each year by revalidation. The same card must be kept, re-validated and used even when returning from a previous year or semester. Do not destroy, lose, bend or tamper with an ID card. Only one card will be issued at no charge during a five (5) year period. A fee of $10.00 will be charged at the time a replacement card is made.

Department of Residence Life

The Department of Residence Life feels very strongly that the educational benefits for residence hall students extend far beyond the classroom experience. Every effort is made to offer on-campus students the opportunity to take part in cultural, scholastic, athletic, and social programs developed by the residence hall staff. In addition, residence hall students experience cross-cultural living experiences which help promote open-mindedness, tolerance, and leadership—a philosophical goal of Residence Life.

All residence halls are fully air conditioned with the capacity of offering diversified housing options to an on-campus population of 3,420 students. Elam Arms-South, Hillcrest and Mississippi for women, and Elam Arms-North, Hattiesburg, and Vann for men, are arranged in suite fashion with 4-6 students sharing a bath. Bolton, Hickman, Jones, Pulley, Scott, and Wilber (Panhellenic) for women, and Bond and Roberts for men, are arranged with baths conveniently located on each floor.

Application for campus housing should be made at the time of application to the University. The priority deadline for residence hall space is March 1. Applications received after March 1 will be processed based on space availability. Assignment of a student to a residence hall is incomplete until full prepayment and a signed rental agreement have been received by the Department of Residence Life by the stated deadline. Although preferences are honored when possible, the application is for accommodation in the residence hall and not for a specific roommate or specific hall. Upperclass assignments are made based on date of application into specific halls. Freshman assignments are made based on date of application into random freshman residence halls.

Cancellation of the rental agreement can be made in cases of marriage, graduation, withdrawal, co-oping, student teaching, or interning. Notification of cancellation must be made in writing by the designated deadlines. Cancellations received after the deadlines will result in forfeiture of the entire prepayment amount. Students who have not cancelled by their designated deadline and are planning to enroll at the University with paid prepayment and signed contracts will be held to the terms and conditions of the academic year residence hall rental agreement.

Department of Residence Life
Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5064

The Department of Residence Life accepts applications for housing assignments regardless of age, race, creed, color, or national origin. In compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and University policy, housing assignments will not be made on a segregated basis.

Family Housing

Pine Haven Apartments, consisting of two hundred and ninety-six (296) one-two-and three bedroom unfurnished units, are available for married students and single and married students with custody of children. Apartment priority is based on the date of application and/or occupancy.

The rent is due and payable at registration. Students obligate themselves to the full fee for one semester's rent when they move in, unless they withdraw from the University. A deposit of $75.00 is required at the time of application. Refund of rent due to withdrawal from the University is followed according to the University tuition refund schedule. Cancellation of the rental agreement must be made forty-five (45) days prior to the semester of cancellation. Notification of cancellation after the deadline obligates students to payment of rent for the following semester if enrolled, or forfeiture of deposit if not enrolled. Applications and brochures may be secured at the Pine Haven Office or by writing the Department of Residence Life.

Food Services

The Department of Food Services serves tasty and nutritious meals seven days a week during all school terms. Choices include: two entrees, assorted vegetables and desserts, and self-service salad and drink bars. In addition, a lite line, a deli-line, and a variety line are offered in the University Commons. Dining services are also available in Hillcrest and Elam Arms. Students on a 5-Day or 7-Day Basic Meal Plan may choose where to dine on a meal to meal basis.

ALL STUDENTS LIVING IN A RESIDENCE HALL ARE REQUIRED TO PURCHASE A 5-DAY OR A 7-DAY BASIC MEAL PLAN.

A Snack Plan may be added to a Basic Meal Plan. It may be used at Seymour's, I Can't Believe It's Yogurt and Java Coast Coffees, Seymour's Plaza Express, and Seymour's Atrium Cafe. The Snack Plan may also be used to supplement a 5-Day Basic Plan and allows for occasional weekend meals in the Commons.

Seymour's, I Can't Believe It's Yogurt and Java Coast Coffees, Seymour's Plaza Express, and Seymour's Atrium Cafe offer a variety of snacks, short orders, and beverages. Purchases at these establishments are a la carte.

A Commuter Plan is available for off-campus students. This plan operates much like a checking account. Each time a purchase is made, the amount of the purchase is deducted from the balance. With a Commuter Plan, meals at the Commons, Elam Arms, and Hillcrest are purchased at a discounted price. The Commuter Plan may be used in all the dining facilities on campus.

All meal plans may be purchased during registration or at the Food Services office located in the Commons

Meal Ticket Exemptions

Meal ticket exemptions are allowed only for those students with modified diets which cannot be prepared by the University Food Services and for those students with internships which conflict with cafeteria serving hours. Those students who may qualify for an exemption should make arrangements for an evaluation PRIOR TO REGISTRATION. However, those not arranging for an evaluation prior to registration should go to the Food Services Office in the University Commons after registering for classes. Those students who have not completed the requirements for a meal ticket exemption prior to registration will be charged for a meal ticket during the registration process. As a result of the extensive serving hours in the University Commons, work-related exemptions will not be permitted.

Medical Exemptions

Those students with a medical problem requiring a modified diet who feel their needs cannot be met by the University Food Services should make arrangements to have their diet evaluated by the registered dietitian before registration. Documentation required for this evaluation includes a prescription signed by a physician which specifies the student's modified diet and a copy of the modified diet. The University Commons offers a special diet program or weight watchers. The line caters to weight watchers as well as to those students with medical problems which require special diets.

Academic Related Exemptions

Requirements:

A student must miss a minimum of fifty percent of meals served per week. The meals missed must be due to an internship.

Documentation Required:

1. A statement, on letterhead stationery, signed by the student's adviser, giving the student's hours, on a daily basis, Monday through Friday.
2. A copy of the student's Advisement and Registration Appointment Form which shows the student's class schedule.

Work Related Exemptions

University Policy DOES NOT allow for meal ticket exemptions for students holding part-time or full-time employment.

Other Financial Information

Payment of Fees

One-half of a student's total fees are due and payable at time of registration. Students with University loans, grants, or scholarships may use those funds as payment for the first half of total fees. Loans, grants, scholarships and checks made payable to the University must be applied to fees in full before a refund or change can be given. Fees deferred past the last day to register each term will be billed monthly. A monthly service charge of 1.5% will be applied to the unpaid balance.

The University accepts payment by check, money order, cash, Visa and Mastercard credit cards. The University reserves the right to refuse payment by check where an individual has previously given a check that has been returned.

The University reserves the right to withhold readmission of a student until all delinquent accounts have been paid. In fact, all past due accounts will be included on registration fee invoices and monthly bills. Transcripts of credits will not be issued for students whose accounts are delinquent. All fees must be paid before a degree will be awarded. Payments by personal check on delinquent accounts will be sent for collection before transcripts or degrees will be released. To avoid any delay in receiving these documents, payments can be made by cash, cashier's check, or money order.

Fines accumulated as a result of failure to adhere to the established procedures of the University, such as Library and Public Safety regulations, or any other policy establishing regulations for the protection of University property, shall become collectable by the Business Office, and, if not collected, shall constitute a delinquent account.

A fee of $50.00 will be assessed students who register during the late registration period.

Students whose checks for registration fees are returned will be assessed the late registration fee of $50.00 in addition to the $30.00 returned check handling fee. Returned checks not promptly paid may result in dismissal from the University.

The $15.00 activity fee assessed to part-time students consists of a non-refundable $5.00 fee allocated to registration expenses, a $6.00 allocation to the Payne Center, a $2.00 allocation for transcripts, a $1.00 allocation to the University Union, and a $1.00 allocation to the Cook Library.

Courses requiring special fees and music fees are shown in the Special Fee listing and are indicated by a plus sign in the Course Description Section of this Bulletin.

Financial Assistance for Graduate Students

At present the University has available some 400 master's and 150 doctoral University assistantships in all areas as well as fellowships provided by federal and private agencies. Amounts of assistantships vary from department to department. Contact the specific department for information regarding stipend levels available. Assistantships entail one half time of teaching or research assignment. To maintain an assistantship a student must have an average of B or better each semester. General tuition and the non-resident fee are waived for graduate assistantship holders. To qualify for this waiver, students on assistantships must be registered for courses totaling twelve (12) hours each semester (9 hours during Summer term). Courses taken as Audit do not count toward these hours. The University also currently waives out-of-state tuition for students on sabbatical leave with pay from schools and colleges.

Inquiries regarding assistantships should be directed to the Dean of the Graduate School. Applications for assistantships must be filed by April 1 in the Graduate School.

The Perkins Loan Program (formerly NDSL), and the Federal Work-Study Program, and State Student Incentive Grant are also available to graduate students. Applicants for Perkins Loans and Federal Work-Study Program should apply by March 15 (priority date) for loans and work to begin the fall term. Applications for the Perkins Loan Program, and the Federal Work-Study Program may be secured by writing the Office of Financial Aid.

Refunds are based on the assessment, not upon the amount paid by the student.

Appeals for refunds due to extenuating circumstances may be made in writing to: Business Services, Box 5133, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5133. Appeals must be received prior to the end of the academic year.

Students who participate in SFA (Student Financial Assistance) programs have additional calculations. These calculations are made on a withdrawal worksheet. This form utilizes a comparison of USM refund policy to a Federal Refund Policy. The larger refund calculation will be used.

Federal Refund Policy mandates the percentage of institutional charges that must be refunded as follows:

- v Withdrawal on the first day of class—100% refund of institutional charges (less the permitted administrative fee of the lesser of $100.00 or 5% of institutional charges)
- v Withdrawal from after the first day of class through the first 10% of the enrollment period—90% refund of institutional charges
- v Withdrawal from after the first 10% of the enrollment period through the first 25% of the enrollment period—50% refund of institutional charges
- v Withdrawal from after the first 25% of the enrollment period through the first 50% of the enrollment period—25% refund of institutional charges

Pro Rata Refund is calculated when both of the following conditions apply:

- v The student is a first-time student
- v The student withdrew on or before the 60% point in time of the enrollment period for which he or she was charged

There is no comparison to a USM refund calculation or Federal Refund calculation when these conditions exist. This calculation is made on the withdrawal worksheet. Under a pro rata refund, the school must refund an amount proportional to the portion of the enrollment period that was not completed by the student. This “portion that remains” percentage is calculated based on the following formula and may be rounded down to the nearest 10%.

$$\frac{\text{Weeks Remaining}}{\text{Total Weeks in Period}}$$

Examples of these refunds can be found at the Business Office in the Accounts Receivable Department.

Residency Regulations

PETITIONS FOR CHANGE OF RESIDENCY: PETITIONS FOR CHANGE OF RESIDENCY MUST BE MADE ON OR BEFORE THE LAST DAY OF LATE REGISTRATION. FORMS ARE AVAILABLE IN THE OFFICE OF THE UNIVERSITY REGISTRAR.

Legal Residence of Students: The definitions and conditions stated here are as required by state law in the classification of students as residents or nonresidents for the assessment of fees. Requests for a review of residency classification should be submitted to the University Registrar; forms for this purpose are available from the Office of the University Registrar.

A Minor: The residence of a person less than twenty-one years of age is that of the father. After the death of the father, the residence of the minor is that of the mother. If the parents are divorced, the residence of the minor is that of the parent who was granted custody by the court; or, if custody was not granted, the residence continues to be that of the father. If both parents are dead, the residence of the minor is that of the last surviving parent at the time of that parent's death, unless the minor lives with a legal guardian of his or her person duly appointed by a proper court of Mississippi, in which case his or her residence becomes that of the guardian.

An Adult: The residence of an adult is that place where he or she is domiciled, that is, the place where he or she actually physically resides with the intention of remaining there indefinitely or of returning there permanently when temporarily absent. Adult students who are residing outside of the State of Mississippi, but whose parents have moved to this state and have become residents, must establish residence in their own right. In determining residence for tuition purposes of persons who return to Mississippi after temporary departures such as school attendance, work elsewhere, or military service, cognizance is taken for evidence showing continuity of state residence and demonstrated intent to return to the state.

Removal of Parents from Mississippi: If the parents of a minor who is enrolled as a student in an institution of higher learning move their legal residence from the State of Mississippi, the minor is immediately classified as a nonresident student.

Twelve Months of Residence Required: No student may be admitted to the University as a resident of Mississippi unless his residence, as defined herein above, has been in the State of Mississippi for a continuous period of at least twelve months immediately preceding his or her admission.

A student who has lived within the state for twelve months following his or her twenty-first birthday may establish residence in his or her own right by showing that he or she is living in the state with the intention of abandoning his or her former domicile and remaining in the State of Mississippi permanently or for an indefinite length of time. Intent may be demonstrated or disproved by factors including, but not limited to, filing of Mississippi income tax returns, eligibility to vote in Mississippi, motor vehicle registration in Mississippi, possession of a Mississippi operator's license, place of employment, and self support.

Residence Status of a Married Person: A married person may claim the residence of his or her spouse. (Foreign students refer to Legal Residence of a Foreign Student.)

Children of Parents Who Are Employed by the University: Children of parents who are members of the faculty or staff of the University may be classified as residents without regard to the residence requirement of twelve months.

Military Personnel Assigned on Active Duty Stationed in Mississippi: Members of the armed forces on extended active duty and stationed within the State of Mississippi may be classified as residents, without regard to the residence requirement of twelve months, for the purpose of attendance at the University. Resident status of such military personnel who are not legal residents of Mississippi, as defined above under LEGAL RESIDENCE OF AN ADULT, shall terminate upon their reassignment for duty in the continental United States outside the State of Mississippi.

Children of Military Personnel: Resident status of children of members of the armed forces on extended active duty shall be that of the military parent for the purpose of attending the University during the time that their military parents are stationed within the State of Mississippi and shall be continued through the time that military parents are stationed in an overseas area with last duty assignment within the State of Mississippi, excepting temporary training assignments en route from Mississippi. Resident status of minor children shall terminate upon reassignment under permanent change of station orders of their military parents for duty in the continental United States outside the State of Mississippi, excepting temporary training assignments en route from Mississippi.

Certification of Residence of Military Personnel: A military person on active duty stationed in Mississippi who wishes to avail himself or herself or his or her dependents of the provisions of the paragraph titled MILITARY PERSONNEL ASSIGNED ON ACTIVE DUTY STATION IN MISSISSIPPI must submit a certificate from his or her military organization showing the name of the military member, the name of the dependent, if for a dependent, the name of the organization of assignment and its address (may be in the letterhead), that the military member will be on active duty stationed in Mississippi on the date of registration at the University; that the military member is not on transfer orders; and the signature of the commanding officer, the adjutant, or the personnel officer of the unit of assignment with signer's rank and title. A military certificate must be presented to the Registrar of the University each semester at (or within ten days prior to) registration for the provisions of the paragraph MILITARY PERSONNEL ASSIGNED ON ACTIVE DUTY STATION IN MISSISSIPPI, named above, to be effective.

Legal Residence of a Foreign Student: Students with permanent immigrant status or refugee status can establish residence in the state by meeting the provisions of the Mississippi Statute.

General Academic Information and Requirements

It is reasonable to assume that a graduate student accepts full responsibility for knowing the policies and regulations of the Graduate School and the departmental requirements relevant to his or her individual degree program.

Only the general academic regulations and requirements governing all graduate programs are given below. Specific requirements pertaining to individual degree programs are outlined within the department sections.

Registration

Students should meet with the department chair as graduate adviser regarding registration materials. Students should pre-register each semester at the designated time using the touch-tone registration system, S.T.A.R.S. Specific directions are published in the Class Schedule Guide.

Registration will continue after the close of the scheduled registration period (see Calendar) for five class days.

A late registration fee will be charged to all students registering after the scheduled registration period. The fee is fifty dollars ($50.00).

Add/Drop/Withdrawal

A student is permitted to drop a course without academic penalty up to and including approved dates published in the Class Schedule Guide. After the deadline, a student may drop a course only in the event of extenuating circumstances and with permission of the instructor, department chair, and dean of the college offering the course, at which time the student will receive a grade of WP or WF.

A student is permitted to add a course after the deadline of five class days with the permission of the instructor, department chair, and dean of the college offering the course. However, a student will not be allowed to add a course after the last day to drop without academic penalty as published in the Class Schedule Guide.

A student withdrawing from the University prior to the deadline for dropping classes will not receive any grades. His or her record will show the date of withdrawal only. A student withdrawing after the deadline for dropping courses will receive a grade of WP or a grade of WF.

Withdrawal Procedures

A student finding it necessary to withdraw from the University must begin the process with the dean of his or her college who shall initiate the Withdrawal and Refund Authorization Form. A student who is undecided on a major must begin the process in the dean's office of the College of Liberal Arts where the Withdrawal and Refund Authorization Form will be initiated. The telephone registration system (S.T.A.R.S.) may not be utilized to withdraw.

Refund Policy

The withdrawal deadline for receipt of a grade has nothing to do with the refund schedule for fees. A student who officially withdraws after enrollment may obtain a refund in accordance with the refund.

Appeals for refunds due to extenuating circumstances may be made in writing to:

Vice President for Business and Finance
The University of Southern Mississippi
Box 5005
Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5005

Course Work

Courses open to graduate students for graduate credit are those numbered 500 or above.

Many courses have certain prerequisites. A student who wishes to register for a particular course must satisfy the department concerned that he or she has had preparation adequate for admission to the course.

All graduate coursework, including 500 level courses, shall have a research component which is included in the final grade.

The general regulation that degree work must be completed within a six-year period applies to all course work.

A grade-point average of B or better is required of all candidates for graduate degrees by the time they complete the course-hour requirements for the degree.

The use of the Pass/Fail option at the Graduate level for any course except those listed above MUST BE APPROVED BY THE GRADUATE COUNCIL.

On the recommendation of the student's committee or major professor, a student may retake one graduate level course in order to improve his grade point average.

Absences

Students are expected to attend class each time the class meets. When it is necessary that a student be absent from a class, courtesy requires an explanation to the instructor in charge. Class attendance policy will be set by the professor. It will be the responsibility of each professor to notify his or her class at the outset of each semester as to the attendance requirements.

Academic Honesty

When cheating is discovered, the faculty member may give the student an F on the work involved or in the course. If further disciplinary action is deemed appropriate, the student should be reported to the Dean of Students.

In addition to being a violation of academic honesty, cheating violates the Code of Student Conduct and may be grounds for probation, suspension, and/or expulsion.

Students on disciplinary suspension may not enroll in any courses offered by The University of Southern Mississippi.

Final Examinations

Examinations will be held as published in the Class Schedule Guide. No final examinations are permitted prior to the scheduled examination period (see Calendar). A student who is absent from the final examination without valid reason approved by the Office of the Provost forfeits credit for the semester.

Course Loads

- I. Although the maximum load of a full-time graduate student for the fall and spring semesters is sixteen (16) semester hours with permission, the normal load for a full-time graduate student is generally considered to be twelve (12) semester hours.
- II. The minimum load for a full-time graduate student is nine (9) semester hours for students living in Pine Haven, using the services of the Clinic, using the services of Veteran's Affairs, or using other similar services of the University.
- III. The minimum load for a graduate assistant teaching one undergraduate class or its equivalent is 12 (twelve) hours. The maximum load for a graduate assistant is 13 (thirteen) hours.
- IV. In no case may the total hours involved in a student's program, including both the course work and the assistantship assignment, exceed sixteen (16) hours.
- V. The maximum load for any graduate student in the summer session is twelve (12) hours.
- VI. The courses numbered 697 and 797—Independent Study and Research—may be taken for any amount of credit (up to a maximum of sixteen (16) hours in any one semester) with the exception that students who are not in residence but who are actively working on a thesis, research problem, or dissertation and consulting with the major professor or making use of the library or other University facilities must enroll for at least three (3) hours each semester.
- VII. Students enrolling only for 698, 798, or 898 or courses entitled "Internship," should enroll for a minimum of three hours, or PSY 796 for a minimum of four hours.
- VIII. Students enrolling only for 691, 791, or 891 (or other courses titled "Research in...") should enroll for a minimum of three hours.

Grading System

- A — indicates excellent work and carries 4 quality points per semester hour.
- B — indicates good work and carries 3 quality points per semester hour.
- C — indicates average work and carries 2 quality points per semester hour.
- D — indicates inferior work and carries 1 quality point per semester hour.
- E — indicates a course in progress. Not included in the grade point average, a grade of E shall be awarded for graduate thesis, recital and dissertation courses and for such self-paced or skill courses as the Academic and/or Graduate Council may designate. An E shall be changed to a P only in the case of credit for thesis and dissertation and then only for the last recorded credit for these courses. Otherwise, the E remains on the record indicating that to receive credit the student must re-register for the undergraduate course, repeating it on a regular basis until completing it. Upon completion, the appropriate grade, whether P or valuatve, shall be assigned.
- F — indicates failure and carries no quality points.
- I — indicates that a student was unable to complete course requirements by the end of the term because of extraordinary circumstances beyond his or her control. Poor performance or unexplained absences are not a justification for the assignment of an I. If an I has not been removed by the end of the next semester (excluding summer term), it automatically becomes an F. Students are prohibited from enrolling in any course for which the current grade is I.
- AW—indicates administrative withdrawal.
- WP—indicates withdrawal from a course passing after the deadline for dropping courses.
- WF—indicates withdrawal from a course failing after the deadline for dropping courses. (This grade is computed in the GPA as F.)
- P — indicates a passing grade in courses taken on a pass-fail basis (does not count in computing GPA).

Probation

A student whose cumulative graduate grade point average (GPA) or whose program grade point average falls below 3.0 will be placed on probation. That student must attain a cumulative 3.0 GPA by the end of the following (probationary) semester. A student who fails to achieve a 3.0 at the end of the probationary semester will be reclassified as a non-degree student. Departments may set more stringent probationary conditions. A new application would be required for consideration to reenter the program.

Students may request an appeal of reclassification to non-degree status by writing to Dr. Anselm C. Griffin, III, Dean of the Graduate School, Box 5024 and requesting an appeals hearing.

Grade Review Policy

The instructor (defined as one who has the responsibility for a class, special problem, thesis, or dissertation) has the authority in his or her class over all matters affecting the conduct of the class, including the assignment of grades. Student performance should be evaluated according to academic criteria made available to all students within the first two weeks of each semester. Grades should not be determined in an arbitrary or capricious manner.

When a student disagrees with the final grade given by an instructor, fair play requires the opportunity for an orderly appellate procedure. A student must initiate the appeal procedure within 30 school days (excluding Saturday, Sunday, and official student holidays) of the beginning of the semester subsequent to the one in which the grade was awarded, or 120 calendar days after the issuance of spring semester grades, should the student not be enrolled during the summer term. The procedure assures due process for both the instructor and student. For policies and procedures governing grade review, contact the Dean of the Graduate School or the Office of the Provost.

Administrative Withdrawal

A university transcript is a legal document that provides a true and accurate account of academic performance. Any alternation of the history of academic performance as reported by a university transcript should be done only if there is an obvious rationale for doing so.

On rare occasions, academic performance is severely affected by some emotional or personal disaster beyond the control of the student. If a timely withdrawal was impossible or overlooked, a procedure known as administrative withdrawal may offer a remedy.

A student who wishes to petition for an administrative withdrawal should be aware of the following criteria in considering the request.

- a. The student's academic record under review indicates a clear and consistent pattern of good academic performance prior to and subsequent to the semester in question
- b. The problem encountered by the student is debilitating and beyond his or her control.
- c. The student is able to document the nature and extent of the problem

The following guidelines pertain to a petition for administrative withdrawal.

- a. A petition for administrative withdrawal will be considered only if it is filed prior to graduation.
- b. Relief by administrative withdrawal will be limited to one semester.
- c. The grade of administrative withdrawal ("AW") will be assigned to all courses taken during the semester in question.
- d. Administrative withdrawal must be approved by the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled when he or she initiates the petition. A student may request administrative withdrawal only once during his or her academic career and that request must be limited to one particular semester.

A petition for administrative withdrawal must contain the following.

- a. A concise but thorough statement of the circumstances responsible for the poor academic performance.
- b. Evidence (e.g., a medical diagnosis) supporting claims made in the statement.
- c. A complete set of official transcripts exhibiting all college-level course work.

Petitions for administrative withdrawal will be acted on within five working days after receipt by the dean of the college in which the student is currently enrolled.

Transcripts

An official transcript is the reproduction of a complete, unabridged permanent academic record validated with the University seal, facsimile signature of the Registrar, and date of issue. A Key to Transcript is included which contains a full statement of pertinent definitions. Currently enrolled as well as former undergraduate and graduate students may obtain an official transcript by writing the Office of the University Registrar, Box 5006, Hattiesburg, Mississippi 39406-5006. Transcripts are not released when there is an indebtedness to the University.

The University of Southern Mississippi and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services have established standards and guidelines to protect individuals from risks associated with participation as subjects in research studies. The University's Institutional Review Board (IRB) is responsible for ensuring that adequate safeguards are in place to minimize the risk to individuals involved in such studies.

All investigations, experiments, surveys, or demonstrations involving human subjects, regardless of funding or the source of the funds, must be reviewed and approved by the Institutional Review Board before the activity is begun. This includes activities in which a faculty member is supervising research activities, including class projects, master's theses, specialist's projects, and doctoral dissertations.

Application forms for submission of protocols for review by the Institutional Review Board are available from each college's representative and the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs, McClesky Hall, room H. Prior to submitting the required copies of an application for approval by the IRB, students should do the following: (1) have the application approved by their thesis, project, or dissertation director or professor teaching a course, (2) secure the appropriate signatures, and (3) have the application reviewed by their college representative to the Institutional Review Board.

The signed and approved IRB application forms and approval letter should be included in an appendix of the thesis, project, and/or dissertation. The names of the college representatives to the IRB may be obtained from the college dean's office, the Graduate School, or the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs, McClesky Hall, room H.

Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee

The Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) is a standing committee of the University. The IACUC is qualified through the experience and expertise of its members to oversee the University's animal program, facilities, and procedures. The IACUC consists of eight members (six regular and two ex officio) and its membership meets the compositional requirements set forth in the Public Health Service policy. The IACUC, through an appointed chairperson, reports directly to the Vice President for Research. The IACUC acts as a monitor to insure the University's facilities are operated in compliance with the Public Health Service Policy and other federal policies.

Federal law requires that any university activity (whether research or instructional in nature) involving the use of vertebrate animals be reviewed by the IACUC and approved by that body before the activity may proceed. The original completed form, signed by the project director (a faculty member not a student), the appropriate departmental chair and dean, and nine (9) copies should be forwarded to the Chair of the IACUC for processing. Review of applications requires approximately 2-6 weeks. The approved IACUC protocol application form must be included in an appendix of the thesis, project, and/or dissertation. IACUC review applications may be obtained from the IACUC Chairperson (presently B. L. Middlebrooks), Department of Biological Sciences, Box 5018, (601) 266-4748.

General Degree Requirements

Master's Degree Requirements

A convenient checklist of master's degree requirements may be procured in the Graduate Office.

A general thesis timetable follows:

Thesis Timetable

For the exact deadlines you must meet for graduation, consult the Thesis Calendar, obtainable from the Graduate School. The following timetable shows approximate time, in weeks, by which you need to have completed the indicated action.

Time Before Graduation	Action to Be Completed
21 weeks	File application for degree.
12 weeks	Contact graduate reader to make arrangements for final draft production.
8 weeks	Submit draft of the manuscript to your major professor for corrections. The major professor may require an earlier submission
7 weeks	Have title page approved by the graduate reader. Submit a revised version (approved by your major professor) to each member of your committee.
6 weeks	Defend thesis. Ensure that copies of results of oral defense of dissertation are filed in the Graduate School.
5 weeks	Submit a copy of the manuscript to the graduate reader for checking and final approval. Please do not expect immediate turnaround. The graduate reader may need up to three weeks to complete the check.
2 weeks	Thesis: File final three copies at the Graduate School

If a student misses the final deposit deadline, his/her degree will be awarded the next semester.

I. Credit Hours

A minimum of thirty (30) semester hours credit is required for any master's degree. Many departments require more than the minimum. Consult specific college and departmental requirements for additional information.

II. Time Limitation

The student must complete the master's degree within six calendar years from the date of initial enrollment in a graduate program. Six years is the maximum age allowed for graduate credits toward a master's degree. If more than six years are needed to complete requirements, the Graduate Dean, under extenuating circumstances, and special petition, may revalidate over-age credit hours if the original credit was earned at The University of Southern Mississippi and if the dean of the college concerned approves the revalidation. The revalidation is secured by the student's successfully passing a special examination on the course. However, any student who fails to complete the master's degree program within the six-year time period becomes subject to any changes in degree requirements made at any date six years prior to graduation. The fee charged for the special revalidation examination is $30.00 per course. The fee is to be paid before the validation examination is taken. Over-age extension courses cannot be revalidated.

III. Credit Hours Limitations

- A. A minimum of fifty per cent of the credit earned at The University of Southern Mississippi must be taken on the USM campus from which the degree is awarded.
- B. A minimum of eighteen (18) semester hours must be in courses numbered 600 or above.
- C. A total of no more than nine (9) semester hours of work earned as a non-degree student may be applied toward a master's degree. Please note E below.
- D. As many as six (6) semester hours of graduate credit from other accredited institutions may be transferred to the student's program with the approval of the appropriate department chair and the Graduate Dean provided that the course work transferred falls within the six-year period allowed for the degree.
- E. A total sum of no more than nine (9) semester hours of transfer work and non-degree work may be applied toward a master's degree.

IV. The Master's Committee

The student's work toward the master's degree is either supervised by a departmental committee composed of a chair and at least two members recommended by the department chair and appointed by the Graduate Dean or by an experienced adviser who guides the student through the program.

V. The Minor Field

If a minor field is required in the master's program, it shall consist of a minimum of nine (9) semester hours of graduate course work.

VI. The Master's Thesis

- A. The degree of Master of Arts entails the writing of a thesis (698. Thesis, 6 hrs.). For the degrees of Master of Science and Master of Education, some programs offer a non-thesis option. Students intending to pursue a degree higher than the master's are encouraged to write a thesis.
- B. As appropriate, the Human Subjects Protection Review Committee and/or the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee must approve the thesis method before the thesis is begun. The signed approval forms and approval letter must be included in an appendix.
- C. A separate bulletin outlining University requirements concerning the preparation of theses is available in the Graduate Office or on the Web at <http://www-dept.usm.edu/~gradsch/gradread.html>.
- D. The student must register for at least three (3) hours of 698 during the semester/term in which he or she expects to defend the thesis. Students who have previously registered for the maximum total of six (6) hours of 698, and/or who are not in residence, but who are actively working on a thesis, consulting with the major professor, and/or using other resources of the University, must register for at least three (3) hours of 697-Independent Study and Research.

VII. Graduate Reader

The Graduate Reader insures that theses meet the University requirements. Students should make appointments with the Graduate Reader and allow ample time for revisions.

VIII. Examinations

- A. The General Test of the Graduate Record Examinations or the Graduate Management Admission Test is required for admission into the Graduate School. Individual departments may require the advanced area tests. Some departments accept the Miller Analogies Test or other approved graduate admission tests.
- B. Some master's degree programs, particularly programs leading to the Master of Arts, include a foreign language requirement. Students should refer to the section of this Bulletin describing individual departments and schools to determine whether specific requirements have been established for a program of interest. A student may demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language by any of several options; the particular option followed by the student must have the approval of the student's advisory committee and the Dean of the Graduate School. The options are as follows:

1. Completion of six (6) graduate semester hours with grades of C or better in one of the following language sequences: FRE 501-502, SPA 501-502, or GER 501-502. These courses are specifically designed to meet The University of Southern Mississippi Graduate School foreign language requirements.
2. Completion of nine (9) semester hours (undergraduate or graduate) with grades of C or better in an approved foreign language. The courses listed above in option 1 may not be included as part of these 9 hours. The student may transfer these hours from an accredited institution upon admission to the Graduate School, provided that the most advanced of the courses was taken within the last six (6) calendar years. After admission, courses taken to satisfy the foreign language requirement by this option must be taken at The University of Southern Mississippi or may be taken at another institution if written approval of the specific courses and institution is obtained from the student's advisory committee, the chair of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, and the Dean of the Graduate School.
3. Students may successfully complete the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) test in French, Spanish, or German. The CLEP can be taken at many sites. Students must obtain a minimum score of 52 on the total test in one of the languages or obtain a minimum on the Reading Section of the test as follows: French 44; German 40; Spanish 48.
4. Students whose first language is not English may use English to fulfill the proficiency requirement for one language by scoring in the 65th percentile (scaled score = 560 or higher) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language. If English is used to fulfill the Language proficiency requirement, then the native language cannot also be used to fulfill a second language requirement.
5. Students fulfill the proficiency requirement for one language if they have completed an undergraduate major or a master's degree in a foreign language at any time.

Demonstration of proficiency by any means other than these options must be done by a method recommended and approved by the student's advisory committee, the Chair of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, and the Dean of the Graduate School.

- C. Comprehensive Exam: In addition to regular examinations, final comprehensive examinations are required for master's degrees. The major department will determine whether the comprehensive examination will be written or oral or both. The written comprehensive, if required, will be prepared by the student's committee and will cover the area of the major field. If an oral examination is required, the chair of the student's committee will send written notices of the time and place of the examination. Comprehensive examinations, whether written or oral, will be administered no later than the last academic week of the semester/term in which the student expects to receive the degree and the results reported by the department chair to the Graduate Office no later than the last day for presenting signed theses to the Graduate Office. The examination may be administered earlier in the semester/term if the department so desires. A student who fails the comprehensive examination may not retake the examination until its next regular administration and may repeat the examination only once.

IX. Application for Degree and Audit.

Students should file a signed, completed Application for Degree by the specified deadline the semester before they wish to graduate. The graduate degree Auditor will check the application.

Specialist's Degree Requirements

The specialist's degree earned in the Departments of Educational Leadership and Research, Curriculum and Instruction, Special Education, and Library and Information Science provides sixth-year programs designed to prepare students for positions in school administration, advanced technical education for business, teacher training, and counseling, and to develop research and evaluation specialists for the public schools. Individual programs and requirements are fully described in the departmental sections of this Bulletin. The same time limitations for masters and doctoral course work pertain.

Students who are seeking the specialist's degree must meet all degree requirements relating to the master's degree, must earn at least thirty-three (33) semester hours beyond the master's degree, must write an acceptable thesis (798) and defend it via an oral examination, or complete a field-based problem, and must complete one full-time semester/term of residence taking all nine (9) semester hours on Campus.

A maximum of nine (9) semester hours (which includes no more than 6 hours transfer credit) earned as a non-degree student may be applied to the specialist's degree. Students should file a signed, completed Application for Degree by the specified deadline the semester before they wish to graduate.

Doctoral Degree Requirements

A general dissertation timetable follows:

Dissertation Timetable

For the exact deadlines you must meet for graduation, consult the Dissertation Calendar, obtainable from the Graduate School. The following timetable shows approximate time, in weeks, by which you need to have completed the indicated action.

Time Before Graduation	Action to Be Completed
21 weeks	File application for admission to candidacy. File application for degree.
12 weeks	Contact graduate reader to make arrangements for final draft production.
8 weeks	Submit draft of the manuscript to your major professor for corrections. The major professor may require an earlier submission.
7 weeks	Have title page approved by the graduate reader. Submit a revised version (approved by your major professor) to each member of your committee.
6 weeks	Defend dissertation. Ensure that copies of results of oral defense of dissertation are filed in the Graduate School.
5 weeks	Submit a copy of the manuscript to the graduate reader for checking and final approval. Please do not expect immediate turnaround. The graduate reader may need up to three weeks to complete the check.
2 weeks	Dissertation: File final three copies at the Graduate School.

If a student fails to meet the final deposit deadline, his/her degree will be awarded the next semester.

I. Credit Hours

All doctoral degrees entail a minimum of eighty-four (84) semester hours of course work beyond the bachelor's degree or fifty-four (54) semester hours of course work beyond the master's degree. The research tool hours are not included in these hours.

II. Time Limitations

With special petition, courses taken above the master's degree or its equivalent which will fit into the degree program but which are six or more years old at the time of admission to the doctoral program may be counted toward meeting degree requirements when recommended by the department chair and approved by the Graduate Dean. The comprehensive examination must be completed within a period of six years after the student has been admitted to a doctoral program at The University of Southern Mississippi.

III. Credit Hour Limitations

A. Transfer of credit for graduate work done at other institutions must be approved by the department chair and Graduate Dean. Final evaluation of and acceptance of transfer credit will not be made until the student has been in residence for one semester/term. This graduate class work must carry with it a letter or numeric grade and cannot be a Pass/Fail course. Transfer of credit for doctoral degree programs is limited to not more than six (6) semester hours or nine (9) quarter hours beyond the master's degree. Exceptions to this restriction may be made only with the approval of the department chair and the Graduate Dean.

B. Credit earned as a non-degree graduate student cannot be applied toward a doctoral degree.

IV. Residency

Residency "refers to a period during which the candidate is on the campus engaged in intensive study, sustained association with faculty members and other colleagues who share common scholarly and professional interests, attendance at seminars and colloquia, intensive reading and familiarization with library resources, consultation with specialists in other disciplines and resource centers, and the opportunity for broadened exposure to current intellectual issues as they are revealed in various campus offerings. In short, the requirement is not an inflicted ritual, but an opportunity."¹

The minimum residency requirements for the doctoral degree can be fulfilled by the completion of 24 semester hours of continuous graduate study on Campus within two consecutive semesters, one of which can be the full summer session. During this period the student is obligated to devote full time to graduate work and to earn at least 12 semester hours of credit in each of the two semesters. A student should not attempt to fulfill the residency requirements if he or she is gainfully employed full time. Residency may begin only after the student is admitted to a doctoral program as a regular student.

Alternative plans for meeting residency requirements have been developed by some departments with specialized needs. These plans are in keeping with the purpose of residency as stated above.

'R. Kruh, Council of Graduate Schools in the United States, September, 1977.

V. The Doctoral Committee

The student's work toward the doctoral degree is supervised by a departmental committee composed of a chair and at least four members recommended by the department chair and appointed by the Graduate Dean. Qualified individuals from outside the University may serve if they have specialized knowledge needed by the student and are approved by the Graduate Council.

VI. The Minor Field

If a minor field is required in the doctoral program, it shall consist of twelve (12) semester hours of graduate course work and may consist of courses from a number of related areas. Some disciplines define their own minor and may require more than twelve (12) semester hours to complete the minor.

VII. Examinations

A. The General Test of the Graduate Record Examination is required for admission into the Graduate School. Individual departments may require the advanced area tests.

B. Qualifying Exam. All students must have a written and/or oral doctoral qualifying examination in their field. This requirement should be completed during the first semester/term of the student's enrollment and is designed both to judge the student's fitness to pursue doctoral work and to guide the committee in planning the student's program. The qualifying examination may be retaken only once.

C. Research Tools. The foreign language and statistics requirements for the doctoral degree may be fulfilled in several ways:

1. The Doctor of Education and the Doctor of Music Education degrees do not require foreign language proficiency. However, the student must establish proficiency in statistics or computer science either by examination or by completing a prescribed minor course sequence, the credit hours for which do not apply toward the degree. These hours can be at the graduate or undergraduate level.
2. The Doctor of Musical Arts degree requires proficiency in at least one foreign language. Students in this program should refer to the section of this Bulletin describing that program and should consult the appropriate department chair for more information.
3. The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires either (a) proficiency in two languages, (b) proficiency in one language and in statistics or computer science, or (c) proficiency in one language and the completion of a nine-hour block of courses (graduate or undergraduate classes), the hours for which do not apply toward the degree. This nine-hour block of classes designated to fulfill the procedure for satisfying proficiency in a specific computer language has been approved by the Graduate Council. It is administered by the Department of Computer Science and Statistics. Students should refer to the section of this Bulletin describing individual departments and schools to determine whether specific requirements have been established for a program of interest. A request to use a language (including one's native language) other than French, German, Spanish, or Russian shall include evidence of research reported in the language (e.g., a bibliography), and must be recommended by the student's advisory committee and approved by the Dean of the Graduate School.
4. Students should plan early to meet language requirements in their graduate program of study. A student may demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language by any of several options; the particular option followed by the student must have the approval of the student's committee and the Dean of the Graduate School. The options are as follows:
 - a. Completion of six (6) graduate semester hours with grades of C or better in one of the following language sequences: FRE 501-502, SPA 501-502, or GER 501-502. These courses are specifically designed to meet The University of Southern Mississippi Graduate School foreign language requirements.
 - b. Completion of nine (9) semester hours (undergraduate or graduate) with grades of C or better in an approved foreign language. The courses listed above in option 1 may not be included as part of these nine (9) hours. The student may transfer these hours from an accredited institution upon admission to the Graduate School, provided that the most advanced of the courses was taken within the last six (6) calendar years. After admission, courses taken to satisfy the foreign language requirement by this option must be taken at The University of Southern Mississippi or may be taken at another institution if written approval of the specific courses and institution is obtained from the student's advisory committee, the chair of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, and the Dean of the Graduate School.

- c. Students may successfully complete the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) test in French, Spanish, or German. The CLEP can be taken at many sites. Students must obtain a minimum score of 52 on the total test in one of the languages or obtain a minimum on the Reading Section of the test as follows: French 44; German 40; Spanish 48.
 - d. Students whose first language is not English may use English to fulfill the proficiency requirement for one language by scoring in the 65th percentile (scaled score = 560 or higher) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language. If English is used to fulfill the Language proficiency requirement, then the native language cannot also be used to fulfill a second language requirement.
 - e. Students fulfill the proficiency requirement for one language if they have completed an undergraduate major or a master's degree in a foreign language at any time.
5. Demonstration of proficiency by any means other than these options must be done by a method recommended and approved by the student's doctoral committee, the Chair of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, and the Dean of the Graduate School.
- D. Comprehensive Exams. At the completion of specified required course work and other examinations, the doctoral student is required to take a written and/or oral comprehensive examination in his or her major and minor field. A student who does unsatisfactory work on the comprehensive examination may be granted a second examination at the next regularly scheduled time, or later. The student's doctoral committee will recommend the conditions to be met before the examination may be repeated. The comprehensive examinations may be retaken only once. The comprehensive examination should be successfully completed either before the first formal prospectus meeting or before substantial research is completed for the dissertation.
- E. Oral Defense of Dissertation. After the dissertation has been accepted and after all required course work has been completed, but at least four weeks before the candidate is scheduled to receive the degree, a final oral examination on the dissertation and related fields (dissertation defense) will be conducted by the student's doctoral committee and any other faculty members designated by the Graduate Dean. The examination will be open to any member of the graduate faculty.

VIII. The Dissertation

- A. The dissertation topic must be approved by the student's major professor and advisory committee and must be an original and significant contribution to knowledge in the chosen field. As appropriate, the Human Subjects Protection Review Committee and/or the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee must approve the method before the study is begun. The signed approval forms must be included in an appendix of the dissertation.
- B. A separate bulletin outlining University requirements concerning the preparation of dissertations is available in the Graduate Office and on the Web at <http://www-dept.usm.edu/~gradsch/gradread.html>.
- C. The student must complete a total of twelve (12) hours of 898 - Dissertation.
- D. The student must register for at least three (3) hours of 898 during the semester/term in which he or she expects to defend the dissertation. Students who have previously registered for the maximum total of twelve (12) hours of 898, and/or who are not in residence, but who are actively working on a dissertation, consulting with the major professor, and/or using other resources of the University must register for at least three (3) hours of 797-Independent Study and Research. While a student may register for coursework during the semester/term, he or she defends the dissertation, all REQUIRED courses must be completed before the term the student defends.
- E. The Graduate Reader insures that dissertations meet the university requirements. Students should make appointments with the Graduate Reader and allow ample time for revisions.

IX. The Dissertation Defense

After the doctoral committee members have been adequately consulted about results of the student's research as well as the form and condition of the manuscript, the committee chair will schedule the defense with the Graduate School Office and other appropriate offices at least ten days in advance of the defense. The meeting will be open to any member of the faculty and, at the discretion of the chair, may be opened to the public.

The chair, with advice from the committee, has complete authority for the conduct of the defense. The chair may recognize those wishing to ask questions about the candidate's research. Questions and resulting discussion should be appropriate for this important event. The chair may end the open part of the defense by restricting the meeting to the committee after an appropriate time. Discussion of the results of the defense must be limited to the committee members. A majority vote will determine the result of the defense and shall be reported to the Graduate School Office at the close of the meeting

X. Documents

The doctoral student must have the documents listed below on file with the Graduate School. Students are advised to check their files in the Graduate School for completeness of documentation.

- A. Qualifying Exam Results Letter. This exam must be administered the first semester the student enrolls (regardless of the number of hours taken) and a letter must be sent to the Graduate School verifying that the student passed.
- B. Doctoral Committee Appointment Letter. The department chair or director of graduate studies should send a letter to the Graduate School indicating who will serve on the student's committee. The Graduate School sends a letter of appointment to the committee members and adviser.
- C. Comprehensive Exam Results Letter. The doctoral committee chair should send a letter to the Graduate School indicating the results of the comprehensive exam.
- D. Application for Candidacy. After completing all the requirements for the doctoral degree other than the dissertation and at least one semester prior to graduation, the student must file two copies of the Application for Candidacy form with the Graduate School and one copy with the adviser, before or at the time the Application for Degree is filed. Verification of completion of the research tools, e.g., foreign language, statistics, computer science, should accompany the Application for Candidacy.
- E. Application for Degree. The student should present two copies of the Application for Degree form, stamped by the Business Office to verify payment of fees to the Graduate School during the semester preceding that of graduation.
- F. A Dissertation Prospectus Approval Letter should be sent to the Graduate School when the student's prospectus is approved. Students are reminded to secure approval of the Human Subjects Review Committee or the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee if necessary.
- G. Dissertation Defense Results Letter. The doctoral committee chair should send a letter indicating the results of the oral defense of the dissertation.

University Facilities and Student Services

Automobiles on Campus

Students, employees, and frequent visitors of the University are required to purchase parking permits to register their automobiles with the University Police Department. Temporary permits are issued when a vehicle is to be on the campus less than fourteen days. Parking zones have been established along with other regulations. A brochure which details traffic and parking regulations may be secured from the University Police Department. Penalties are assessed for violations of regulations.

Career Planning and Placement

The Office of Career Planning and Placement, located on the first floor of McLemore Hall, offers the student three types of employment assistance while attending the University: part-time employment, cooperative education employment, and career employment upon graduation.

The Student Employment Division offers the student an opportunity to obtain part-time employment while enrolled as a regular student at USM. The service is comprehensive in that it will involve jobs for work-study as well as non-work-study both on and off campus.

The Cooperative Education Program affords the student the opportunity to gain a complete education with periods of work related to the student's major. The Cooperative Education Office assists in securing meaningful jobs that will give the student practical work experience and financial support to aid in his or her education. The basic qualifications for the graduate Co-op Programs are as follows:

1. Admission to Graduate School
2. The maintenance of at least a 3.00 GPA
3. The student must attend USM at least one semester prior to placement.

Students are eligible to enter the program at any time during their career at USM after the first semester. Salaries of co-op students vary depending on the type of degree they are pursuing and the amount of co-op experience they have. The Office of Cooperative Education will determine the eligibility of the student to participate in the program. Once an active participant, each student's record of performance will be periodically reviewed, and student may be placed on probation or removed from the program when they do not meet minimum requirements.

The Placement Center in McLemore Hall, room 112, is USM's professionally staffed resource center specializing in career and job search advising. A variety of services to assist students in pursuing a career include individual counseling appointments; on-campus interviews; the Career Resource Center, credential services; electronic registration; job search consultations; employment listings on the Career Planning and Placement web site (www.cpp.usm.edu); resume referrals to job openings; and weekly orientation sessions. Students are encouraged to register with this office at least three semesters prior to their anticipated graduation date. Services are available for all USM students and alumni. Comprehensive information describing services is located on the Career Planning and Placement web site.

The USM Student Health Service is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations (JCAHO) and is a member of the American College Health Association. For more information please call (601) 266-5390.

Office of Support Services for Students with Disabilities (OSS)

In accordance with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act (1990), The University of Southern Mississippi provides reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities through the Office of Support Services for Students with Disabilities (OSS). OSS verifies eligibility for accommodations and works with eligible students to develop and coordinate plans for the provision of accommodations. Eligible students include those who are enrolled in degree and non-degree programs offered by The University of Southern Mississippi, are considered qualified to meet all university program requirements despite a disability, and meet the definition of disability as defined by the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the ADA.

Accommodations/services available include test-taking accommodations, interpreters, note-takers, and readers. In order to receive appropriate and timely accommodations, eligible students should contact the OSS before the semester begins to file an application and submit documentation of disability for review. The OSS is committed to creating a positive campus environment where students with disabilities are encouraged to pursue careers on the basis of personal interest and ability.

For an application and guidelines for documentation of disability, write the Office of Support Services for Students with Disabilities, Box 8586, The University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-8586 or call (601) 266-5024 or TTY (601) 266-6837 or FAX (601) 266-6035.

R.C. Cook University Union

The center of student activities at The University of Southern Mississippi is the R.C. Cook University Union, which houses the student organization offices, Seymour's, recreational area, and meeting rooms. Students use the facilities of the University Union for recreation, social, religious, and organizational activities. The Union holds membership in the Association of College Unions—International.

Recreational Sports

For students, faculty and staff who wish to participate in leisure, fitness, or competitive programs, the Division of Recreational Sports offers "Something for Everyone." Housed in the Payne Center, the division and its staff work to provide an opportunity for the campus to take advantage of a variety of recreational and fitness related services which include massage therapy, personal fitness instruction, Intramural Sports, Aquatics, Fitness, Sport Clubs, and Informal Recreation activities. The Payne Center is one of the few multi-purpose facilities in the nation integrating the concepts of fitness and recreational sports. It offers accessibility to the disabled, and contains many indoor recreational facilities. These include four basketball/volleyball courts, six badminton courts, four championship racquetball courts, an international size squash court, a six-lane indoor pool (M.C. Johnson Natatorium), a $\frac{1}{8}$ mile indoor exercise track, outdoor volleyball courts, Atrium Cafe, sauna, free weight and circuit training room, and cardiovascular workout room. The Payne Center also has conference, meeting, seminar, and banquet facilities where students, faculty, staff, and alumni can attend wellness related workshops and events. These facilities are also available for reservations for events sponsored by university organizations. Recreational Sports also offers outdoor facilities such as the sundeck at the Payne Center, the Intramural and Sports Arena Fields, the Tennis Complex, and Lake Sehoj. Outdoor activities and programs available include over 40 Intramural Sports events from Flag Football to Putt-Putt Golf, and 9 Sport Clubs involving ultimate frisbee, soccer, rugby, volleyball, karate, SCUBA diving, racquetball and squash, table tennis, and sports officiating. Lake Sehoj offers picnic areas, boating, fishing, putt-putt golf, and a pavilion and log cabin for retreats and other special events. All indoor and outdoor facilities, activities, and programs are supervised by First Aid/CPR trained personnel to promote a safe recreational environment for participants. In addition, the staff of Sports Medicine Institute, Wesley Medical Center, will be providing injury assessment and athletic training services during intramurals and club sport events as well as during peak participation periods in the Payne Center. The Fitness Assessment Center and Fitness Counseling staff also provide services which include comprehensive health evaluation, fitness assessment, and exercise prescription for the University community at a nominal fee. A pro shop is also available. University Counseling Center

The purpose of the University Counseling Center is to assist each individual in deriving maximum benefit from his or her University experience and developing his or her full range of potentialities. The following professional counseling services are provided: personal, social, and marital.

Students interested in dealing with some aspects of personal or social development should feel free to contact the Center for an appointment. Everything that is said during a counseling interview is regarded as confidential. No information is released to any individual except with the approval of the student.

Besides assisting students on an individual basis, the Center provides group study skills training to enable students to handle their academic pursuits better. How to organize study time, how to take notes, and how to take examinations are a few of the topics covered.

The Center provides growth experiences for students. Primary goals of these experiences are developing the student's ability to communicate and enhancing his or her skills in interpersonal relationships. The goal, therefore, is to provide students a chance to obtain insight into their own behavior and the behavior of others in the context of a group experience.

The Center staff is available to work with campus groups in providing leadership or communication training. The primary goals of these groups are to improve leadership abilities and to enhance the communication function in organized group activity.

The Center also serves as the University testing center. Tests given include college entrance exams and professional tests (i.e., ACT, GRE, GMAT, GSFLT, DAT, MCAT, and LSAT). For the convenience of the students, application forms for these tests are available in this office.

The Center is located in Room 200, Student Services Building. It is open from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday. Any person who is enrolled or expects to enroll as a student may use the services without charge. Spouses of students often use the Center. In order to make an appointment, a student may come by the Center or call (601) 266-4829 or write to:

The Arts

College of The Arts

Peter Alexander, Dean
Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5031
(601) 266-4984

The College of The Arts currently offers graduate degree programs at two levels; master's degree and doctoral degree. Descriptions of these programs can be located in the respective departmental sections.

Deficiencies

The College of The Arts retains the right to determine deficiencies in the preparation of any graduate student, regardless of the number of course credits accumulated. The College will recommend appropriate means of removing such deficiencies.

Examinations and Performance Evaluations

Some degree programs require entrance examinations and/or performance evaluations. Regular admission to any graduate program requires submission of test scores from the Graduate Record Examinations. The departmental sections following in this Bulletin list general requirements for each degree program. Prospective students should confer with the department chair for full details. Approval of the graduate faculty in the appropriate department must be granted before a student will be accepted into a graduate degree program in any area of The Arts.

Final comprehensive examinations at or near the completion of the course work are required for all graduate degrees. The type, scope, and dates of the examinations vary, since they are matters of individual departmental policy. Each student pursuing a graduate degree should confer with his or her major professor and department chair for full particulars.

Degree Programs

Prescribed curricula for degree programs are listed below. Some provide great latitude and flexibility in arranging individual degree programs. Course selections must be approved by the student's major professor and graduate advisory committee. The approved course of studies for master's degree students must be filed with the student's department chair prior to the student's second registration. The student's major professor will assist in every way possible, but final responsibility for following all general and departmental regulations lies with the student. Prospective doctoral students must consult with the Coordinator of Graduate Studies prior to initial registration for detailed information about general and departmental regulations.

Associate Graduate Faculty*

Each student has the final responsibility to ascertain that he or she has complied with all applicable catalogue requirements for graduation. Faculty Advisers assist students in developing their programs, but they cannot waive or vary degree requirements as they appear in the University Bulletin.

Master's Degrees

There are two master's degrees available in the School of Music, one with a major in music leading to the Master of Music degree, the other with a major in music education leading to the Master of Music Education degree. Emphasis areas in the Master of Music degree are: Performance, Church Music, Conducting, Music History and Literature, Theory and Composition, and Woodwind Performance and Pedagogy.

Regular admission procedures governing graduate entrance into the University of Southern Mississippi will be required. Details can be found in another section of this Bulletin.

Admission Requirements: Master's Degrees

In addition to acceptable grades and test scores, successful applicants to the master's program usually have an appropriate baccalaureate degree with a major in music, an acceptable candidacy audition, strong letters of recommendation and/or successful personal interviews. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the school. Members of all underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Acceptance to the School of Music requires students to meet expectations beyond these; see "Degree Candidacy."

Students who are unable to meet regular admission standards may be considered for conditional admission.

Degree Candidacy: Master's Degrees

Degree Candidacy: Admission to graduate study does not imply admission to candidacy for a master's degree. A maximum of nine (9) hours of graduate work earned before one has gained admission to the School of Music can be applied toward a degree. To gain degree candidacy (i.e., admission), one must:

- a) take Diagnostic Entrance Examinations the Friday before school begins;
- b) pass a Candidacy Audition (Master of Music degrees only) during the first term of full-time residence or before completing nine (9) hours of course work; see pages 49 through 52, this Bulletin;
- c) pass all Special Examinations (see specific areas in which the degree may be earned);
- d) consult with the academic adviser, have an advisory committee appointed, and begin planning the total degree program early in the first term of attendance. This process must be completed before nine (9) hours have been earned;
- e) complete at least nine (9) hours of graduate course work relevant to one's degree plan with a cumulative grade-point average of 3.0;
- f) complete a Degree Contract, approved by the advisory committee and the academic adviser, before earning nine (9) semester hours. If the Degree Contract is not on file with the Coordinator before that point, credit hours earned above nine (9) semester hours will not be counted toward the degree.

Students who have not done the above will be asked to withdraw from the graduate music program.

Diagnostic Examinations and Auditions: Master's Degrees

Before the first term of residence, all graduate students must take diagnostic examinations in music theory and in music history and literature. Those who show proficiency in these areas must enroll in a graduate theory or history course other than MUS 620: Music Theory Survey and MUS 630: Music History Survey; for all others, MUS 620 and MUS 630 are required and must be passed during one's first semester of matriculation. A student with deficiencies may be required to take additional course work beyond the minimum required in the degree program.

Diagnostic examinations are administered on campus each Friday preceding the first day of classes in Fall, Spring, and Summer in Fine Arts building, room 212.

9:00 a.m. - Theory
10:30 a.m. - Music History and Literature
1:00-5:00 p.m. - Advisement/Registration/Fee Payment

Diagnostic examinations are also administered through the mail. To make the testing process feasible, please find a proctor, preferably a teacher in a nearby college or university, to whom we can send copies of your examination. Send the name and address to the academic adviser.

Entrance auditions are also required for some degrees. These are:

Master of Music	in Performance in Church Music in Conducting in Woodwind Performance and Pedagogy
-----------------	--

The Master of Music in Theory and Composition and the Doctor of Musical Arts in Composition require submission of representative scores of the prospective student's compositions.

All graduate students should consult the academic adviser for current, specific policies governing the advisement of students, the presentation of recitals, and the administration of comprehensive examinations.

Ensemble Participation: Master's Degrees

All full-time graduate students majoring in music and music education are required to participate in an ensemble during each term of residence. A maximum of two (2) hours of graduate credit earned in ensemble work may be counted toward a degree. The ensemble in which one participates will be determined by the student's advisory committee. Appropriate ensembles are: Orchestra, Band, Chamber Music, University Chorale, Jazz Lab Band, Collegium Musicum, Oratorio Chorus, University Singers, Southern Chorale, and Opera Theatre.

Special Examinations and Auditions: Master's Degrees

All Special Examinations and Auditions must be passed before one can gain Degree Candidacy.

Jury Requirements/Final Examinations: Master's Degrees

Students who are enrolled in MUP Private Lessons in their principal applied area and who are seeking the Master of Music degree (with emphasis in Performance, Piano Accompanying, Church Music, or Woodwind Performance and Pedagogy) must perform a jury for the appropriate applied faculty. All others enrolled in MUP Private Lessons must perform a final examination for the applied teacher. At the finish of each semester and summer term, the applied teacher must complete a "Final Jury/Examination Form" for each student and file it with the academic adviser. Students enrolled in applied music who do not take a final examination or a jury will receive the grade "I" or "F."

The applied teacher must record and submit any exception to this policy to the academic adviser; signatures of all appropriate area faculty must be included on this form.

Comprehensive Examinations: Master's Degrees

Comprehensive examinations are required for all master's degrees.

The test will be prepared by the student's graduate advisory committee; it will cover the area of the major field. As a general rule, the Comprehensive Examination will be written.

The School of Music Master's Comprehensive Examinations are offered each semester at the same time:

Fall:	the first full week in November
Spring:	the first full week in April
Summer:	the first Saturday following the 4th of July

Exact dates and times are determined by the academic adviser and are publicized as soon as possible.

Students must register for the exam two months (minimum) prior to taking the exam by calling 601-266-5363.

The academic adviser must receive results of the Comprehensive Examination in time to notify the University Registrar and the Graduate School no later than the last day for presenting signed theses to the Graduate School.

A student who fails the Comprehensive Examination may repeat the exam once; the test must be repeated within one year of the first Comprehensive Examination.

Special Problems Courses

Special problems courses must be approved by the Music Graduate Committee. Petitions requesting permission to enroll are available in the Office of the academic adviser (Fine Arts Building 210). Petitions must be submitted to the academic adviser by noon of the second day of classes.

Advisory committee

During the first term of full-time residence or before nine (9) hours of graduate credit have been earned, the student and the student's major professor select those faculty who will serve as the student's advisory committee.

The major professor, the academic adviser, and the student shall develop a Degree Contract. The advisory committee members will respond to the contract in full committee session (i.e., a full committee meeting scheduled by the academic adviser). In those cases where a student is required to take additional course work beyond the minimum required by the degree, the advisory committee will counsel the student and, along with the academic adviser, plan the program of studies.

This committee will submit questions for the Comprehensive Examinations; it will also administer the test and grade it.

The advisory committee will approve the recital repertoire, will attend the recital,* and will grade the performance as Satisfactory (S) or Unsatisfactory (U); this grade, indicating the majority opinion of the advisory committee, must be recorded on the recital program and submitted to the academic adviser. Should a recital be judged Unsatisfactory by a majority of the committee, another recital, at a date determined by the advisory committee, must take place. Should a recital be canceled or postponed until a succeeding semester, the recital will be graded "E" (course in progress). Not until all required recitals have been performed and judged Satisfactory will grades received on Comprehensive Examinations be submitted to the University Registrar or to the Graduate School.

In degree plans that provide flexibility and in those cases where a student is required to take additional course work beyond the minimum required by the degree, the advisory committee will counsel the student and, along with the academic adviser, plan the program of studies.

Master of Music Degree Performance (32 hours)

Candidacy Audition:

All students must audition for an appropriate faculty jury. Unless stipulated otherwise (i.e., Brass Performance, Percussion Performance, Piano Performance, Voice Performance), an audition tape will suffice. This audition must be deemed Satisfactory before one can be declared a candidate for the master's degree (i.e., before one completes nine (9) hours of graduate work; see Degree Candidacy). Early auditions are encouraged. At least 18 hours of course work must be at the 600 level or higher. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

In all instances other than those in bold-face below, the audition must be at least thirty minutes in length and must include three works of contrasting style, preferably representing three different periods in music. (Repertory lists with representative works are available upon request. Write: (Name of Instrument) Professor, School of Music, The University of Southern Mississippi, Box 5081, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5081.)

Brass Performance: For those majoring in brass performance a tape will not suffice; the candidacy audition must be a full recital for the USM brass faculty.

Percussion Performance: For those majoring in percussion performance, the candidacy audition may be on cassette; the applicant should demonstrate proficiency on timpani and mallet keyboards and should include a multiple-percussion performance.

Piano Performance: For those majoring in piano performance, the audition must be memorized, be at least thirty minutes in length, and be performed before the piano faculty; it must include works from at least three different periods in music (e.g., Baroque, Classical, Romantic, Impressionistic, or Contemporary).

Voice Performance: An audition cassette will satisfy preliminary expectations, but before completing nine (9) hours of graduate work, the student must also sing for a faculty committee and fulfill the requirements below.

Voice performance majors must demonstrate, by audition (1) advanced vocal technique; (2) good diction in Italian, French, German, and English; and (3) good vocal quality and musicianship. The repertoire must be memorized and include (1) an aria from opera or oratorio; (2) a seventeenth- or eighteenth-century Italian song or aria; (3) a German Lied; (4) a French Melodie; and (5) a song in English.

Further, the student's transcript(s) must show grades of C or better in two years of foreign language (any combination of two of the following: German, French, and Italian) and at least one course in diction for singers. Students lacking these will be required to pass these courses in addition to the requirements for the degree. In lieu of course work, satisfactory performance on language exams, administered by the USM Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, is acceptable.

Specific areas in which this degree may be earned are:

Doctoral Degrees

Each student has final responsibility to ascertain that he or she has complied with all applicable catalogue requirements for graduation. Faculty and Advisers assist students in developing their programs, but they cannot waive or vary degree requirements as these appear in the University Bulletin. Students must read the "Doctoral Degree Requirements" section of the Graduate Bulletin; that which follows pertains to School of Music practices and policies; and it amplifies Bulletin statements.

Three doctoral degrees are available in the School of Music: the Doctor of Music Education, the Doctor of Philosophy in Music Education, and the Doctor of Musical Arts. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

Students pursuing the Doctor of Musical Arts degree do so with an emphasis in Performance and Pedagogy. Specific areas in which the D.M.A. may be earned are:

Bassoon	Horn	Trumpet
Clarinet	Oboe	Tuba
Composition	Organ	Viola
Conducting	Percussion	Violin
Euphonium	Piano	Violoncello
Flute	Saxophone	Voice
Guitar	String Bass
Harpichord	Trombone

Admission Requirements: Doctoral Degrees

In addition to acceptable grades (see Graduate School requirements) and GRE scores, successful applicants to the doctoral program must have an appropriate baccalaureate and/or masters degree with a major in music, an acceptable candidacy audition, strong letters of recommendation and/or successful personal interviews. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department or school. Members of all under-represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Acceptance to the School of Music requires students to meet expectations beyond these; see "Degree Candidacy."

Students who are unable to meet regular admissions standards may be considered for conditional admission. (For details concerning conditional admission, see "Admission Requirements and Procedures," Graduate Bulletin, The University of Southern Mississippi.)

Important Note: Acceptance into the doctoral degree programs of the School of Music requires that students meet expectations beyond those stipulated in the Graduate Bulletin; see "Acceptance into the School of Music," this bulletin.

Ensemble Participation: Doctoral Degrees

A maximum of two (2) hours of graduate credit earned in ensemble work may be counted toward a degree. The ensemble in which one participates will be determined by the student's advisory committee.

Acceptance into the School of Music: Doctoral Degrees

Acceptance: Admission to graduate study does not imply acceptance into the School of Music for doctoral-level study. A maximum of nine (9) hours of graduate work earned before one has gained admission to the School of Music can be applied towards a degree. To gain acceptance, one must:

- Performance and Pedagogy: possess a master's degree; Music Education: possess a master's degree in music education and have at least three years of successful teaching experience;
- take Diagnostic Entrance Examinations;
- pass a Candidacy Audition (D.M.A. in Performance and Pedagogy, Applied areas only) prior to or during the first term of full-time residence or before completing nine (9) hours of course work;
- pass a Candidacy Audition (D.M.A. in Performance and Pedagogy, Conducting Area only) prior to the first term of enrollment;
- submit and gain approval for a portfolio of one's representative scores and/or recordings prior to the first term of enrollment (D.M.A. in Performance and Pedagogy, Composition area only);
- pass all Entrance Examinations, D.M.A. Special Examinations (see specific areas in which the D.M.A. may be earned), and the Qualifying Examinations during the first term of enrollment;
- consult with the academic adviser, have a major professor and an advisory committee appointed, and begin planning the total degree program early in the first term of attendance or before nine (9) semester hours have been earned; this process must be completed before taking the Qualifying Examination;

- h) complete at least nine (9) hours of graduate course work relevant to one's degree plan with a cumulative grade-point average of 3.5;
- i) complete a Degree Planning Sheet, approved by the advisory committee and the academic adviser, before the beginning of the semester following the initial taking of the Qualifying Examination. If the Degree Planning Sheet is not on file with the academic adviser before the start of that semester, credit hours earned above nine (9) semester hours will not be counted toward the degree. Doctoral students should be counseled by their advisory committee before registering for courses.

Diagnostic Entrance Examinations: Doctoral Degrees

Before enrolling for post-Master's hours, all students take Diagnostic Entrance Examinations, one in music theory and another in music history and literature.

- 1) Those who show a lack of proficiency in music history must enroll in and pass ("C" or better) MUS 630: Music History Survey.
- 2) Those who show a lack of proficiency in music theory must enroll in and pass ("C" or better) MUS 620: Music Theory Survey or an appropriate undergraduate theory course as a prerequisite to further study in graduate music theory.
- 3) Hours gained in these courses cannot be counted toward a degree; both courses (i.e., MUS 620 and MUS 630) must be passed during one's first semester of matriculation.

Bibliography Proficiency Examination:

Students may choose to take the Bibliography Proficiency Examination, a test that is offered along with the Diagnostic Entrance Examinations. Those who pass this test are not required to enroll in MUS 702: Bibliography.

The Diagnostic Entrance Examinations and the Bibliography Proficiency Examination are administered on campus each Friday preceding the first day of classes in Fall, Spring, and Summer.

9:30 a.m. - Theory
10:30 a.m. - Music History and Literature
11:30 a.m. - Bibliography (optional)

These examinations are also administered through the mail. To make the testing process feasible, a proctor, preferably a teacher in a nearby college or university, may administer the examination. Submit the name and address of the proctor to the academic adviser.

Students with deficiencies may be required to take additional course work beyond the minimum required in the degree program.

Qualifying Examinations: Doctoral Degrees

All students must take the written Doctoral Qualifying Examination. Per USM Graduate School, this examination must be completed during the student's first semester/term of enrollment.

The Qualifying Examination consists of three parts: (1) an area of specialization, (2) music history, and (3) music theory. (Suggestions for study are available from the Office of the academic adviser.) The School of Music Doctoral Qualifying Examinations are offered each semester at the same time:

Fall: the first full week in November
Spring: the first full week in April
Summer: the three successive Saturdays following the 4th of July

Exact dates and times are determined by the academic adviser and are publicized as soon as possible. Students must register for the exam two months (minimum) prior to taking the exam by calling 601-266-5363.

The tests are designed to judge the student's fitness to pursue doctoral work and to guide the advisory committee in planning the student's program. Generally, the Qualifying Examination is administered only once.

Each part of the examination is graded by the appropriate faculty, and the results are reported to the academic adviser. Results of the individual parts of the Qualifying Examination will be reported to the academic adviser in one of three ways:

1. Student shows no deficiencies.
2. Student shows deficiencies which are noted along with appropriate means to remove these deficiencies.

3. Qualifying Examination is judged unacceptable for one or both of the following reasons:
 - A. Student has inadequate knowledge of the subject.
 - B. Student cannot write and/or spell adequately.

For students with deficiencies, those who grade the examinations will make recommendations regarding the courses to be taken by the doctoral candidate. Students with deficiencies may be required to take additional course work beyond the minimum required in the degree program. Further, students with deficiencies may be required to take undergraduate courses for which no credit toward the doctorate will be gained.

The results of the examination are reported to the academic adviser and to the student's advisory committee. Should the advisory committee disagree with the recommendations of the appropriate faculty, it must respond, in writing, to the director within seven days of receiving the Qualifying Examination results. Upon receiving a written response, the director will call a meeting of the student's advisory committee and all appropriate faculty. Should there be no response from the student's advisory committee, the recommendations of the appropriate faculty will stand.

When a student performs unacceptably on one part of the Qualifying Examination, the student's major professor and committee must meet with the appropriate faculty to determine whether the student may continue in the program. If the student is to continue, the recommendations of the area faculty regarding course work must be discussed and determined by the student's advisory committee and appropriate area faculty.

When the student performs unacceptably on two parts of the Qualifying Examination, he/she may not register for any more hours of course work leading to a doctor's degree. In order to continue in the program the student must retake the two parts which were unacceptable. If either part is judged unacceptable a second time, the student cannot continue in the doctoral program in music. Deviations from the policy in this paragraph must be approved, in writing, after a meeting by both the advisory committee and the appropriate faculty graders.

Students are notified of the results, in writing, before the end of the semester.

The Qualifying Examination may be administered through the mail. To make the process feasible, a proctor, preferably a teacher in a nearby college or university, may administer the examination. Upon submission of the name and address of a proctor to the academic adviser, the academic adviser will see that the exams are sent to the proctor along with the appropriate instructions for administering the tests.

Jury Requirements/Final Examinations: Doctoral Degrees

Students who are enrolled in MUP Private Lessons in their principal applied area and who are seeking the Doctor of Musical Arts degree with emphasis in performance must perform a jury for the appropriate applied faculty. All other doctoral students enrolled in MUP Private Lessons must perform a final examination for the applied teacher. At the finish of each semester and summer term, the applied teacher must complete a "Final Jury/Examination Form" for each student and file it with the academic adviser. Students enrolled in applied music who do not take a final examination or a jury will receive the grade "I" or "F."

The applied teacher must record and submit any exception to this policy to the academic adviser; signatures of all appropriate area faculty must be included on this form.

Comprehensive Examinations: Doctoral Degrees

At the completion of all course work and examinations, the doctoral student is required to take a written Comprehensive Examination in the student's area of specialization, Music Theory, and Music History. The test will be prepared and graded by members of the appropriate area faculty. The results are reported to the Graduate Committee. Following a review by the Graduate Committee, the Comprehensive Examination is submitted, with a recommendation, to the advisory committee.

When it is determined that the Comprehensive Examination is unsatisfactory, in whole or in part, the student will be granted a second examination. The test must be repeated within one year of the first Comprehensive Examination, but the student will be required to repeat only those sections of the examination judged unsatisfactory. In those instances where a second examination is expected, the appropriate area faculty will inform the student, in writing, as to the specific or general areas which will be tested. The appropriate area faculty will grade the second test.

The Comprehensive Examination can be retaken once; all parts failed must be repeated simultaneously. If the second examination is judged unsatisfactory by the advisory committee, the student cannot earn a doctoral degree in Music or Music Education at the University of Southern Mississippi.

The School of Music Doctoral Comprehensive Examinations are offered each semester at the same time:

Fall:	the first full week in November
Spring:	the first full week in April
Summer:	the three successive Saturdays following the 4th of July

Exact dates and times are determined by the academic adviser and are publicized as soon as possible. Students must register for the exam two months (minimum) prior to taking the exam by calling 601-266-5363.

The academic adviser must receive results of the Comprehensive Examination in time to notify the University Registrar and the Graduate Office no later than the last day for presenting signed dissertations to the Graduate Office.

Oral Examinations: Doctoral Degrees

After the dissertation has been accepted and after all required course work has been completed, but at least four weeks before the candidate is scheduled to receive the degree, a final oral examination on the dissertation and related fields will be conducted by the student's advisory committee and any other faculty members designated by the Graduate Dean. The examination will be open to any member of the graduate faculty.

Special Problems Courses: Doctoral Degrees

Special Problems courses must be approved by the Music Graduate Committee. Petitions requesting permission to enroll are available in the Office of the academic adviser (Fine Arts Building 210). Petitions must be submitted to the academic adviser by noon of the second day of classes.

advisory committee: Doctoral Degrees

Early in the first term of full-time residence or before nine (9) hours of graduate credit have been earned, the student, and the student's major professor, select those faculty who will serve as the student's advisory committee. The advisory committee must be appointed before one takes the Qualifying Examination.

The major professor and the student shall develop a planning sheet of course work based upon Qualifying Examination information together with course requirements. The advisory committee members will respond to the plan in full committee session (i.e., a full committee meeting scheduled by the academic adviser). In those cases where a student is required to take additional course work beyond the minimum required by the degree, the advisory committee will counsel the student and, along with the academic adviser, plan the program of studies.

Recital Requirements:

Before scheduling a *recital, the student must ascertain that all members of the advisory committee can attend. At least fourteen days before the recital, the student should remind the members of the committee by issuing a written invitation to each. Doctoral recitals shall not be scheduled to occur during the week of final examinations.

If recitals are required by the student's degree plan, the advisory committee must:

- 1) Approve the repertoire, attend the recital, and grade the performance as Satisfactory (S) or Unsatisfactory (U)
- 2) This grade, indicating the majority opinion of the advisory committee, must be recorded on the Graduate Examination Report and submitted to the academic adviser.
- 3) Should a recital be canceled or postponed until a succeeding semester, the recital will be graded "E" (course in progress).
- 4) Should a recital be judged Unsatisfactory, another recital, at a date determined by the advisory committee, must take place.
- 5) A student who receives two grades of Unsatisfactory in meeting degree recital requirements will not be allowed to continue as a candidate.

*When all members of a committee cannot attend a conducting degree recital, the concert will be videotaped. At a date following the concert, committee members will meet as a group. At that time, the Committee will view the tape and evaluate the degree recital. The chairperson of the advisory committee must be present at both the concert and the video viewing.

Dissertation

- A. The dissertation topic must be approved by the student's major professor and advisory committee and must be an original and significant contribution to knowledge in the chosen field. The Human Subjects Protection Review Committee must also approve the topic.
- B. Once a topic has been approved, the student must enroll in MUS 797, MED 797, MUS 898, or MED 898 in each semester/term until the degree is completed.
- C. A separate bulletin outlining University requirements concerning the preparation of dissertations is available in the Graduate Office.
- D. Additionally, instructions specific to the development of an approved topic in Music (see required pamphlet "Prospectus Guide for the Doctor of Musical Arts degree") or Music Education must be followed. These may be obtained from the academic adviser.

Documents

The doctoral student must file a number of documents with the Graduate Office. Please see "Documents-Doctoral Degree Requirements," this Bulletin.

Degree Plans

Doctor of Musical Arts Degree

Performance and Pedagogy (all areas except Conducting and Composition)

Candidacy Audition*

All students must audition for the appropriate area faculty (generally, taped auditions are not acceptable.) This audition must be deemed Satisfactory before one can be accepted into the School of Music (i.e., before completing nine (9) hours of graduate work). Early auditions are encouraged, and a high level of performance proficiency is expected.

*In lieu of a candidacy audition, with the approval of the School of Music Graduate Committee, students who will complete the Master of Music degree in Performance at USM may use their graduate recital. The appropriate faculty must attend the recital, and the printed program must state the total purpose of the concert, e.g., "This recital is given in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree Master of Music in Performance, and it also serves as an audition for acceptance into the Doctor of Musical Arts curriculum in the School of Music." The student must begin doctoral study within one year of this audition.

In all instances other than those in bold-face below, the audition must be at least thirty minutes in length and must include three works of contrasting style, preferably representing three different periods in music. (Repertory lists with representative works are available upon request. Write: academic adviser, School of Music, The University of Southern Mississippi, Box 5081, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5081).

Brass Performance: For those majoring in brass performance, the candidacy audition must be a full recital for the USM brass faculty.

Percussion Performance: For those majoring in percussion performance, the applicant should demonstrate proficiency on timpani, on mallet keyboards, and should perform a multiple- percussion performance.

Piano Performance: For those majoring in piano performance, the audition must be a full recital, memorized, performed before the piano faculty; it must include works from at least three different periods in music (e.g., Baroque, Classical, Romantic, Impressionistic, or Contemporary). The faculty may select portions from the repertoire submitted.

Voice Performance: Voice performance majors must demonstrate, by audition, (1) advanced vocal technique; (2) good diction in Italian, French, German, and English; and (3) good vocal quality and musicianship. The repertoire must be memorized and include (1) an aria from opera or oratorio; (2) a seventeenth- or eighteenth-century Italian song or aria; (3) a German Lied; (4) a French Melodie; and (5) a song in English.

Special requirement, Voice Performance: The student's transcript(s) must show grades of C or better in at least one course in diction for singers and in two years of foreign language: German, French, or Italian (may include any combination of those languages). Students lacking these will be required to pass such courses in addition to the requirements for the degree. In lieu of course work, satisfactory performance on language exams, administered by the USM Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, is acceptable.

All D.M.A. Areas Except Conducting and Composition

The D.M.A. student will be required to take MUS 500, 702, 731, 732, and 898. The remainder of the course work will be determined in light of the student's qualifying examination, entrance audition, his or her interests and/or professional goals, and the counsel of the major professor and graduate advisory committee. In planning this program, the following minimum distribution of graduate courses (including master's degree work) is required: thirty (30) semester hours in performance music studio study and recitals, fifteen (15) semester hours in music history and literature, nine (9) semester hours in music theory, and the remainder of the program in approved electives which may include six (6) semester hours in a cognate field of study. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation. Three recitals will be required in addition to the entrance audition. One must be a solo recital, one a lecture recital, and the third chosen from the following options: (a) performance of a concerto with orchestra, (b) performance of a major role in an opera, (c) performance of a major role in an oratorio, (d) a full-length recital of chamber music, or (e) a second solo recital. (Note: To use options "a" through "d," permission of the student's advisory committee must be received before the semester in which the event will occur.) As a general rule, not more than one doctoral recital may be presented by a candidate during any academic term, nor more than two during any nine-month period. Rare exceptions will be permitted, but under rigidly controlled procedures. See the academic adviser for details.

One language will be required in the degree. Others may be required by the major professor and Graduate advisory committee.

The D.M.A. dissertation, required for completion of the degree, consists of two parts. Part I must be a written thesis giving evidence of the candidate's ability to make a scholarly investigation of limited scope. Part II must include all recital programs, concert programs, and program notes presented during the student's residency.

Conducting Area

Acceptance of a prospective student into the D.M.A. program in the conducting area requires a previously earned master's degree in music or music education. The conducting faculty must be satisfied that the student is qualified to pursue the D.M.A. at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Students applying for entrance into the D.M.A. program in the conducting area must:

- a) provide an application that includes a current resume; a repertoire list, specifying works conducted in performance; three letters of recommendation which center on the applicant's conducting abilities; a video tape of a rehearsal conducted by the applicant; and a video or audio tape of a performance conducted by the applicant.
- b) complete an interview and an audition. After review of the application by the conducting faculty, the applicant may be invited to an interview-audition on campus. It will include 1) a session with the conducting faculty to assess one's musical proficiencies and 2) a rehearsal of an appropriate university ensemble to assess one's rehearsal technique.

In the interview, the applicant will demonstrate the following:

- a) musicality, preferably by showing proficiency as a performer on a standard orchestral or band instrument, on a standard keyboard instrument, or as a singer;
- b) keyboard proficiency above the basic level in technique, musicianship, and open score reading;
- c) a high degree of competence in ear-training and sight-singing;
- d) thorough knowledge of the traditional orchestral and band instruments and their transpositions;
- e) acquaintance with a broad range of appropriate repertoire from various periods;
- f) detailed knowledge of works from the applicant's repertoire list.

The audition, a rehearsal, will use repertoire selected in consultation with the appropriate faculty and will last for approximately thirty minutes. The applicant's competence in effective gestural and verbal communication will be assessed. For applicants admitted to the program with deficiencies in any of the above, no degree credit will be granted for any required remedial work.

The D.M.A. student will be required to take MUS 500, 702, 731, 732, and 898. Also required are MED 731, 732, 733, 825, and MUP 896, 897. The remainder of the course work will be determined in light of the student's qualifying examination, entrance interview-audition, interests and/or professional goals, and the counsel of the major professor and graduate advisory committee. In planning this program, the following minimum distribution of graduate courses (including master's degree work) is required: thirty (30) semester hours in performance, conducting, and recitals, fifteen (15) semester hours in music history and literature, nine (9) semester hours in music theory, and six (6) hours of approved electives which may include a cognate field of study (a course in foundations of music education is recommended).

Recitals: Two concerts and a lecture recital will be required. Repertoire for these concerts must be approved in advance by the student's advisory committee. When practical, the repertoire will include works for both vocal and instrumental components. As a general rule, not more than one doctoral concert/recital may be presented by a candidate during any semester nor more than two during any nine-month period. Rare exceptions will be permitted, but only under rigidly controlled procedures. See your advisory committee for details.

Satisfactory competence in English and German, French or Italian is required for candidacy. Competence in a foreign language can be demonstrated by:

- a) completing three semesters of an undergraduate-level language course with a grade of B or higher;
- b) completing two semesters of a graduate-level course in German or French in reading for research with a grade of C or higher.

Note: Credit for graduate courses in foreign languages will not be granted toward the degree.

The D.M.A. dissertation, required for completion of the degree, consists of two parts. Part I must be a written thesis that is an original and significant contribution to the knowledge of the field; it must give evidence of the candidate's ability to make a scholarly investigation of limited scope. Part II must include all recital programs, concert programs, and program notes presented during the student's residency.

Composition Area

Acceptance of a prospective student into the D.M.A. program in the composition area assumes a previously earned master's degree in composition or the equivalent, provided the composition faculty is satisfied that the student is qualified to pursue the D.M.A. at the University of Southern Mississippi. A high level of proficiency in composition and extensive knowledge of literature are expected.

Students applying for entrance into the D.M.A. program in the composition area must submit a portfolio containing representative scores and/or recordings of their compositions prior to the first term of enrollment at the University of Southern Mississippi. Additionally, the student will be required to take qualifying examinations prior to or during the first term of enrollment.

The D.M.A. student will be required to take MUS 500, 702, 731, 732, and 898. The remainder of the program will be determined in the light of the student's portfolio evaluation, his or her qualifying examination, his or her interests and/or professional goals, and the counsel of the major professor and graduate advisory committee. In planning this program, the following minimum distribution of graduate courses (including master's degree work) is required: Thirty-nine (39) semester hours in composition and music theory, fifteen (15) semester hours in music history and literature, six (6) semester hours in a related field of study, and the remainder of the program in approved electives.

The student will write compositions totaling at least two (2) hours performing time. Up to thirty (30) minutes previously written compositions may be accepted as part of these two hours. Compositions will be for orchestra, band, chorus, ensembles, and soloists demonstrating competence in writing for all orchestral and band instruments as well as for the solo voice. The music should encompass levels of difficulty from junior high school to professional standards. The composer will write commentaries for each work, including program notes and rehearsal suggestions. All works, including parts, must be in duplicative format.

One recital of the composer's works will be given, with the composer commenting on each composition.

One language will be required, chosen from French, German, or Italian.

The D.M.A. dissertation, required for completion of the degree, will consist of the commentaries, program notes, and a full score of a work composed during the student's doctoral study.

Doctor of Music Education Degree

Doctor of Philosophy in Music Education Degree

General requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Music Education (the Doctor of Music Education general requirements are the same as the Doctor of Education degree) are found in another section of this Bulletin. The College of The Arts further stipulates the following requirements.

Admission: See "Admission Requirements" and "Acceptance," a, b, e, f, g, and h (p. 44). One must possess a master's degree in music education and have at least three years of successful teaching experience.

Research Tools: Candidates for the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Music Education must comply with the language requirements as specified for Doctor of Philosophy candidates in this Bulletin. A candidate for the Doctor of Music Education degree is required to demonstrate proficiency in statistics or computer science; at the discretion of the student's Graduate advisory committee, the candidate may be required to demonstrate a reading knowledge of one modern foreign language.

Degree Requirements

The following courses are required: REF 601 (or equivalent), MUS 702 (or equivalent), MED 755, 825, 826, and 898. The remaining course work will be determined by the candidate's Qualifying Examination, his or her interests, and the counsel of the major professor and Graduate advisory committee. In planning this program, the following minimum distribution of graduate courses (including master's degree work) is required: Thirty (30) semester hours in music education, nine (9) semester hours in music history and literature, nine (9) semester hours in music theory, nine (9) semester hours in professional education, three (3) semesters in studio performance study, and the remainder of the program in approved electives. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation. Although this Bulletin states that eighty-four (84) semester hours are required for doctoral degrees, it should be clearly understood that some candidates will be unable to receive a degree on the basis of this minimum. The distinction implied by the degree and the traditions related to it require comprehensive knowledge and demonstration of a high degree of proficiency in the major field and related areas of study as well as the ability to conduct advanced research.

Associate Graduate Faculty*

The University of Southern Mississippi Department of Theatre and Dance is an accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Theatre. Theatre requirements are in accordance with the published regulations of this Association.

The Department of Theatre and Dance offers programs leading to the Master of Fine Arts degree.

To be eligible for admission, a student must have a bachelor's degree and have completed a minimum of twenty-one (21) semester hours of undergraduate course work in theatre or theatre related areas. Those who do not meet the minimum entrance requirements may be admitted but will be expected to take undergraduate courses to cover deficiencies. It should be emphasized that admission to the Graduate School does not imply acceptance of the student as a candidate for a graduate degree. (See general admission requirements and procedures as set forth in this Bulletin.)

Upon being admitted into a graduate program, the student will be assisted by the department graduate coordinator in selecting an appropriate graduate advisory committee composed of three faculty members, one of whom will serve as major professor.

Before the end of the first week of classes, an entrance interview and audition/ portfolio review is required of all students entering a master's program.

Master of Fine Arts Degree in Theatre

The objective of the Master of Fine Arts curriculum is to develop the educated performer by offering sound theory and intensive practical training simultaneously. Students in the Master of Fine Arts programs will elect a plan of study with specialization in one of the following areas: Performance or Design and Technical Theatre.

Regular admission to a Master of Fine Arts program requires: (1) the submission of Graduate Record Examination scores; (2) an undergraduate grade point average of at least 3.0 in the undergraduate major area or on the last 60 hours attempted; (3) acceptable performance audition or portfolio evaluations; (4) three strong letters of recommendation, which should address the applicant's academic preparation in the area of theatre; and/or (5) successful personal interviews. The letters of recommendation should be sent to the department. Members of all under represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Performance students will be required to demonstrate their proficiency in "Showcase" performance during the first semester in residence. Design emphasis students must present a portfolio for review by the faculty prior to the initial registration. If no portfolio is available, a student may be admitted on a conditional basis until an acceptable minimum proficiency is determined.

Proficiency reviews will be required of all M.F.A. candidates at the conclusion of their second semester in residence.

The Master of Fine Arts program normally requires three years of full-time graduate study and the completion of a minimum approved program of sixty (60) hours with at least 18 hours of course work at the 600 level or higher. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation. It is recommended that the M.F.A. student spend at least one summer as a member of the Repertory Theatre program. The candidate will satisfactorily complete a creative project in his major area of emphasis and defend it orally before the Theatre Arts faculty.

Graduate Degree Programs

The following graduate degree programs are available on the Hattiesburg campus: a Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) and a Master of Professional Accountancy (M.P.A.). These and other business programs offered on the Hattiesburg and Gulf Coast campuses are accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

Requests for application forms and other information may be addressed to the Director of Graduate Business Programs, College of Business Administration, The University of Southern Mississippi, Box 5096, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5096. Telephone inquiries may be made by calling (601) 266-4653.

A professional Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) and a Master of Professional Accountancy (M.P.A.) are offered on the Gulf Coast. The professional M.B.A. is tailored to satisfy the needs of part-time students. Requests for application forms and other information may be addressed as indicated above. Telephone inquiries can also be made by calling (601) 865-4505 at Gulf Park.

Graduate assistantships are available for the M.B.A. and M.P.A. degrees. Students with good undergraduate records are encouraged to apply at the time they request admission.

Admission Standards

Admission to the University of Southern Mississippi's M.B.A. and M.P.A. programs is selective. Regular admission is contingent on having graduated from a college or university accredited by a recognized regional accrediting agency. In addition, the graduate admission committees of the College of Business Administration recommend admittance only for those applicants whose academic background, work experience, demonstrated leadership, and communication skills meet the challenging demands of graduate programs in management and accounting.

In evaluating applications, the admission committees utilize the following criteria:

Undergraduate record—The cumulative grade point average (GPA) from all institutions, the area(s) of concentration, the balance of verbal/communication and quantitative/analytical courses, and the trend of grades are considered.

Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT)—The GMAT is sponsored and directed by the Graduate Management Admission Council, consisting of representatives from graduate schools of management. A candidate should strive to achieve a good balance of verbal- and quantitative-area scores.

Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)—Students whose native language is not English must achieve a TOEFL score of 550 or more.

Work Experience—While work experience is not required for admission, two or more years of relevant managerial responsibility strengthen the likelihood of admission to the program. Applicants are encouraged to submit resumes showing job responsibilities and accomplishments. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department or school.

Letters of Recommendation—The admission committees review letters of recommendation to gain a more personal understanding of the applicant's leadership ability in terms of communication and interpersonal skills. Each applicant should request two recommendation letters, at least one of which addresses the applicant's academic preparation. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the College.

Essay—The essay requirement provides the applicant an opportunity to demonstrate writing competency and communication skills. It also enables the applicant to provide specific examples of demonstrated leadership, to discuss career plans, and to supply additional information that will assist in selecting those individuals who can most benefit from and contribute to the graduate management or accounting programs.

Students may enroll in College of Business Administration courses reserved exclusively for graduate students if they have regular admission to specific USM graduate programs and have taken the necessary prerequisites. In rare cases, students may be admitted conditionally. To remove Conditional Admission status, masters students must earn a 3.0 on the first nine (9) semester hours of course work numbered 500 or above or on all courses taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement.

Students transferring from other graduate schools must meet the admission requirements stated above. At the time of admission, transfer students may request that up to six (6) semester hours of approved credit be applied toward degree requirements. Once enrolled, transfer of credit between the Hattiesburg and the Gulf Coast campuses, as well as courses taken at other institutions, must be approved in advance.

Academic Policies

Application of credits and dismissal—Students may not apply hours toward a degree for courses in which there is a grade of "D"; students who receive grades of "D" in more than six hours of course work will be dismissed from the program. Students who receive grades of "F" in more than three hours of course work will be dismissed from the program. Upon approval by the Director, students may repeat one and only one course to improve a cumulative grade point average. Students whose cumulative grade point average falls below 3.0 may be dismissed from the program subject to review by a faculty committee and the Director.

Graduation requirements—Students must complete course requirements with a B average for all graduate courses taken. In addition, all general requirements of the Graduate School must be met; this includes a comprehensive evaluation.

Degree Requirements Master of Business Administration

The M.B.A. program is available to students who have no previous course work in business administration, as well as anyone whose background includes an undergraduate degree in a business discipline. Consequently, required M.B.A. course work ranges from a minimum of 36 semester hours to a maximum of 60 semester hours. Specific degree requirements will be determined upon admission. Pre-program proficiency requirements include the ability to make use of word processing, spreadsheet, and database management software packages, as well as mathematical competence through applied calculus.

The M.B.A. program is broad in nature and aimed at developing managerial competence from a general perspective. Specifically, the M.B.A. curriculum:

- strengthens critical thinking skills that involve the ability to structure and analyze problems creatively and to process data to yield useful information;
- fosters thinking that is global in scope and integrative of the economic, technical, political-legal, and social-cultural dimensions;
- provides pragmatic managerial decision-making skills through instruction in the fundamentals of the functional areas of business (accounting, financial analysis, etc.);
- develops skills in dealing with behavioral issues including the ability to function effectively as a decision maker, motivator, and leader;
- increases awareness of and appreciation for ethical values, human dignity, cultural diversity, social responsibilities, and the need for continuous self-development;
- develops the ability to think strategically and to function effectively in an environment of rapid change;
- enhances written and oral communication skills.

(Total advanced course work: 36 hours)

Students will begin the M.B.A. program in the fall semester only. In some cases pre-program courses should be taken prior to enrolling in M.B.A. classes.

Master of Business Administration (Professional)

The professional M.B.A. program is offered on the Gulf Coast primarily for part-time students. Students who have undergraduate business degrees can normally complete the program in two years, while other students usually will need three years to meet degree requirements. Most other aspects of the professional M.B.A. parallel the M.B.A. requirements discussed in the previous section. However, unlike the M.B.A. program, students can begin the professional M.B.A. program any semester.

Mission

The School of Professional Accountancy (SPA) is an academic unit within the College of Business Administration (CBA) at the University of Southern Mississippi and is committed to the mission of the CBA. Within this framework, the SPA has its own unique mission.

The primary objective of the SPA is to be a quality provider of undergraduate- and master's-level accounting education. The SPA strives to produce technically competent, yet broadly educated, business and accounting graduates who have marketable skills, the ability to think critically, an understanding of the importance of ethics in decision making, and an appreciation of the necessity for life-long learning. Therefore, as its first priority, the SPA emphasizes excellent teaching in an environment of continuous curriculum development.

The SPA also acknowledges its responsibilities to the University, the accounting profession, business and government enterprises, and taxpayers. The SPA strives to meet these responsibilities by providing appropriate services and by engaging in the scholarly pursuits of research and writing. These activities complement the primary teaching mission.

The School of Professional Accountancy is a school within the College of Business Administration. Emphasis is placed on the preparation for professional careers in both the public accounting and management accounting areas.

The objective of the graduate curriculum is to provide more depth and breadth in Accounting and related subjects than can be accomplished in a four-year program. Enrollment in the School's graduate program is limited to those students who show a high probability of success.

The School offers one degree—the Master of Professional Accountancy. The program leading to the M.P.A. is essentially the culmination of a five-year program. A student who earns the Bachelor's degree with a major in accounting may normally complete the M.P.A. program with one year's additional work. A minimum of thirty (30) hours of graduate work is required.

Students with a variety of educational backgrounds may enter the program. Students who have a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university must either transfer or take the following business environment and tool courses:

Applied Calculus for Business(3 hours)	Advanced Business Law(3 hours)
Principles of Economics(6 hours)	Principles of Finance(3 hours)
Managerial Statistics I(3 hours)	Global Managerial Policy and Strategy (3 hours)
Managerial Statistics II(3 hours)	Management Information Systems(3 hours)
Management for Organizations (3 hours)	Principles of Marketing(3 hours)

Admission to the Program

Admission requirements for the M.P.A. program are the same as those listed for the M.B.A. program. Admission forms and GMAT applications are available in the Graduate Business Programs Office. Members of all underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Graduation and Retention Standards

Graduation and retention standards for the M.P.A. program are the same as those listed above for the M.B.A. program.

Master of Science in Systems Management

The Master of Science in Systems Management is offered by a consortium of the four Mississippi universities with Business Schools accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). The degree targets those individuals who cannot leave their jobs to return to campus to earn a graduate degree. The delivery of the program is through distance learning technologies for flexibility in scheduling and site locations. Graduate faculty from the four consortium universities serve as instructors.

Admission to the Program

All applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution and have at least two (2) years of full-time work experience after receiving a baccalaureate degree to qualify for admission in any standing. International applicants must submit an official TOEFL score of at least 575 to be considered for admission. All applicants must submit three letters of recommendation and a written statement of purpose to support their candidacy for admission. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the college.

Full Standing Admission—A student with a 3.0 or equivalent average on the last 60 hours of undergraduate course work and an acceptable GMAT score, generally recognized as 500, may be considered for unconditional admission if all other admission requirements are met.

Conditional Standing Admission—Applicants who do not qualify for full admission may be admitted in conditional standing based on an examination of the following five admission criteria:

- GMAT Score
- GPA
- Letters of Reference
- Statement of Purpose
- Work Experience

These applicants will be considered by a committee composed of the graduate directors of the four participating institutions. Admission in conditional standing will be granted only with a majority vote of the committee. A personal interview may be required, and along with other factors will weigh heavily in the decision of the committee in these cases.

Students will select at the time of application, from among the four universities, the university where they wish the graduate degree conferred. If students enroll for 8 credit hours per year, they should complete the degree in 3 years, 4 months. The Master of Science in Systems Management Program (MSSM) requires a total of 32 credit hours to complete. Since this is a unique, integrated and applied curriculum, acceptance of transfer courses from another program will not be considered.

Graduate degrees in Curriculum and Instruction are contingent on satisfaction of lower level program requirements. Students seeking a Master's Degree in Curriculum and Instruction must have or be eligible for a Mississippi class A standard license, or its equivalent, in the area of study; applicants not meeting class A licensure standards in the proposed area of study will be required to take prescribed prerequisite course work. Students entering the Curriculum and Instruction Master's program who desire AA level Mississippi licensure must meet all A level requirements prior to seeking advanced licensure. Individuals who are matriculating at USM should become aware of the licensure requirements of those states where they wish to be licensed and should work with an adviser to see that those requirements are met.

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction strongly recommends that a student gain at least one year of teaching experience before completing the Master's Degree program. No student will be eligible to receive a specialist's degree or a doctoral degree until he or she has completed at least three years of teaching experience at a grade level appropriate for the degree.

Master's Programs

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction offers a Master of Education degree with a major in curriculum and instruction and emphasis areas in early childhood education, elementary education, reading instruction, and secondary education. The Master of Science degree is offered with a major in curriculum and instruction with emphasis areas in reading instruction and in secondary education. The program of study at the Master's Degree level is designed to increase the professional competency of the classroom teacher and to provide the course work necessary to meet standards of teaching licensure at this advanced level. The Master's Degree program requires admission to a particular program, appointment of a graduate adviser, completion and submission of four copies of the application form for a master's degree at least one semester in advance of the date of graduation, successful completion of the comprehensive examination, and completion of all course work requirements.

Admission Requirements

Admission to master's programs offered in Curriculum and Instruction is selective. To be considered for regular admission to a master's degree program, an applicant must have:

- an academic record reflecting a superior undergraduate grade point average. Recently, students regularly admitted to master's programs in Curriculum and Instruction have obtained average GPAs of 3.0 (figured on a scale where A equals 4.0) for the last two years of undergraduate study;
- results from a national standardized achievement/aptitude test predictive of the ability to complete a graduate program successfully. These include the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or the Miller Analogies Test (MAT);
- three letters of recommendation from professionals in the field of education who can assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study. These letters should be sent to the department.

Admission Deadlines

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction reviews qualified applications for graduate work prior to the inception of each semester. It is the policy of the department to accept or reject applications received prior to published deadline dates. Qualified applications will be reviewed at specified dates before each semester, and applicants will be notified of acceptance for the following semester.

Semester	Application Deadline	Notification Date
Fall	First Monday in April	First Monday in May
Spring	First Monday in September	First Monday in October
Summer	First Monday in March	First Monday in April

Individuals who have submitted applications which qualified for admission, but who were not selected for enrollment in a given semester, are encouraged to reapply.

Members of under-represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Admission to master's programs offered in Curriculum and Instruction is contingent on the approval of the Department Chair, the Dean of the College, and the Dean of the Graduate School. An applicant who fails to meet the above criteria for regular admission may be considered for conditional admission on an individual basis. Students accepted on a conditional basis MUST obtain grades of B or better on the first nine hours of specified course work 500 level or higher or all course work taken while completing this 9-hour requirement. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the Department Chair or the Graduate Coordinator when conditional status is to be removed.

Applicants seeking a graduate degree in Curriculum and Instruction who do not have a bachelor's degree in education must first fulfill all requirements for a bachelor's degree in education. Applicants holding a bachelor's degree in education who are seeking a master's degree in an education area other than the area in which the education bachelor's degree was received must, in addition to the thirty (thirty-three for thesis programs) hours required for a Master's Degree, complete an additional twelve hours of curriculum or methods course work at the graduate or undergraduate level. This course work shall be prescribed by the Department Chair or Graduate Coordinator. In the event that the applicant has not previously completed student teaching requirements, fourteen hours of student teaching must be completed.

Specialist Programs

It is strongly recommended that students who anticipate eventually entering into a doctoral program at USM or any other institution NOT apply for admission to the Specialist program. The Specialist degree is considered by many institutions as a terminal degree, and as such could become an impediment to advanced study.

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction offers the Specialist in Education degree with a major in Curriculum and Instruction. The student has the option of taking an emphasis in early childhood education, elementary education, secondary education, or reading instruction. The student pursuing a specialist’s degree with emphasis in secondary education may choose a specialization from a number of teaching (subject) areas.

Entrance into a particular specialist’s degree program presupposes that the student has completed, or is willing to complete, the course work required for that program at the Master’s Degree level.

All specialist’s degree programs require a minimum of thirty-four (34) graduate semester hours beyond the master’s degree.

The specialist’s degree program requires admission to a particular program; submission of an approved program of studies; completion of all required course work, to include the completion of one full-time semester/term of residence taking all nine (9) semester hours on either the Hattiesburg Campus or the Gulf Park Campus; successful completion of the Specialist’s oral examination; and completion and defense of an approved thesis or field problem.

Admission Requirements

Admission to Specialist’s programs offered in Curriculum and Instruction is selective. To be considered for regular admission to a Specialist’s degree program, an applicant must have:

- (a) an academic record reflecting a superior grade point average on previous graduate work. Recently, students regularly admitted to Specialist’s programs in Curriculum and Instruction have obtained average GPAs of 3.25 (figured on a scale where A equals 4.0);
- (b) results from a national standardized achievement/aptitude test predictive of the ability to complete a Specialist’s program successfully. These include the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or the Miller Analogies Test (MAT);
- (c) three letters of recommendation from professionals in the field of education who are qualified to assess the applicant’s readiness for graduate study. These letters should be sent to the department.

Admission Deadlines

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction reviews qualified applications for graduate work prior to the inception of each semester. It is the policy of the department to accept or reject applications received prior to published deadline dates. Qualified applications will be reviewed at specified dates before each semester, and applicants will be notified of acceptance for the following semester.

An applicant who fails to meet the above criteria for regular admission may be considered for conditional admission on an individual basis. Students accepted on a conditional basis MUST obtain a 3.25 GPA or better on their first nine (9) hours of specified course work 600 level or higher or all course work taken while completing this 9-hour requirement. Doctoral Programs

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction offers Doctor of Education and Doctor of Philosophy degrees with a major in education and an emphasis in elementary education or secondary education. If a student desires to receive a Doctor of Philosophy degree, he or she should follow one of the doctoral programs outlined in this section and, in addition, gain proficiency in a foreign language.

The doctoral program with an emphasis in elementary education provides for specialization in either early childhood education or in reading. A student choosing an emphasis in elementary education, with or without a specialization in either early childhood education or in reading, must complete the requisite course work in that area prior to beginning doctoral study.

The doctoral program with an emphasis in secondary education provides for specialization in various teaching (subject) areas as well as in reading. A student specializing in a particular area must complete the requisite course work in that area prior to beginning doctoral study.

All doctoral programs consist of a minimum of seventy-five (75) graduate semester hours beyond the master’s degree. More than seventy-five (75) hours may be required in order to satisfy deficiencies which may exist in the student’s background and preparation.

Students should consult the departmental guidelines and the Admission Requirements and Procedures section and the General Academic Requirements section of the Graduate Bulletin.

Admission Requirements

Admission to Doctoral programs offered in Curriculum and Instruction is selective. To be considered for regular admission to a Doctoral degree program, an applicant must have:

- (a) an academic record reflecting a superior grade point average on previous graduate work. Recently, students regularly admitted to Doctoral programs in Curriculum and Instruction have obtained average GPAs of 3.5 (figured on a scale where A equals 4.0);
- (b) results from the Graduate Record Examination; and
- (c) a writing sample consisting of a major paper, article, report, etc.;
- (d) three letters of recommendation from professionals in the field of education who are qualified to assess the applicant’s readiness for graduate study. These letters should be sent to the department.

Admission Deadlines

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction reviews qualified applications for graduate work prior to the inception of each semester. It is the policy of the department to accept or reject applications received prior to published deadline dates. Qualified applications will be reviewed at specified dates before each semester, and applicants will be notified of acceptance for the following semester.

Semester	Application Deadline	Notification Date
Fall	First Monday in April	First Monday in May
Summer	First Monday in March	First Monday in April

Individuals who have submitted applications which qualified for admission, but who were not selected for enrollment in a given semester, are encouraged to request that their application remain active for future consideration.

Members of under-represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Admission to Doctoral programs offered in Curriculum and Instruction is contingent on the approval of the Chair of the Department, the Dean of the College, and the Dean of the Graduate School. An applicant who fails to meet the above criteria for regular admission in their totality may be considered for conditional admission on an individual basis. Students accepted on a conditional basis MUST obtain a 3.25 GPA or better on their first nine hours of specified course work 600 level or higher or all course work taken while completing these 9 hours. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the Department Chair, or Graduate Coordinator, when conditional status is to be removed.

All students must register for and complete the doctoral qualifying examination.

For the Ed.D. degree, proficiency in one language is required. In all cases that language requirement shall be satisfied by successful completion of REF 761 and REF 762. The six hours for REF 761 and REF 762 shall not be considered part of the 75-hour requirement for the doctorate.

For the Ph.D. degree, proficiency in two languages, other than English (except in the case of students for whom English is not their native language), is required. In all cases, satisfaction of one of the two language requirements shall be satisfied by successful completion of REF 761 and REF 762. An additional language proficiency must be demonstrated as per the dictums of the graduate school. The hours for REF 761 and REF 762 and other courses taken to satisfy the language proficiency requirement shall not be considered part of the 75-hour requirement for the doctorate. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

Associate Graduate Faculty*

The Department of Educational Leadership and Research comprises courses and degree programs in educational administration and supervision, higher education, research and foundations, and adult education. The programs in Educational Administration and Supervision encompass the full range of administrative positions and lead to the master's degree, the specialist's degree, and the doctorate in education with an emphasis in educational administration. Programs at the master's degree level provide entry level preparation in the elementary school principalship, the junior high school principalship, the high school principalship, and supervision of instruction. Programs at the specialist's and doctoral levels provide preparation for the superintendency, central administrative staff positions, and leadership roles in other institutional settings. In addition, the program at the doctoral level provides preparation for college teachers in educational administration and persons desiring to prepare for administration in higher education.

The Research and Foundations components of the Department of Educational Leadership and Research provide supportive services in teacher education. At the graduate level, these services are provided in the areas of Educational Foundations, Educational Media and Technology, and Educational Research. Also offered are the specialist's degree and the doctoral minor emphasizing Educational Research.

The Adult Education component of the Department of Educational Leadership and Research offers programs of study which lead to four degrees in adult education: Master of Education (M.Ed.), Specialist in Education (Ed.S.), Doctor of Education (Ed.D.), and Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) Through the completion of courses and/or degrees in those programs, students may enhance their understanding of adults as learners as well as the many means by which educational services are developed and delivered to adults.

Academic preparation in adult education is dependent not only upon knowledge of adult education theory and practice but also upon knowledge from related areas of study, such as psychology, sociology, administration, and management. Consequently, the courses and degree programs often follow an interdisciplinary approach in preparing persons for roles of professional service to adults. Adult education majors are encouraged to enroll in professionally relevant courses in cognate fields. Students from other departments frequently find adult education courses to be valuable as electives or academic minors.

The following course patterns for the different levels set forth only the minimum core requirements, and the electives selected to suit individual needs and objectives must be chosen with the advice and approval of the student's major professor. Therefore, it is mandatory that the student consult early in his or her program, and frequently thereafter, with his or her major professor concerning the selection of courses and sequence in which these courses will be taken.

Department Policies

The following departmental policies are supplementary to the rules and regulations of the University and the Graduate School as set forth elsewhere in this Bulletin.

Programs and Courses in Educational Administration

Master's Programs

Master of Education Degree in Educational Administration

Requirements for the M.Ed. have undergone significant revision. The program has been approved by the Mississippi State Board of Education. Implementation of the new program, beginning with part-time students, is to begin in the summer term of 1999. Classes for full-time students are expected to begin in the fall term of 1999.

Contact the Department of Educational Leadership and Research for further details.

Admission

Admission to the University of Southern Mississippi's graduate programs in Educational Leadership and Research is selective. Regular admission is contingent on having graduated from a college or university accredited by a recognized regional accrediting agency. In addition, the graduate admissions committees of the Department recommend admittance only for those applicants whose academic background, work experience, demonstrated leadership, and communication skills meet the challenging demands of graduate programs in Educational Leadership and Research. In evaluating applications, the admission committees utilize separate criteria in each degree program offered. Admission to the revised M.Ed. program in educational administration is further limited by the minimum and maximum number of students who can be accommodated in each cohort.

Applications for admission to the master's program will be considered on an annual basis. Students will be admitted to either a part-time or a full-time cohort at the beginning of the respective cohort's program cycle. The program cycle for the part-time cohort begins each summer semester, and the program cycle for the full-time cohort begins each fall semester. Courses must be taken in sequence, and no additional persons will be admitted to a particular cohort after the beginning of the first term of the required curriculum. Individuals who drop out of a cohort to which they have been admitted will be considered for admission at the beginning of the next new cohort cycle relating to their status as part-time or full-time.

Prospective students are encouraged to apply as early as possible. Those who wish to study as part-time students are asked to have their applications on file prior to the second Friday in January. Persons who wish to be full-time students are requested to apply prior to the first Friday in February.

Programs in Adult Education

The Adult Education program, a component of the Department of Educational Leadership and Research, offers degrees in Adult Education at the master’s, specialist’s, and doctoral levels.

Adult Education programs, by nature interdisciplinary and flexible, offer individuals from diverse backgrounds opportunities for upgrading and building on professional experience. Such agencies include vocational-technical centers, the armed forces, health services, criminal justice and law enforcement programs, public school systems, junior and senior colleges, human service agencies, the Cooperative Extension Service, business and industrial organizations, and others.

Admission to degree programs will be conducted in accordance with College and University policies (please refer to the “Admissions Requirements and Procedures” section of the USM Bulletin: Graduate Programs). In general, these procedures include the submission of application and credentials to the Director of Graduate Admissions. Additionally, all degree applicants should send the program coordinator (a) a letter explaining the applicant’s interest in and reasons for pursuing the degree and (b) a resume of academic and job-related experiences. The Admissions Review Committee will review all applications and recommend the appropriate actions.

Admitted students will be assigned a temporary adviser until the student, with the concurrence of the program coordinator, selects a permanent adult education adviser. Doctoral students will also select a doctoral advisory committee composed of four additional faculty members, at least one of whom must be a member of the Adult Education faculty. Then, in accordance with departmental policy, students, in collaboration with their appointed advisers, will design programs of study which reflect their long term goals and interests. Basic admissions eligibility and graduation criteria are discussed in the sections which follow.

Any hours taken to establish proficiencies in foreign languages, or areas of needed remediation are in excess of the 72 hour program minimum. Students pursuing the Ph.D. must establish proficiency in one foreign language approved by the Graduate School either through additional course work or through examination. All doctoral students must also complete a residency requirement, defined as two consecutive terms (which may include summer term) of minimum 12-hour course loads each. Students should not be employed full-time during residency. Physical residence on campus or in Hattiesburg is recommended but not required during residency. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

Departmental Program of Studies (minimum 72 credit hours)

Doctoral students in adult education will complete a number of required courses and electives, but the program is designed to allow intensive pursuit of other areas in which adult educators may have interest or professional goals. Accordingly, there are several possible tracks students may pursue in addition to the requirements common for all students. The minimum required program includes:

	Hours
ADE 540, 576, 601, 607, and 889 (ADE Core)	15
ADE Electives (9 hours of which must be classroom courses).....	12
ADE 898 (dissertation).....	12
REF 601 and REF 602	6
REF 604, 816, or 818 or an additional elective in Adult Education	3
REF 761 and 762.....	6
Other Electives	18
	72

Within this program, students may pursue related areas in which to specialize, or tracks. Students are not required to be in a track; they are not prescriptive. They are, however, suggestive of possible plans for individual doctoral programs.

Administrative and Managerial: For those interested in public sector and private sector administration. In addition to ADE 602 and 603, recommended course areas would include Business, Management, Marketing, and Educational Administration.

Adult Basic Education: For those interested in teaching and administering adult basic and secondary education. Recommended courses include ADE 541, 542, 545, 602, and related courses in Reading and English composition.

Research: For those interested in conducting research at a professional level. Recommended course areas would include statistics, research design, grant writing, historical research methods, psychology, and computers.

Career Specialization: For those interested in using their elective courses to pursue specific career interests, such as nursing, criminal justice, fine arts, liberal arts, business, technical fields, library services, etc. Many people in this track might be teachers or trainers in post-secondary institutions, health-related organizations, or business organizations.

Gerontology: For those interested in the older adult. In addition to ADE 580 and 750, germane courses in psychology, sociology, social work, and/or counseling are recommended.

Dissertation (12 hours)

During the dissertation process, all students must complete twelve (12) hours of ADE 898, Dissertation. A minimum of three (3) credit hours of ADE 898 must be completed during the semester in which the dissertation is defended. The student submits three documents to a doctoral committee of five faculty: a pre-proposal, a proposal, and a completed dissertation. The last two are defended orally. A student applies for candidacy only after all degree requirements except the oral defense of the dissertation are completed .

Examinations

Qualifying examinations are scheduled for the third Friday after registration in each term. Doctoral students must take this written examination in the first term of their course work. After the qualifying exam is successfully completed, but still during the first term, the student will schedule a program planning meeting with the Adult Education faculty.

Comprehensive written examinations are prepared by doctoral committee members and are taken at or near the conclusion of course work. They are based on material from the overall program, including the books on the doctoral reading list. The committee may require an additional oral examination at its discretion. Comprehensive examinations are taken by arrangement on an individual basis.

Any students who have been inactive, as determined by the committee chair, for over six years following the comprehensive examination will take an additional examination in Adult Education to assure currency prior to beginning or continuing work on the dissertation.

Graduation

To complete either the Ed.D. or Ph.D. degree in Adult Education, students must maintain a 3.0 grade point average, complete all course work, complete necessary proficiencies, pass qualifying and comprehensive examinations, and successfully complete and defend a dissertation.

Associate Graduate Faculty*

The Department of Psychology offers graduate programs at the master's and doctoral levels. Master's degrees with a major in Psychology (M.A. or M.S.) prepare students for advanced graduate work. The Master's degrees in Counseling Psychology (M.S.) and Counseling and Personnel Services (M.Ed.) prepare entry-level counselor personnel for service delivery roles in community agency and educational settings. The M.S. program in Counseling Psychology also provides a track for students who wish to pursue advanced graduate study.

The department's Ph.D. programs in clinical, counseling, industrial/organizational, and school psychology are based on the scientist-practitioner training model which integrates scientific and professional components at all stages of training, preparing graduates for teaching, research, and practice roles in health service, governmental, educational, business/industrial, and/or academic settings. The Ph.D. program in general-experimental psychology prepares graduates for teaching and research roles in academic institutions and specialized research programs.

At the Ph.D. level, programs in clinical, counseling, and school psychology are fully accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA). In addition, the doctoral program in school psychology is accredited by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP). At the master's level, the program in counseling psychology is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). Since program requirements and curricula may vary from one program to the next, program brochures should be requested from the department if detailed information is needed.

Master's Degree Programs

Students are admitted to the M.A. program in Psychology based on an assessment of their potential to successfully complete a doctoral program. Hence, admissions requirements are essentially the same as those as listed for the Ph.D. in Psychology (see description under Ph.D. in Psychology). Some students initially seek a doctoral degree but may, at some point, opt to terminate with a master's degree and typically complete a program leading to a Master of Science Degree in Psychology. Regardless, the completion of any master's degree does not guarantee admission to advanced doctoral study in one of the Ph.D. programs offered by the department.

Students are admitted to the M.S. in Counseling Psychology or M.Ed. in Counseling and Personnel Services based upon the student’s previous academic record, scores on admission tests, and recommendations. Admission is selective; the faculty selects the best candidates from the applicant pool. The following tests are required for the respective master’s programs:

- M.S. in Counseling Psychology - Graduate Record Examination (GRE) (Verbal and Quantitative)
- M.Ed. Track I (Non-Teacher) School Counseling - Miller Analogy Test or GRE
- M.Ed. Track II (Teacher) School Counseling and
- M.Ed. Track III College Counseling - GRE (Verbal and Quantitative) or Miller Analogies Test

The Admissions Committee takes into account factors such as test scores, undergraduate Grade-point-average, and letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant’s readiness for graduate study in making admissions decisions. Members of under represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Doctoral Degree ProgramsPh.D. in Psychology

The Department offers the Ph.D. in psychology in five emphasis areas: clinical, counseling, general-experimental, school, and industrial/organizational psychology. These doctoral emphasis areas are designed to ensure that students receive strong preparation in the research and theoretical literature of psychology as an experimental behavioral science.

Students are admitted to one of these programs after completing a master's degree in psychology as described in the section on master's degrees. Students who apply to a doctoral program and have not completed such a master's degree must do so at USM en route toward their doctorate. As stated in the Master's Degree program section, completion of a Master's Degree does not guarantee admission to one of the doctoral programs. Admission to a doctoral program requires completion of the Master's Degree AND approval by the program faculty and the department chair. Applicants are judged on the basis of prior academic record, GRE scores (Verbal and Quantitative), three letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study, and evidence of creative scholarship. Applicants are expected to have completed appropriate undergraduate foundation courses in psychology (e.g., statistics, experimental, and history and systems). A student may be invited to come to campus for a personal interview as part of the application process. The department typically receives applications from a larger number of qualified applicants than it can enroll. Prospective students should specify their intended emphasis area at time of application. Brochures describing each of these are available from the department. New students are normally admitted only in September. Applications received by February 15 will receive a full review. All students interested in applying for admission to the program are encouraged to contact the department prior to submitting their applications.

The Department of Psychology values diversity, and members of under-represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Additionally, while participation in on-campus admissions seminars and interviews is highly recommended for applicants who enter the final selection pool, alternative arrangements may be requested through the Director of Training for those individuals who are unable to travel to Hattiesburg.

Master’s Programs

Master of Education

The Master of Education degree program offers several options to the student. This program is open only to teachers already licensed or who are eligible for a Standard “A” level license in Special Education or another area of education. The candidate may specialize in a specific area or may elect to combine general special education areas. In general, each program will include six (6) semester hours in Educational Research and Foundations (REF 601, 607), cognate hours, and area course requirements to total a minimum of thirty (30) semester hours (18 hours must be at the 600 level or higher). A thirty-six (36) hour minimum is required of teachers not licensed in special education and desiring licensure in mild/moderate disabilities (18 hours must be at the 600 level or higher). Teachers who have gained special education licensure through alternative routes will be required to take a program of at least 36 hours and may need to take additional courses to fulfill deficiencies. Coursework in severe/profound disabilities is also available. In all areas of emphasis, an additional practicum may be required for teachers with little or no experience in working with the specific population of students being emphasized. Licensure resulting from the master’s degree is the responsibility of the student obtaining the degree. Clarification of licensure outcomes should be confirmed prior to beginning the program. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

Recommendation letters must be written by professionals in the field and address the readiness of the applicant for graduate work, with at least one letter being from a supervisor who has observed the applicant's teaching abilities. For admission to Master of Education, Specialist, and Doctoral programs, at least a Standard A teaching license or eligibility for the license is required. In addition to the above requirements, candidates for admission to Specialist and Doctoral programs must have an academic background in the area of their emphasis and a minimum of three years professionally appropriate teaching experience.

Regular admission to programs in Special Education follows the minimum standards of the Graduate School as outlined in this Bulletin. All other materials should be packaged together and sent to the Department of Special Education, Box 5115, Hattiesburg, MS 39406. Candidate applications will not be reviewed until all materials are received.

Licensure requirements and teacher education degree program requirements are similar but not identical. Graduate students will be responsible for determining the resulting licensure from a degree program. Students are strongly encouraged to confirm licensure resulting from a given program at the admissions stage.

Members of all underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

The College of Health and Human Sciences currently offers graduate degree programs at the Master of Public Health, Master of Science, Master of Social Work, Doctor of Education, and Doctor of Philosophy levels. Succinct descriptions of the degree programs within the School of Family and Consumer Sciences, the School of Human Performance and Recreation, the School of Social Work, and the Center for Community Health can be examined in the respective sections. The graduate programs are oriented toward meeting career objectives in the professional and educational markets and promoting advanced study in areas of interest to the students.

Requirements for Admission

Admission to the Graduate School for study in the College of Health and Human Sciences requires applicants to meet minimum Grade Point Average (GPA) requirement as specified by the Graduate School for master's or doctoral study and submit an acceptable score on the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). A minimum TOEFL score of 550 is required of all non-English speaking applicants.

Applicants must also meet all additional requirements for admission to a particular program of study. See the program description for additional admission criteria. The College of Health and Human Sciences adheres to the University policies with regard to admission of graduate students on a "conditional" basis. The University regulations concerning "conditional admissions" for regular or part-time students are stated in this Bulletin under "Admission Requirements and Procedures." Members of all under-represented groups are encouraged to apply.

Requirements for Graduation

In the College of Health and Human Sciences, the minimum requirements for the Master's and Doctoral degrees are determined by the individual graduate programs within the four units. Most programs offer both the thesis and non-thesis option, with the doctoral programs mandating a dissertation. All general Graduate School requirements outlined earlier in this Bulletin must be satisfied for students to progress successfully toward degrees. While it is the student's responsibility to know what the degree requirements are, the major professor may assist the student with requirements of the Graduate School and additional requirements of the department or school. Comprehensive exams are required for graduate degrees. The specific degree program will determine whether the exam will be written or oral or both. Consult the specific degree programs for their requirements.

Interdisciplinary Minor in Gerontology

The School of Family and Consumer Sciences offers the Master of Science degree in Early Intervention, Family and Consumer Studies, Human Nutrition, Institution Management, and Marriage and Family Therapy, and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Nutrition and Food Systems. These graduate programs are oriented toward meeting career objectives in the areas administered by the School and in meeting the interests and personal goals of the student. All majors offer flexibility in areas so that students can meet specific career goals or specialize in areas of interest to them. The School also participates in the Interdisciplinary Minor in Gerontology.

Requirements for Admission (Master's)

Regular admission to the Graduate School for study in the School of Family and Consumer Sciences requires a grade point average (GPA) of at least 2.75 and submission of test scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). In addition to meeting the Graduate School criteria for regular admission, applicants must submit three letters of recommendation from professionals familiar with the applicant's work and qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study; at least one of those letters must be from a person not associated with the School/University. The letters of recommendation should offer clear support for the applicant's ability and potential for success in the program and should be sent to the School. Performance in specific courses related to the desired major will also be evaluated. Graduate work in the major and minor fields of specialization must be preceded by course work sufficient to satisfy undergraduate requirements or enough related work to indicate the student's ability to do graduate work in the major and minor fields. Students may correct academic deficiencies by taking and/or auditing recommended undergraduate courses. Members of all under-represented groups are encouraged to apply.

Requirements for Graduation

In the School of Family and Consumer Sciences, the minimum requirement for a master's degree is thirty-three semester hours (18 hours of 600 level or higher). Most majors offer thesis and non-thesis options; the requirements for these options differ. All students will take oral comprehensive examinations. Non-thesis students will take written comprehensive exams. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

Interdisciplinary Minor in Gerontology

The School of Family and Consumer Sciences participates in the Interdisciplinary Minor in Gerontology offered by the College of Health and Human Sciences. A designated faculty adviser in the School assists interested students in completing the requirements for that minor. Specific requirements and courses available for the minor can be found on pages 98-99 of this Bulletin.

Master of Science in Early Intervention

The Master of Science degree in Early Intervention is an interdisciplinary program offered jointly by the School of Family and Consumer Sciences and the Department of Special Education. The program requires a minimum of 36 semester hours (with 18 hours of 600 level or higher) and is designed to prepare students for positions in state and community-based systems serving infants and toddlers (ages birth through two years) with disabilities. Students entering this program are expected to have an undergraduate background in related coursework, including the prerequisite courses SPE 400/500 and CD 451/551 or an approved equivalent. Those prerequisites do not count toward the 36 semester hours required for the master's degree. This degree program does not lead to teacher certification or licensure in Mississippi.

Applicants for the Master of Science degree in Early Intervention must submit, in addition to other School admission requirements noted earlier, a letter of intent which contains a clear statement of professional goals and philosophy of professionalism.

Master of Science in Family and Consumer Studies

Students seeking admission to this degree program must meet all admission criteria for the School, but should, in addition, have a minimum GPA of 3.25 (on a 4.0 scale) on the last 64 hours of undergraduate study to qualify for regular admission. The basic core covers all aspects of Family and Consumer Sciences. The flexibility of course requirements allows students to choose additional course work concentrations in child development, family relations, family economics and management, or family and consumer sciences education. Prior to taking written and oral comprehensive examinations, students must remove all grades of "I" (Incomplete) from their records.

Child Development. Courses focus on the developmental stages of the child and family within the context of their environment. Developmental and contextual theories help explain the social and non-social influences and interactions of events, systems, and beliefs on the child and family. Through practicum experiences, students apply their knowledge while working in child care and development settings. The thorough research-based developmental foundation prepares graduates to assist policy makers in assessing the intended and unintended consequences of policy on children and families. Graduates prepare for careers as child care teachers or administrators within private, community, religious, agency, and educational settings. Graduates also qualify for positions as child development specialists in such settings as the Cooperative Extension Service, mental health agencies, and community colleges.

Family Relations. Course selections concentrating in family relations provide a foundation in family systems theory and family life-cycle development theory. Specific areas of study include interactions among individuals, groups, and societal forces and the impact of these relationships within and outside the context of the family and across the life span. Practica in Family and Consumer Studies allow students opportunities to relate theory to practice as they work with all types and structures of families in prevention and in family life education. Evaluation of interventions and strategies provides a solid research component preparing students to work in the public policy arena. Graduates prepare for human service positions within community, agency, religious, educational, and medical settings. Graduates find positions as family life educators or family specialists within parent-child centers, teen parenting programs, juvenile courts, welfare programs, elderly day care programs, family abuse shelters, community colleges, and the Cooperative Extension Services.

Family Economics and Management. Graduates specializing in family economics and management qualify for consumer-related positions in business, industry, and government, including financial institutions, retail stores, marketing companies, utility companies, manufacturers, publishers, the Cooperative Extension Service, and similar agencies. Course work for this specialization includes study of the socioeconomic problems of families, consumer economics, and financial problems of individuals and families.

Family and Consumer Sciences Education. Students may continue their development in the teaching profession by specializing in Family and Consumer Sciences Education. Course work focuses on program planning, implementation, family life education, supervision, evaluation, methods and materials, and information technology. These course selections provide professional growth and development primarily for persons employed in the public schools or community colleges or with the Cooperative Extension Service.

Admission to the graduate program in Family and Consumer Sciences Education is contingent upon completion of lower-level program requirements. Teacher certification and completion of graduate degree requirements are separate procedures. Students entering the Family and Consumer Sciences Education graduate program seeking AA-level Mississippi teaching licensure must meet all A-level requirements prior to pursuing the master’s degree in Family and Consumer Sciences Education as a route to AA-level licensure. Students intending to pursue licensure in states other than Mississippi are advised to determine licensure requirements of those states and to work with an adviser to see that those requirements are met. Applicants are encouraged to obtain a minimum of one year’s teaching experience prior to pursuing the advanced degree.

For students seeking licensure for Occupational Programs in Family and Consumer Sciences Education, FCS 612 (6 hours) and FCS 509 are required. FCS 612 may not be used to fulfill master’s degree requirements.

Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy

The Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy is an accredited program by the Commission on Accreditation for Marriage and Family Therapy Education of the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy. The two-year program of study combines academic course work with supervised clinical experiences involving couples, individuals, and families. The program is designed to focus on the integration of theory, research, and clinical practice throughout family life span development. The contextual and ecological aspects of systemic family treatment are emphasized. The program consists of (1) the conceptual study of the family dynamics, family systems and subsystems, communication processes, and developmental family life cycle changes; (2) the application of diagnosis/assessment and treatment process utilizing the specific techniques associated with the major models of system change; (3) the study of human development in the context of the interface of interpersonal, intrapersonal, and intergenerational issues, intimacy and gender issues, and ethnic minority issues; (4) instruction related to professional socialization, legal and ethical considerations; (5) the application of research methodology and data analysis to the field of marriage and family therapy; and (6) supervised clinical practice which consists of a minimum of 500 face-to-face contact hours with clients (conducted over a period of one calendar year). Due to the professional nature of the Marriage and Family Therapy program, student performance is evaluated at the following major transition points: (1) entry into the clinical component of the program, and (2) advancement through each step of a four level Practicum Program. Movement through each transition point requires an endorsement by a majority of the Marriage and Family Therapy faculty. Graduates of the program are prepared to fill family therapy leadership roles in both public and private human services agencies, public and private psychiatric hospitals, and in mental health services to industry.

In addition to requirements for admission to the School, the Marriage and Family Therapy Program requires a personal interview with the program director and the director of training, and emotional stability and maturity, as evidenced through at least three letters of recommendation from previous professors or employers. Students wishing to apply to the Marriage and Family Therapy program may turn in their application at any time prior to March 1. Interviews will begin the first week in March to select the 12 students to be admitted to the program.

The School of Human Performance and Recreation offers the Master of Science, the Doctor of Education, and the Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Program development is oriented toward supply and demand in the professional job market and academic disciplinary definition; flexibility of program requirements allows for academic fulfillment of individual career interests.

Graduate Degree Programs

The following degree programs are available within the School of Human Performance and Recreation: Master of Science degree in Human Performance, Master of Science in Recreation, Master of Science in Sport Administration, Doctor of Philosophy in Human Performance, and Doctor of Education in Human Performance.

Emphases within the Human Performance master degree program include: Exercise Science, and Physical Education. The Human Performance Ph.D. degree program includes two distinct emphases: Administration and Teaching, and Exercise Physiology. The Administration and Teaching emphasis (Ph.D./Ed.D.) is accredited as an Advanced NCATE/NASPE program.

The Ed.D. degree program in Human Performance is designed for those interested in pursuing the Administration and Teaching emphasis with specialization in physical education. The Physical Education emphasis (masters) program is accredited by the National Association of Physical Education and Sport/National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NASPE/NCATE).

The Master of Science degrees require a minimum of 36 semester hours beyond the bachelor's degree (with 18 hours of 600 level or higher). Some emphasis areas may require greater minimum hours beyond the bachelor's degree. The Doctor of Education and Doctor of Philosophy degrees require a minimum of sixty (60) semester hours beyond the master's degree, including the dissertation.

Admission Standards

Admission to Human Performance and Recreation degree programs is selective. Members of all under represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Regular admission is contingent on having graduated from a college or university with accreditation from appropriate, recognized national-level accrediting agencies. Admission to the program is contingent upon an applicant's academic background, work experience, demonstrated leadership, and communication skills meeting the challenging demands of graduate programs in the fields of sport administration, human performance, or recreation. The School of Human Performance and Recreation adheres to the University policies with regard to admission of graduate students on a "conditional" basis. In evaluating applications for program admission, the HP&R program admission committees utilize the following criteria:

Academic record. A) A cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.75 or higher based on 4 point scale and calculated on the last 60 hours of the applicant's bachelor's degree program; B) bachelor level major/minor in an appropriately related field of study or evidence of foundational and professional coursework in major which are deemed necessary or prerequisite for graduate level course enrollment. Lack of evidence of work completed in foundational areas specific to particular program emphasis requirements will result in either a) prerequisite satisfaction prior to regular admission into specific programs or b) additional degree requirements identified as undergraduate deficiencies to be satisfied during the graduate degree program. Doctoral applicants must have achieved a GPA of 3.50 on all previous graduate work.

Graduate Record Examination. Applicants are required to submit the test results from the GRE as part of their application.

Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Applicants whose native language is not English must achieve a TOEFL of 550 or more.

Professional Experience. While professional level work experience is not required for admission to the masters level program, two to three years of relevant work responsibilities strengthens support for an applicant's admission, particularly at the doctoral level. Doctoral applicants should submit a resume which indicates professional experiences and accomplishments.

Letters of recommendation. Each applicant should request a minimum of three letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the school. Two of the letters should address the applicant's academic preparation and capabilities. At the doctoral level, at least one letter should address professional competence.

Academic Policies

Prior to completion of the 12th semester hour in the HPR graduate program (master's or doctoral), the student must request approval of an advisory committee through the Director's office. Upon approval of committee membership by the Graduate Dean, the student must submit a proposed plan of study for advisory committee approval. This plan should include all degree requirements and specification of planned electives and options within the degree program. The approved plan should be forwarded to the director's office prior to the student's enrollment in his/her 13th graduate hour.

Written and oral comprehensive examinations are required of all graduate students in the master's and doctoral programs. Requests to take these examinations must be made in the Director's office. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

The student's graduate advisory committee shall be responsible for administration and evaluation of the student's comprehensive examination. The chair of the advisory committee shall be responsible for reporting the results of the examination to the Director. At least three HP&R graduate faculty members within the degree emphasis area must comprise master's advisory committees. Doctoral advisory committees must include at least three eligible HP&R graduate faculty within the degree program area emphasized and two additional members. Chairs of all advisory committees must be eligible HP&R graduate faculty.

A student's thesis or dissertation committee may be comprised of members of his/her advisory committee. It is expected that at least three (3) HPR graduate faculty members from the advisory committee will be included on the student's thesis/dissertation committee. Additionally, an eligible HPR graduate faculty member must serve as chair of the thesis/dissertation committee. The student may request eligible members outside of the School to serve on the committee. All committee membership (advisory or thesis/dissertation) must be approved by the Graduate Dean. All committee membership requests are submitted to the Graduate Dean upon the approval of the Director of the School.

Doctoral Program Human Performance

The Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Education degrees offered through the School of Human Performance and Recreation are in Human Performance. The Doctor of Philosophy degree program includes emphases in Administration and Teaching and Exercise Physiology. The Doctor of Education degree program is designed to focus on administration and teaching in pedagogy and curriculum supervision only. In addition to the general admission and academic regulations and requirements of the University, doctoral requirements are:

1. The student must undergo a qualifying examination process conducted by the student's graduate advisory committee. Students should consult their program emphasis coordinator for required examination process.
2. Students who select the Exercise Physiology Emphasis must demonstrate successful completion of undergraduate or graduate work in the following areas: anatomy, physiology, kinesiology, biochemistry, and nutrition. Graduate level work comparable to that listed under the M.S. in Human Performance/Exercise Science emphasis in the Graduate Bulletin, or a graduate degree from a related discipline is required for full admission into this area within the doctoral program. A graduate degree and appropriate bachelors preparation in the physical education, athletic training, or an appropriately related field is required for consideration of admission in the administration and teaching phases of the doctoral programs.
3. Programs of study, including all course requirements, independent research or field-based projects, and additional requirements specified by the University for proficiency in statistics, computer science and/or foreign language must be approved by each student's advisory committee. The general focus of dissertation research will be initially approved by the student's advisory committee. The specific nature and foci of the research must be approved by the student's dissertation committee.
4. The foreign language and statistics requirements for the doctoral degree may be fulfilled in several ways:
 - a. The Doctor of Education does not require foreign language proficiency. However, the student must establish proficiency in statistics or computer science either by examination or by completing a prescribed course sequence, the credit hours for which do not apply toward a degree.
 - b. The Doctor of Philosophy degree requires either (a) proficiency in two languages, or (b) proficiency in one language and in statistics or computer science depending on emphasis chosen, the hours for which do not apply toward the degree. Students preparing for advanced teacher licensure or who plan to seek careers in teacher preparation must complete the doctoral statistics proficiency requirements.
5. Upon the acceptance of the dissertation by the candidate's dissertation committee and at least four weeks prior to graduation, a final oral examination in defense of the candidate's dissertation will be administered by the student's dissertation committee.

Statistics requirements may be met by choosing nine hours of the following or by approval of the student's advisory committee.

Social workers provide social services to more people in Mississippi and across the United States than any other professional group. Social work professionals use a wide variety of empirically based methods to help individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities solve a broad range of problems. Social work students and graduates strive to enhance the quality of life for vulnerable populations by addressing issues of social justice, economics, and physical and mental well-being.

Social work professionals are employed in many human service areas, including:

| F Home Health | F Public Health |
| F Child Welfare | F School systems |
| F Mental Health | F Early Childhood |
| F Substance Abuse | F Youth Services |
| F Family Violence | F Armed Forces |
| F Vocational Rehabilitation | F Gerontology |
| F Public Welfare | F Hospitals |
| F Corrections and Court Systems | F Employee Assistance |

The primary purpose of the School of Social Work is to provide professional social work education to undergraduate and graduate students. The social work profession recognizes the Bachelor Degree as the first practice degree preparing students for entry level generalist social work practice. The Master’s Degree in social work prepares students for advanced generalist practice.

Interdisciplinary Minor in Gerontology

The School of Social Work participates in the Interdisciplinary Minor offered by the College of Health and Human Sciences. A designated faculty adviser in the School assists interested students in completing the requirements for that minor. Specific requirements and courses available for the minor can be found on page 98 of this Bulletin.

Master of Social Work

Accreditation

The Master's Program in the School of Social Work was initially accredited by the Council on Social Work Education in 1974 with the first class graduating in 1976. Since that time, the School has maintained full accreditation providing quality social work education in compliance with the Curriculum Policy Statement and the Evaluative Standards of the Council on Social Work Education.

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the School of Social Work are selected and admitted without discrimination on the basis of age, gender, race, religion, color, creed, ethnic or national origin, disability, political or sexual orientation. Students are admitted to the MSW Program once a year (Fall Semester). All admission requirements must be completed by April 1 of the year prior to the fall semester the student plans to enroll. The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required by the University for admission to the Graduate School. Applicants should schedule the exam so as to allow sufficient time for submission of exam scores by the application deadline. Call 1-800-GRE-CALL for details.

Students, full-time or part-time, are evaluated on the basis of the following criteria: a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university; a minimum of 12 semester hours of Liberal Arts coursework; the cumulative grade point average and the GPA on the last 60 hours (successful applicants have had a GPA of 2.75 or above); the Graduate Record Examination Score; academic background; two letters of reference; a written personal statement from the applicant; and a written response to a case situation. All of these factors are evaluated by the Admissions Committee. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the school.

Program on Full-Time Basis

First year students must begin their work in the fall semester. Students are not admitted any other time. Full-time first year students will be enrolled in classroom courses and in concurrent field instruction (internship) in each semester of the first year. In Year II during the fall semester, students will take classroom courses only and in the spring semester will be placed in an advanced field practicum for four days each week. Two classroom courses will be taken on each Friday of the spring semester concurrently with the advanced field practicum. A minimum of sixty (60) credit hours is required for graduation.

Program on Part-Time Basis

The School, in keeping with admissions requirements, offers a part-time program in which the MSW degree can be obtained in three years. Part-time students are required to take nine (9) hours each semester during the first year. The part-time program is designed primarily for employed practitioners. A part-time program is also offered at the Gulf Park Campus, Long Beach, Mississippi.

Credit by Examination

It is possible for students who meet admission requirements and hold a BSW from an accredited undergraduate social work program to receive credit for a maximum of twelve (12) hours of first year MSW courses (SWK 601, SWK 605, SWK 617, and SWK 634) through proving mastery of the material offered in those courses. Mastery of the material will be determined by written examinations. These examinations will be administered in the first two weeks of each semester.

Students who wish credit by examination must meet the following requirements: hold an undergraduate social work degree from a CSWE accredited program with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better, have a grade of B or better in the related course at the undergraduate level, and pass an examination for each course challenged.

Conditional Status

The School adheres to the University policies with regard to admission of graduate students on a "conditional" basis. The University regulations concerning "conditional admissions" for regular or part-time students are stated in this Bulletin under "Admissions Requirements and Procedures."

Requisites for the MSW Degree

A minimum of sixty (60) credit hours is required to earn the MSW Degree. All required courses must be successfully completed.

Students must have attained or acquired while in the program, specific Liberal Arts content as prerequisites to the graduate social work curriculum. For specific information regarding Liberal Arts requirements, please contact the School.

Students may earn a grade of C in no more than two courses, and may not repeat more than one course.

Students must have a cumulative grade average of 3.0 and a grade of “B” or better in each field practicum. Also, in compliance with University graduation requirements, students are required to pass a written comprehensive examination to earn the MSW Degree.

Student Advisement

Advisement is an essential component of the MSW Program. Each student admitted to the program will be assigned an adviser. The purpose of advisement is to provide counsel, guidance and support to students in their efforts to achieve their educational goals. Advisers will assist students in planning a program of study toward the MSW degree, approve their schedule each semester, provide counsel and assist with the preparation of their application for degree. When requested or required, advisers also help students resolve personal problems that affect the attainment of their educational goals.

The Center for Community Health was created as an organizational focus for expanded activities in community health within the College of Health and Human Sciences. The Center offers the Master of Public Health (MPH) degree, which is accredited by the Council on Education for Public Health, and the MPH/MBA dual degree in conjunction with the College of Business Administration. Emphasis areas include Health Education, Health Policy and Administration, Occupational and Environmental Health, and Public Health Nutrition. Faculty and Staff are involved in interdisciplinary research and demonstration activities in rural health policy, community health programs, impact studies, managed care, healthcare leadership programs, access to health care for vulnerable populations, disease prevention and health promotion, and occupational health and safety.

Application for admission to the MPH program is made through the Graduate School of the University and through the Center for Community Health. In addition to the application to the Graduate School, applicants must submit to the Center a separate application form, written essay, and two letters of recommendation from references qualified to assess academic potential. Students interested in the MPH/MBA program also must apply for admission to the College of Business Administration.

Applicants also must submit one copy of official transcripts of all undergraduate and previous graduate work, except that completed at USM, and scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). The Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) is required for admission to the MPH/MBA program and will be accepted in lieu of the GRE for applicants to the dual degree program.

Admission to the Master of Public Health program is based on an objective evaluation of the candidate's undergraduate GPA, performance on the verbal and quantitative sections of the GRE, writing skills demonstrated in the written essay, and two reference letters from references qualified to assess academic potential. The letters should be sent to the Center. International applicants must achieve a minimum TOEFL score of 550, in addition to the above criteria. All application materials must be received by April 15 for fall admission and October 15 for spring admission. The applications are evaluated by an admissions committee consisting of faculty members in the Center. Only graduate students enrolled in other graduate programs are accepted as non-degree students. Members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.

Once admitted to the program, a student must maintain a 3.00 GPA to remain in good standing. A student receiving grades of "C" or below in two courses will be dismissed from the program.

Written comprehensive exams are required of all MPH students at the end of the program. Oral exams may be scheduled if indicated. Comprehensive exams are offered at scheduled times at the end of fall and spring semesters and may be taken with approval of the student's adviser and the Graduate Coordinator.

All general Graduate School requirements outlined in this Bulletin must be satisfied for students to progress successfully toward degrees. The student is responsible for meeting all requirements.

In February 1991, the Center for International Education and the Division of Lifelong Learning were combined to form the College of International and Continuing Education. In September 1998, the academic Department of Geography and Planning was moved from Liberal Arts into the College, and a Department of Economic Development was established to house a MS program in Economic Development and a Ph.D. program in International Development. The College is an administrative entity under the Office of the Provost, and operationally divided into the two academic areas of economic development and geography and planning. The Center for International Education and Continuing Education and Distance Learning are also located in the college.

The mission of the College of International and Continuing Education is fourfold. First, to prepare individuals for the opportunity of entering the work place in the professional and applied academic fields of economic development, international development, and geography. Second, to serve as liaison between the University's academic programs and the community at large through continuing education. Third, to coordinate international admissions and student services, and administer the University's extensive Study Abroad program. And fourth, to provide intensive English instruction for international students.

The ISA provides counseling on immigration regulations, personal matters, culture shock and adjustment, as well as some academic counseling in conjunction with the various departments. The Office processes all international applications, evaluates foreign academic credentials and issues the appropriate immigration documents for the non-immigrant foreign student. Multi-cultural programming for the international students and the community is also coordinated by the ISA.

The ISA Office disseminates USM information to foreign schools, U.S. embassies and consulates abroad, and non-profit international organizations such as the Institute for International Education.

This office also provides information to and immigration documents for research scholars invited by various USM departments to participate in limited research opportunities.

For further information, write to the Director of the Office of International Student Affairs at the above address.

The University enrolls graduate students from outside the United States. Assistance in academic and non-academic matters before and during the international student's stay at the University is provided by the Office of International Student Affairs.

USM Continuing Education functions to complement The University of Southern Mississippi's overall mission of teaching, research and service. By serving as liaison between the University and the community at large, the Department extends access to the educational programs of the institution through multiple delivery systems, to individuals at various stages of their lives and careers for intellectual, professional, social and cultural advancement.

Continuing Education acts in partnership with the academic colleges to link faculty expertise and resources with the needs of the University's clients and constituencies. In this role, Continuing Education serves as an agent for opportunity, innovation and quality.

The Department of Continuing Education and Distance Learning accomplishes its mission by providing educational opportunities in settings and formats that broaden the University's traditional modes of delivery.

Credit and Distance Learning: The Office of Credit Programming and Distance Education has the responsibility of coordinating and administering all credit intensive, weekend, intersession and extension courses. Included, too, are courses available on the Internet and select courses using compressed interactive video. Courses offered through this office are the result of collaborative relationships with the University's academic departments. In addition, academic courses may be arranged in a format and location to meet the specific needs of governmental, business, industrial and educational groups.

All students taking graduate courses must submit an application to the Graduate School. Application forms are available in the Graduate School, McCain Library, room 205.

Noncredit: Noncredit programming maintains responsibility for a diversity of programming which serves as liaison between the University and the community. This office coordinates and administers the logistical details for all noncredit conferences, institutes, workshops, clinics, camps, short courses and special training programs sponsored through the University. The office also provides convention and annual meeting coordination assistance to professional associations, fraternal organizations and other education groups. A Listener's License Program is available which enables individuals to utilize University resources by observation within the academic class setting on a non participating basis. The Continuing Education Unit (CEU), also offered through Noncredit Programming, is a nationally recognized unit of measure for non-credit continuing education programs. It is designed to document learning experiences which are valid in their own right, but differ from experiences for which academic credits are traditionally awarded.

Independent Study: Through independent study, a student may earn up to thirty-three hours of undergraduate university credit or one complete unit of high school credit. A complete high school curriculum and a wide variety of university-level course offerings are available.

Independent study allows the student to earn credit through the advantages of home study. These courses are particularly suited to the needs of the student who is unable to attend the University on a regular schedule.

Institute for Learning in Retirement: The Institute for Learning in Retirement is an association of active women and men, 50 years of age or older, who seek to explore stimulating learning experiences while developing new friendships.

In the world of change and complexity, the Institute brings insight and perspective to interested – and interesting – adults who wish to pursue activities of the mind in an informal and supportive environment.

The Institute's program recognizes that a growing number of adults are adventuresome, active and intellectually curious. The cornerstone is peer-learning and shared responsibility. The strength of the program is that it is self-directed and run for and by the members. It draws on members' talents and experiences as instructors, facilitators and leaders.

Associate Graduate Faculty*

The School of Library and Information Science offers a course of study leading to a Master of Library and Information Science degree. Since the first master's degree in library science was awarded in 1965, the program has continued to grow and develop into a truly comprehensive instructional program for all students who plan to become professional librarians in public, school, academic, or special libraries. For the general University graduate student, the School offers a variety of course offerings for acquiring skill in the scholarly use of library resources as research tools. Finally, the School performs a vital role in the continuing development and expansion of library services at all levels in the State of Mississippi as well as providing continuing education for practicing librarians.

The graduate curriculum in library and information science provides instruction in the following areas of librarianship: information science; reference; cataloging and classification; selection and acquisition; administration; bibliography; non-print media; history of the book, libraries, printing and publishing; and library programs for children and youth.

Providing prospective librarians with professional knowledge and skills for effective library service, however, is not the only objective of the School. The faculty believes that professional education should also be concerned with fostering those attitudes and understandings which will help students develop an appreciation of the changing role of the library in society. The library profession will flourish only as students are prepared to participate intelligently in the process of relating library services to the larger social and cultural needs of contemporary society.

Accreditation

The Master of Library and Information Science degree is accredited by the American Library Association. The School is also an institutional member of the American Library Association, and the Association for Library and Information Science Education. The School is active in the Special Libraries Association, the Southeastern Library Association, the Mississippi Library Association, and the Society of Mississippi Archivists.

Academic Mission of the Master's Program in Library and Information Science

The mission of the program of the School of Library and Information Science is to prepare qualified individuals for professional roles in libraries and other information environments. Preparation of such individuals involves two fundamental elements: (1) providing candidates with the appropriate perspective and (2) preparing candidates with the necessary intellectual and technical abilities to serve in the field of library and information science. Construing librarianship broadly to include work of information professionals in all types of settings, the program of Library and Information Science has identified eight specific goals for the M.L.I.S. program:

Goals and Objectives of the Graduate Program of Education in Library and Information Science

Goal I.

To promote among Master's degree candidates in the School of Library and Information Science an awareness of freedom as the necessary condition for education and human communication generally, but especially for the proper operation of libraries and other information centers in a free and democratic society; and to foster in them a commitment to freedom.

As a result of this program candidates will:

- A. Communicate to others the concepts of the United States Constitution as it relates to freedom of speech, press and assembly, and discuss intelligently the various articles of the Library Bill of Rights.
- B. Identify situations in which the attempt to curtail people's freedom to read and view is being promoted directly or indirectly, by patrons or by professionals, within the context of libraries and information centers.
- C. Deal effectively and fairly with persons who seek to censor materials in libraries and information centers through selection practice on the part of professionals and/or complaints about what materials and/or services are available or unavailable.
- D. Select materials and choose services for a library or information center that, particularly within the domain of controversial social and/or moral issues, will provide a variety of viewpoints, thus fostering the people's right to read and think for themselves.
- E. Respond to patron inquiries and serve the public in a way that enhances, rather than restricts, freedom of inquiry, e.g. using a variety of sources when this is appropriate.

Goal II.

To cultivate in candidates a consciousness of the philosophy of librarianship and a basic understanding of the chief principles of information science; to enable them to think critically and reflectively, to analyze and to evaluate, and to communicate effectively.

As a result of this program candidates will:

- A. Identify problems in particular situations in libraries and information centers in light of the general principles of librarianship as well as the mission of the particular library or information center and demonstrate creativity and initiative in their solution.
- B. Determine what professional responsibility demands in particular situations, especially in the light of the basic principles of information science and librarianship.
- C. Select from various possibilities materials and services that are most appropriate in a particular community being served by a library or information center, being conscious of the people's right to know.
- D. Demonstrate the role of the library in the information process.
- E. Demonstrate the librarian's role as mediator in the communication process.
- F. Demonstrate a facility for oral and written communication.

Goal III.

To give candidates opportunities to know and appreciate the evolutionary development of libraries, of librarianship and of the various technologies of information transfer, as this has come about within various cultural and social contexts.

As a result to this program the candidates will:

- A. Develop an historical perspective and a sense of tradition in respect to their chosen profession, and have some knowledge of the history of the various information technologies.
- B. Become aware of the role that libraries and other information centers, as well as books and other communication media, have played in the development of human culture.
- C. Be conscious of new and contemporary developments in information transfer, and especially the ways in which these extend and/or supplement and supplant the more traditional means of human communication.
- D. Relate libraries and information centers creatively and meaningfully to salient trends in changing social environments so that those libraries and information centers may contribute to the positive enrichment and development of the human societies they serve.

Goal IV.

To enable candidates to perform skillfully and in a professional manner in libraries and other information centers, and be able to work effectively with the various publics of these same institutions.

As a result of this program candidates will:

- A. Apply methods commonly associated with scientific social research and analysis, and draw appropriate inferences from the results of such studies to identify the salient characteristics of the communities served by the library or other information center.
- B. Select from available materials and services those that are appropriate for a particular community within the limits of financial capability and the goals of the institution.
- C. Organize materials and services so that they may be readily accessible to the public served by a library or information center.

Goal V.

To introduce candidates to management as it is, or ought to be, accomplished in libraries and information centers.

As a result of this program candidates will:

- A. Evaluate and discuss contemporary management theories, particularly as these are relevant for the management of libraries and information centers.
- B. Implement and discuss the elements of management theory, including goal setting, collection management, program planning, implementation, and evaluation.

- A. Participate in professional organizations concerned with library and information work.
- B. Explain how participation in professional organizations and publications advance the principles of librarianship.
- C. Explain the value of continuing education and other professional development activities to librarians.

Goal VII.

To introduce master's degree candidates to theoretical and applied professional research in all areas of librarianship: to develop cognizance of the role of scientific research in building a theoretical and practical knowledge base; and to provide an opportunity for each student to conduct original research.

As a result of this program candidates will:

- A. Explain the role of scientific research and of a theoretical knowledge base in librarianship.
- B. Evaluate reports of theoretical and applied research.
- C. Identify research problems/situations and appropriate methodologies and data gathering techniques.

General Requirements for Admission to the Master's Degrees

- (A) Admission decisions are based on a balancing of a variety of factors. These include scores on the verbal, quantitative, and analytical portions of the Graduate Record Examination's General Test and undergraduate grade point average, both overall and in criminal justice and evidence of related field training and work experience. In addition, applicants are to submit for consideration three letters of recommendation from members of their undergraduate faculty and to have such faculty members forward examples of written work which they are able to identify as original work by the applicant submitted in their courses. The letters should be sent to the department.
- (B) Applicants granted regular admission who have an undergraduate major in Criminal Justice, including non-degree graduate students, must have achieved a grade point average of 3.0 overall and in their criminal justice courses.
- (C) Applicants may be granted conditional admission in cases where other than grade point averages indicate. In these cases the department may, at its discretion, grant conditional admission to undergraduate criminal justice majors and non-degree graduate students in criminal justice with a GPA of less than 3.0 but more than 2.75 overall and in criminal justice courses.

In addition to the Graduate School criteria for regular admission, students whose native language is not English must score at least 550 on the TOEFL Examination. The department presumes that applicants who have fulfilled these requirements possess an adequate knowledge of English. If, upon their arrival at the University it is determined that they do not possess an adequate command of English, the department reserves the right to require appropriate remedial courses.

Members of all under-represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

The Department of Philosophy and Religion offers a course of study leading to the Master of Arts degree with a major in Philosophy, and a graduate minor in either Philosophy or Religion.

Master's Degree Program

Requirements for Regular Admission to the Master's Program

In evaluating applications, the department utilizes the following criteria: (a) Submission of scores from the Graduate Record Examination, (b) Undergraduate Record, and (c) three letters of recommendation. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department. Generally, applicants have above a 3.0 on their grade point average. The department considers the trends of the grades and specifically the grades in philosophy. Applicants are encouraged (but not required) to submit a writing sample.

In addition to the criteria for regular admission, students whose native language is not English must also score at least 550 on the TOEFL examination. The department presumes that applicants who have fulfilled these requirements possess an adequate knowledge of English. If, upon the student's arrival at the university, it is determined that he or she does not possess an adequate command of English, the department reserves the right to require appropriate remedial courses.

Students determined to have deficiencies in their undergraduate program will be required to remedy the deficiencies.

Requirements for Conditional Admission to the Master's Program

In exceptional cases, students may be admitted conditionally. To remove Conditional Admission status, masters students must earn a 3.0 on the first nine (9) semester hours of course work numbered 500 or above or on all course work taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement.

Master's Degree Program

Requirements for Regular Admission to the Master's Program

The Department of Political Science utilizes the following criteria for evaluating applicants to the Master's program:

1. The department prefers that applicants to the program have an undergraduate degree in political science. However, the applications of students who have an undergraduate degree in another discipline and who have nine or more hours of undergraduate coursework in political science with an average on those courses of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) will be considered.
2. The cumulative undergraduate grade point average (GPA) from all institutions attended as well as trend of grades over the course of the undergraduate degree program is considered. The department looks especially at the final two years of an applicant's undergraduate program. An overall GPA of 3.0 during the final two years of undergraduate study is preferred.
3. Applicants must take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) before they can be admitted to the master's program. The department looks for applicants who have a good balance between the verbal and quantitative parts of the GRE.
4. Applicants must submit two letters of recommendation. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department.

Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences

Stephen E. Oshrin, Chair
Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5092
(601) 266-5216

Alexander, Berry, Carlin, Cloud, Muma, Oshrin, Saniga, Schaub, Teller, Terrio*

Associate Graduate Faculty

The Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences offers programs leading to the Master of Arts and the Master of Science degrees. Emphasis is possible in three principal areas: (1) speech-language pathology, (2) audiology, and (3) education of the deaf.

New students are accepted by the Department of Speech and Hearing Sciences for the master's program in Speech-Language Pathology, Audiology, or Education of the Deaf prior to each registration period. Students must have regular admission status to register for practicum courses.

Non-degree students are not permitted to register for courses in Speech and Hearing Sciences without permission.

Potential graduate students should refer to other sections of the Bulletin for information regarding admission requirements as set forth by the Graduate School. Regular admission to the master's programs is based upon the previous academic records, submission of scores on the Graduate Record Examinations, and two letters of recommendations. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department or school. The size of the graduate program is limited by accreditation standards and admission is made on a competitive basis. The average grade point average of successful students (on a 4.0 scale) has been 3.59 for the last two years of undergraduate study, with a range of 3.21-3.92.

Students who do not qualify for regular admission may be admitted on conditional status if space allows. Conditional students are required to take additional coursework for graduation. In addition, a student whose initial admission is on a conditional or non-degree basis may register for no more than one hour of clinical practicum during any semester of their graduate program. Conditional students whose grade point average is less than 3.0 after the first nine (9) hours or on all courses taken while meeting the nine (9) hour requirement will be dropped from the program.

A major in speech-language pathology at the master's level requires a minimum of fifty-four (54) semester hours, while a major in audiology at the master's level requires a minimum of forty-five (45) semester hours. The Master of Arts degree in speech-language pathology requires a foreign language proficiency thesis, four semester hours of clinical practicum, no less than twelve three-semester-hour courses, foreign language proficiency, and the successful completion of a comprehensive examination. The master's comprehensive examination is the National Examination in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology; the passing score for this year is 600. The Master of Science degree in speech-language pathology requires four semester hours of clinical practicum, no less than 15 three-semester-hour courses, and the successful completion of a comprehensive examination. The Master of Arts degree in audiology requires a thesis, three semester hours of clinical practicum, no less than nine three semester hour courses, foreign language proficiency, and the successful completion of a comprehensive examination. The Master of Science degree in audiology requires three semester hours of clinical practicum, no less than 11 three semester hour courses, and the successful completion of a comprehensive examination.

Master's Degree with Emphasis in Audiology

The master's degree with an emphasis in audiology is a clinical degree designed to meet the academic and practicum requirements for the Certificate of Clinical Competency in Audiology awarded by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. The following courses are required: SHS 528, 601, 621, 623, 625, 688, 694, 698 or 692, 701, 722, 723, 724, 726. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

Master's Degree with Emphasis in Education of the Deaf

The program leading to the master's degree with an emphasis in education of the deaf is individualized to the needs of the student. Specialization in education of the deaf may be pursued in a number of areas including pre-primary, elementary (grades 1-8), secondary, secondary special subject, or a specialty area. Selection of specialization areas is governed by the candidate's background, interests, and employment objectives. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

The master's degree program enables a student to qualify academically for a master's degree teaching certificate. However, some states may impose other requirements prior to an individual's obtaining compensation at the master's level. Mississippi requires a teacher to have two years of experience before being compensated at the master's degree level; thus a person holding a master's degree but with no teaching experience must be paid at the bachelor's level until two years' experience has been obtained.

Requirements differ from state to state and it is the responsibility of the student to be aware of these differences.

Master's Degree with Emphasis in Speech-Language Pathology

The master's degree with emphasis in speech-language pathology is a clinical degree designed to meet the academic and practicum requirements for the Certificate of Clinical Competence in Speech-Language Pathology awarded by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. The following courses are to be taken by candidates for the master's degree in this emphasis area: SHS 513, 516, 518, 519, 601, 642, 643, 644, 646, 648, 650, 687, 694, and/or 695, 702, 712, 716, 719. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

A student in speech-language pathology or audiology must complete practicum in three different settings. Off-campus sites must be approved by the faculty adviser, and students must have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 before beginning off-campus practicum.

Accreditation

The master's degree programs in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology are accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation, and the USM Speech and Hearing Clinic is accredited by the Professional Standards Board. Both accreditations are by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, and are recognized by the Council on Post-Secondary Accreditation and the U.S. Office of Education.

The master's degree program with emphasis in Education of the Deaf is certified by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). This certification is reciprocal among approximately 40 states.

Admission Requirements for International Students

In addition to meeting the requirements for admission stated in this Bulletin, international students are required to submit a TOEFL score of 560 and submission of scores from the GRE.

Women's Studies Program Minor

The Women's Studies Program offers an interdisciplinary minor to students in any USM graduate degree program. The minor develops the student's proficiency in a variety of feminist theories and research methodologies at an advanced level.

Requirements

- (1) a minimum 9 hours for the Masters-level minor, or a minimum of 12 hours for the doctoral minor,
- (2) WS 601, "Theories and Methods of Research in Women's Studies," OR, the Director of Women's Studies approval of previous coursework in Women's Studies as equivalent to WS 601.
- (3) the remaining hours fulfilled in electives from approved courses numbered 500 or above, and distributed across at least two disciplines in addition to the discipline of Women's Studies. These courses are:
 - (a) regularly-taught courses approved for the minor:
 - ENG 568, "British Women Writers"
 - ENG 578, "American Women Writers"
 - ENG 678, "Studies in Women Writers"
 - HIS 536, "Family & Society in Medieval & Early Modern Europe"
 - HIS 577, "Women in American Society"
 - PS 505, "Women and Politics"
 - SOC 515, "Sex Roles and Gendre in Society"
 - (b) WS 692, "Special Problems in Women's Studies"; and
 - (c) special topics courses in various disciplines which are being offered for one semester only, as approved by the Director.
- (4) a minimum 3.0 GPA in all courses counting toward the minor.

Since new courses may become available for Women's Studies credit in any given semester, the candidate should be advised by the Director of Women's Studies as well as by the candidate's major professor.

Interdisciplinary Minor in Gerontology:

The College of Nursing participates in the Interdisciplinary Gerontology Minor offered with the College of Health and Human Sciences. A designated faculty adviser in the College assists interested students in completing the requirements for that minor. Specific requirements and courses available for the minor can be found in the Health and Human Sciences section of this Bulletin.

Doctor of Philosophy Degree

The purpose of the doctor of philosophy degree in nursing is to prepare scholars with expertise in selected, substantive areas who will contribute to the science and practice of nursing through systematic inquiry and theory development. Graduates will be prepared to meet state, regional, and national needs for doctorally prepared faculty in schools of nursing and other leadership positions in health related organizations.

The College has a collaborative program with the University of Mississippi Medical Center School of Nursing. Each University grants its own degree, but there are common admission requirements and a common core of courses which may be taken on either campus. These units also cooperate with the College of Education and Psychology to offer the course work to support the M.Ed. and Ed.D. in Secondary Education with various science and mathematics specialization areas.

The College offers an interdisciplinary minor in Environmental Science. Interested students may obtain a listing of the available courses from the chair of their department or graduate committee.

The faculty of the College of Science and Technology have organized numerous specialized centers and institutes, several of which address interdisciplinary issues. Brief descriptions of the principal ones follow.

Center for Coal Product Research

David L. Wertz, Director
 (601) 266-4701

The Center for Coal Product Research (CCPR) was organized in 1985. It exists as a loose group of university scientists whose specialties range across the spectrum of coal science from microbiology to analytical chemistry. Coal product characterization research has been the constant theme in the Center. CCPR is now collaborating with scientists at several national laboratories and offers the X-ray characterizations as well as chromatographic and mass spectral analysis, environmental electron microscope analysis, surface area analysis, microbial beneficiations, and toxic metals studies. CCPR has been used effectively by the Mississippi Research Consortium (MRC) to secure U.S. Department of Energy funds for graduate traineeships.

Center for Macromolecular Photochemistry and Photophysics

David Creed, Coordinator
 (601) 266-4714

This Center was established in 1992 to promote closer cooperation and synergism amongst those faculty interested in the technologically important area of polymer photochemistry. The Center has mainly a coordinating function, particularly in such activities as inviting visiting speakers to the campus, continuing a program of in-house seminars and research discussions, promoting ties with industry, facilitating cooperative research projects, and purchasing and maintaining common research equipment. In 1995, the Center received funding from the National Science Foundation EPSCoR program for development activities including support of student research and visits by external seminar speakers and consultants. Faculty from the Departments of Chemistry and Biochemistry, Physics and Astronomy, and the School of Polymers and High Performance Materials currently participate in Center activities.

Center for Molecular and Cellular Biosciences

Gordon Cannon, Coordinator
(601) 266-4221

The Center is composed of scientists with expertise in the disciplines of biochemistry, microbiology, molecular biology and molecular genetics. The Center facilitates research in these areas by means of a weekly Journal Club, which reviews the current literature, and the Distinguished Scientists Seminar Series, which brings world-renowned researchers to the Hattiesburg campus. In addition, the Center provides a forum for interaction among graduate and undergraduate students working in the laboratories of the participating faculty. Faculty currently associated with the Center are members of the Department of Biological Sciences or the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry.

This research must be conducted and defended before the student's graduate committee, and the final thesis report accepted by the USM Graduate Reader and the USM Graduate School. The thesis, when completed, receives six (6) graduate hours. The thesis option requires 30 hours total: 12 hours of core courses, 6 hours of thesis, and 12 additional hours (18 hours must be at the 600 level or higher). Students who elect to prepare a thesis should enroll in ENT 691, ENT 697, and ENT 698. Students are strongly encouraged to publish their work in engineering technology journals.(30 hours)
 - (b) Project Outline: The project is also intended to be a scholarly piece of research. The project must be conducted, written up, and defended before the student's graduate committee. The project is worth 3 graduate hours. The project option requires 33 hours total: 12 hours of core courses, 3 hours of project, and 18 additional hours (18 hours must be at the 600 level or higher).  SC 730 Parallel Algorithms
 SC 740 Seminar (must be taken twice)

Other course requirements depend upon individual needs and are selected with the advice of the student's research director and doctoral committee.

Other Requirements

Students must meet the requirements of the Graduate School of the University of Southern Mississippi. They are required, additionally, to pass a comprehensive examination covering the core curriculum, to submit a formal prospectus (research proposal) that has been approved by the doctoral committee, and to present an acceptable copy of the dissertation to the doctoral committee at least fourteen (14) calendar days prior to the defense of the dissertation. This defense will take place at an advertised research seminar, open to members of the University community. (See Dissertation Timetable in front section of this Bulletin.)

The Comprehensive and Qualifying Examinations

To remain in good standing in the program each student, upon completion of the core curriculum, must take and pass a comprehensive examination. The examination, which is administered in the spring and fall of each year, consists of three sections covering the three corresponding areas of the core curriculum, and is prepared by a committee of scientific computing faculty. Students must register for the examination two months prior to the examination date and will have one, and only one, additional opportunity to pass the examination, retaking only those sections of the examination which they failed to pass at the first sitting.

The opportunity to try the examination a second time must be exercised no later than the corresponding semester in the year immediately following the first attempt. Students failing to pass all sections of the examination after the second try will be dismissed from the program.

The qualifying examination is prepared by each student's graduate committee and is designed to determine whether or not the student is qualified to embark on dissertation research.

Department of Biological Sciences

Frank R. Moore, Chair
Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5018
(601) 266-4748

G. Anderson, Barrow, Bartholomew*, Beckett, Bellepanni, Biesiot, Cotten, Curry, Ellender, Howell, Larsen, Matlack, Middlebrooks, Moore, Norris, Passmore*, Pessoney, Ross, Rosso, Santangelo, Scheetz, Shearer, Tornow, Walls, Wang*

Associate Graduate Faculty*

The Department of Biological Sciences offers graduate degrees with emphases in Environmental Biology, Marine Biology, Microbiology, and Molecular Biology. BSC courses cross-listed as MAR courses are generally taught at the University's Institute of Marine Sciences' Gulf Coast Research laboratory (GCRL), Department of Coastal Sciences (COA) at Ocean Springs, MS. COA faculty may function as a student's major professor.

Admission Requirements

Granting of regular admission to the Master of Science degree program or the Doctor of Philosophy degree program is based on several criteria, including but not limited to the following:

- 1) Undergraduate record (grade point average on undergraduate work in biological, chemical, and physical sciences). Regular admission to the Master's Degree Program requires a grade point average of 3.0 or higher on relevant undergraduate courses and a minimum 2.75 or higher on the last 60 hours of course work. Regular admission to the Doctoral Program requires a grade point average of 3.5 or more on all previous graduate work.
- 2) Submission of results from the General section of the Graduate Record Examination.
- 3) A writing sample (essay), stating research interests and career goals (required of both master's and doctoral applicants). The department will not begin its review of an application until this statement is provided. The statement is used in two ways in the admissions process. It provides a sample of the applicant's writing competency and communication skills, and it provides information concerning the compatibility of the applicant's interests with departmental research interests.
- 4) Letters of recommendation. At least two letters of recommendation are required from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study. Applicants should arrange to have these letters sent to the department. The department will not begin its review of an application until letters of recommendation are provided.

Because more qualified applicants are received than can be accepted, admission to the department's program is very selective.

Conditional admission to departmental programs is considered only for students who meet Graduate School standards for conditional admission and who are sponsored by a member of the faculty of the department. The sponsor must provide a written statement indicating willingness to serve as the applicant's major professor.

Applications for admission for the fall and spring semesters will be reviewed by February 15 and September 15, respectively. All applications received after these dates will be considered if space is available, or will be placed in consideration for the next term. Applications for teaching assistantships will be considered beginning March 15.

Master of Science Program

Program Requirements

A minimum of thirty (30) graduate hours with a 3.0 GPA is required for this degree (18 hours must be at the 600 level or higher). Students must meet the general requirements set forth by the Graduate School of The University of Southern Mississippi. The following are major additional requirements:

- 4) Establish a program of study by the end of the fourth semester of enrollment in the doctoral program.
- 5) Pass a comprehensive examination consisting of written and oral sections that is administered by the doctoral committee. The comprehensive examinations should be taken by the end of the third year (sixth semester) of enrollment in the doctoral program.

Master of Science Program in Computer Science

For the M.S. degree in Computer Science, a minimum of thirty-three (33) hours of graduate work is required. Of these hours at least 21 must be computer science courses (non-thesis/project) numbered 600 or above. In addition a student will complete either a thesis (6 hours) or a project (3 hours) in computer science. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

The master's program is designed to provide a fundamental understanding of theoretical and applied computer science which will allow the student to begin exploring special topics and state-of-the-art subjects. It will prepare a student for advanced applications, development, and research positions in industry or for doctoral level studies.

Admission Requirements

In addition to meeting the entrance requirements set forth by the Graduate School of the University of Southern Mississippi, the student must be admitted by the departmental admissions committee on a regular or conditional basis. Students must submit scores on the Graduate Record Examination and transcripts of all undergraduate work. During the past year, successful applicants have had a mean GPA of 3.45. Applicants are required to submit three letters of recommendation by professionals in computer/computational science qualified to assess the student's readiness for graduate study. Letters should be sent to the department. In addition, applicants are encouraged to submit additional information which documents their potential for doing graduate work in computer/computational science. This would include industrial work experience and training and graduate work already completed. Students with minor deficiencies may be granted conditional admission.

For students who do not come from an undergraduate program where the courses clearly equate with the USM courses, the graduate admissions committee will review a student's transcript and decide what, if any, deficiencies can be met with undergraduate courses. A student will not be granted regular admission to the computer/computational science graduate program until those deficiencies are met. See the general policies of the Graduate School for further requirements of conditional admission for students.

Credit will NOT be given toward the master's degree for any course taken to meet deficiencies, admission requirements, or for undergraduate prerequisite courses.

The student must select a three-person advisory committee. The chair of this committee must be from the Department of Computer Science and Statistics (one member may be from outside the Department of Computer Science and Statistics)

Program Requirements

- 1) Completion of prerequisites. A student applying for admission will normally have a B.S. degree from a computer science or closely-related program. Minimum coursework required for admission includes the equivalent of CSC 101, 102, 203, 204, 205, 306, 307, 308 and any three out of courses CSC 410 through CSC 415 (see the USM Undergraduate and Graduate Bulletins for course descriptions) and mathematics through integral calculus, basic probability, discrete math, and linear algebra.
- 2) Completion of CSC 513 if the student has not completed CSC 413.
- 3) Completion of 33 hours of graduate course work to include CSC 616, CSC 623, CSC 626, and three courses from among the following: CSC 620, CSC 624, CSC 632, CSC 633, and CSC 638. Students may substitute CSC 620 for CSC 616 if they have credit for the equivalent of CSC 415.
- 4) Satisfactory completion of a thesis (6 hours credit) or a project (3 hours credit).
- 5) Satisfactory completion of a final comprehensive examination.
- 6) A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

M.S. in Computer Science with an Emphasis in Computational Science

The department also awards an M.S. degree with an emphasis in computational science. A degree plan for this emphasis area must include a common core of courses taken from the departments of Computer Science and Statistics, Mathematics, and Physics. Details on the common core are specified in the computational science emphasis area listed under the School of Mathematical Sciences. Nine (9) additional hours of Computer Science courses must be taken.

The Department of Geology offers a program leading to the Master of Science degree in Geology. The curriculum is designed to provide both a thorough understanding of geology as preparation for employment as a professional geologist or for doctoral studies and to provide specialization in a selected area of research. The Department of Geology at The University of Southern Mississippi emphasizes both the importance of a field-based education and the application of new technologies to geologic investigations. The Department of Geology collaborates with the Center for Science and Mathematics Education in programs leading to the M.S., Ph.D., and Ed.D. with an emphasis in Earth and Environmental Education.

Admissions Requirements

Admission is based on grade point average (GPA), letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study (letters should be sent to the department), and submission of results on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). Both the overall GPA and a GPA calculated for courses (excluding special problems courses) in geology and other sciences, mathematics, computer science and statistics will be considered. Applicants who do not have degrees in geology will be considered for admission but will be required to remedy any deficiencies, including geology field camp.

compared to the courses required for the B.S. in Geology at The University of Southern Mississippi. Students who are not admitted as regular graduate students may be considered for conditional admission (minimum GPA requirements are in front section of this Bulletin).

Program Requirements

A minimum of thirty (30) graduate hours with a 3.0 GPA, including six (6) hours of thesis credit, is required. Eighteen (18) hours must be in courses numbered 600 or above. Entering students are required to take two (2) hours of seminar. The student must complete an original research project, submit and defend a thesis, and pass a final comprehensive examination. A thesis committee which supervises these activities is established when the student is formally admitted to degree candidacy.

If graduate students have not already taken the exam required to qualify as a Registered Professional Geologist in Mississippi or the equivalent exam for another state, they must take it as a requirement for the M.S. degree in Geology.

The Department of Mathematics offers the Master of Science degree with emphases in mathematics and computational science. It also offers, through the School of Mathematical Sciences, the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Scientific Computing with an emphasis in Computational Mathematics. For further information about this Ph.D. program, please see the School of Mathematical Sciences section of this Bulletin.

Admission Requirements

Regular admission to the M.S. programs in mathematics requires that the applicant satisfy the general admission and academic requirements for all M.S. programs at the University as set forth in this Bulletin. In addition, in evaluating applications, the admission committee utilizes these criteria:

- 1) The undergraduate record indicates that the applicant satisfies the present undergraduate requirements for a major in mathematics at the University of Southern Mississippi;
- 2) Applicants must include scores from the General Test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE);
- 3) The application includes three letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess an applicant's readiness for graduate study (letters should be sent to the department) and a current resume;
- 4) Applicants whose native language is not English must achieve a TOEFL score of 580 or more.

The department chair can recommend conditional admission for an applicant whose credentials strongly meet all regular admission requirements save one. This student must then meet all conditional admission requirements as set forth in this Bulletin as well as any additional requirements imposed by the chair.

Requirements Common to All Master of Science Emphases

Before completing one semester of graduate work, the student should select a three-person advisory committee from the graduate faculty. The student, with the help of his or her academic adviser, should prepare an "Application for Approval of Graduate Program" form. The adviser will distribute copies to the graduate faculty, the student's advisory committee, the department chair, the departmental file, and the applicant. Subsequent changes in the program must be approved by the department chair and all three committee members.

Each candidate for the master's degree will be expected to demonstrate mastery of subject matter on the Master's Comprehensive Examinations. These examinations consist of two parts: a written examination and an oral examination. The written examination's content is dependent on the program emphasis and thesis option. The oral examination may cover all course work, including courses taken as an undergraduate. These examinations must be successfully completed two weeks prior to graduation.

The student who desires to write a thesis must select a graduate faculty member who agrees to serve as thesis director. Prior to beginning the thesis, a student must submit (for approval to his or her advisory committee) a prospectus, the guidelines for which are available in the departmental office.

M.S. in MathematicsProgram Requirements

The student must enroll in the two-semester advanced calculus sequence at the graduate level at the beginning of the graduate program if the equivalent of this sequence was not included in the student's undergraduate preparation. Neither course can be used to satisfy any part of the minimum hour requirement for the master's degree, and a grade of B or above must be earned in each of the two courses.

The following minimal requirements must be included in the program:

- 1) 33 hours of graduate course work beyond the equivalent of a USM undergraduate degree in mathematics.
- 2) 21 hours of courses numbered above 600.
- 3) 18 hours of mathematics courses numbered above 600, which includes MAT 689 I and II (Mathematics Seminar I and II).
- 4) 3.0 GPA to graduate
- 5) Comprehensive Examination

NOTE: Subject to approval of the department chair and the student's advisory committee, an outside minor consisting of 9 semester hours may be used as a portion of the 33-hour program.

Courses offered by the department are grouped into seven areas. The student should select a suitable balance in at least three of these seven areas. The written exam will cover the content of two courses (selected by the advisory committee in consultation with the student) from each of the student's three areas of specialization. The student whose thesis prospectus has been approved need select only two areas of specialization (other than the one in which the thesis is written). The written exam will cover the content of two courses from each of these two areas. The oral examination will then consist primarily of a defense of the thesis.

Neither course can be used to satisfy any part of the minimum hour requirement for the master's degree, and a grade of B or above must be earned in each of the two courses. The student who has been awarded an assistantship must also include 6 hours of mathematics seminar in his or her program. These minimum requirements are as follows:

- 1) Core (27 hours) Please see the School of Mathematical Sciences section of this Bulletin.
- 2) MAT 689 I and II (Mathematics Seminar I and II) are required of those students who receive an assistantship.

Master of Science Program

The Master of Science in Medical Technology degree programs seek to provide the student with skills and knowledge for professional enhancement. Graduates of the programs may be candidates for positions as laboratory managers, education coordinators, hospital or college/university medical technology faculty members, researchers, departmental supervisors, etc. The program is structured to provide the student with an area of emphasis.

The Department of Medical Technology offers two programs leading to the Master's degree in Medical Technology. One program is for the individual who possesses certification as a medical technologist from a recognized national certifying agency. This certification is an entrance requirement.

The second program is for the individual who does not hold certification as a medical technologist from a recognized national certifying agency. This program includes a medical technology practicum that allows the individual to become eligible to take a national certification examination. Certification from a recognized national certifying agency is a mandatory exit requirement.

Admission Requirements

For both programs, in addition to meeting the general requirements of the Graduate School and University as stated in this Bulletin, the applicant must submit scores from the GRE and two letters of recommendation. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department or school. Students admitted will receive either regular or conditional admission, as described earlier in this Bulletin. Students admitted on conditional basis must make a grade point average of at least 3.00 the first semester on specific courses designated by the department faculty (specifically on the first nine (9) hours of course work numbered 500 or above or on all course work taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement). Regardless of previous college experience, if English is not the native language of any student, evidence of English proficiency must be provided prior to admission into the graduate program. The MTELP (Michigan Test of English Language Proficiency) requirement is "Proficiency II" and is preferred by the department. Alternatively a TOEFL of 550 may be accepted. In addition, a score of 4 ("functional language skills") must be earned on a fluency test administered by the English Language Institute. This fluency test is specifically designed to determine listening and speaking skills with respect to situations and language expected during the practicum phase of the program.

In order to receive maximum consideration, graduate applications for the Fall semester should be received by the department by April 15, and applications for the Spring semester should be received by November 1.

Program Requirements

A minimum of thirty (30) semester hours of course work, excluding hours awarded for thesis, is required for the thesis option. A minimum of thirty-six (36) semester hours of course work is required for the non-thesis option. In addition, individuals who do not hold certification at admission must complete a practicum of forty-seven (47) hours. A minimum of eighteen (18) semester hours must be in courses numbered 600 or above. The courses should interrelate and be directed toward an area of emphasis. An area of emphasis such as microbiology, chemistry, hematology, immunology, management, or education will be chosen by the student, and all course work designated and approved by the student's graduate committee during the first semester of the program. Students selecting the thesis option are required to write a thesis under the direction of a Medical Technology department faculty member on a subject approved by the student's graduate committee. The student's graduate committee is composed of a chair and two members recommended by the department chair and appointed by the Graduate Dean. Courses in which a student receives less than a "C" will not be counted toward the degree. A student may not have more than two practicum courses and two other courses with a grade of "C" or below. Upon completion of course work, all students must pass oral and written comprehensive examinations. Additionally, student selecting the thesis option must successfully present an oral defense of the master's thesis.

Non-major masters students must obtain permission of the instructor to register for MTC 500, 500L, 502, 502L, 504, 504L, 506, 506L. Registration for practicum level courses is limited as described in this Bulletin.

Doctor of Philosophy Program

Admissions Requirements

The school admits students only to the master's program because of the diversity of entering students' backgrounds. Demonstrated excellence is required in coursework and examinations before a student is allowed to enter the doctoral program. Admission of students with previous graduate coursework or master's degrees from other institutions will be considered on an individual basis.

Regular admission to advanced standing requires (1) obtaining a minimum GPA of 3.0 on the 26 hours of core courses; (2) obtaining a minimum GPA of 3.5 in at least 30 hours of graduates courses taken at USM including the core courses and research; and (3) passing all three sections of the written comprehensive examination. In addition, a student's transcript must show no more than two grades lower than a "B" in the first 26 hours of core courses. There is no option for conditional admission for advanced study.

Additional requirements for the Ph.D. degree dealing with residency, the research tools, the committee, the dissertation, the dissertation defense, application for candidacy and graduation are described elsewhere in this Bulletin.

Program Requirements

Specific details of the admission and program requirements are outlined in a separate Handbook provided by the School of Polymers and High Performance Materials.

Minimum course requirements for the doctorate are seventy-eight (78) semester hours not including research tools and dissertation. Fifty-four (54) semester hours are required beyond a master's degree in Polymer Science or a related area. Doctoral students must take all core courses (PSC 701, 702, 703, 710, 711, 712, 720, 721, 730, 740) as well as two 800-level courses that are offered. Graduate students must register for one hour of polymer science seminar (PSC 789) each semester that they are in residence. A 3.0 GPA is required for graduation.

Qualifying Examination

This examination is taken during the first week prior to the student's first semester of graduate work. It requires a minimum proficiency in organic and physical chemistry.

Comprehensive Examination

The written comprehensive examination is given once a year at the beginning of the summer term. This three-part examination covers the areas of organic, physical, and practical polymer science. A student who fails any part of the examination must retake and pass that part at the end of summer term. Only one additional attempt is allowed.

Dissertation Prospectus

Within 9 months of completing the written comprehensive examination, a written dissertation prospectus which includes an annotated bibliography must be approved by the student's committee. The prospectus summarizes the student's work accomplished to date and gives an outline of research objectives for the dissertation project.

Proposition Presentation and Oral Defense

Within 18 months of completing the comprehensive examination, the student must submit an independently conceived and developed written proposal dealing with an original proposition unrelated to his or her dissertation research. This proposal is then presented orally and defended before the faculty. Oral evaluation of the student's general knowledge of polymer science is carried out concomitant with his or her defense of the proposal.

The Center for Science and Mathematics Education, recognizing the national goal of improving the delivery of science instruction and the accompanying demand for individuals with advanced degrees in science education, provides programs for the Master of Science, Doctor of Philosophy, and Doctor of Education degrees in Science Education.

Master of Science Program

The program of study at the master's degree level is designed to increase the professional competency of science teachers and to provide the course work necessary to meet standards of teaching certification at this advanced level. The Master of Science Education degree is offered with an emphasis in biology, chemistry, earth and environmental sciences, or physics. The program outcomes expressed in terms of student learning include demonstration of (a) graduate-level mastery of knowledge in the student's selected emphasis area; (b) the ability to integrate content knowledge into curricular, instructional, and assessment strategies for students at different educational levels; (c) the ability to formulate, implement, and sustain changes in reforming science education to meet national standards at a school level.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general admission and academic requirements for all graduate programs as set forth in this Bulletin, regular admission to the Master's program in Science Education requires a bachelor's degree in any area of science (or combination of science and professional education), a minimum grade point average of 3.0 for undergraduate study, and a Class A teaching certification or eligibility for such certification. Applicants are required to present to the Center Director for consideration verbal and quantitative scores on the Graduate Record Examination, three letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study (letters should be sent to the center), and a one- to two-page statement of the applicant's teaching philosophy in the areas of knowledge to be addressed, teaching methodology, and assessment.

Students who fail to meet the criteria for regular admission may be considered for conditional admission if the Program Admissions Committee, Center Director, Dean of the College, and Dean of the Graduate School are satisfied that the applicant shows promise of successfully completing graduate degree requirements. Regular admission will be granted with the completion of nine (9) semester hours of USM graduate work (500 level or higher) with a minimum of a B average on all courses taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement, the removal of deficiencies, and a positive recommendation of the student's adviser.

Program Requirements

The Master's degree requires a minimum of thirty-four (34) semester hours of graduate work with a 3.0 GPA as specified below (18 hours must be 600 level or higher)

- (a) A minimum of twelve (12) semester hours in a science emphasis area—biology, chemistry, earth and environmental sciences, or physics.
- (b) Nine (9) semester hours in a related discipline.
- (c) Six (6) semester hours in professional education (REF 601 and REF 607 if seeking AA certification in the State of Mississippi).
- (d) Seven (7) semester hours in science education (including SME 601 and limiting hours of special problems to 3 semester hours).

By the end of the second semester, the student should arrange through the Center Director for the appointment of a three-member graduate committee by the Dean of the Graduate School. To graduate, students must complete an approved program of studies with a 3.0 grade point average, compile and submit a portfolio showing evidence of mastery of the program learning outcomes, and pass an oral comprehensive examination. The student's graduate committee will be responsible for monitoring the student's progress, administering the comprehensive examination, and determining if all criteria have been met for graduation.

Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Education Programs

The Center for Science and Mathematics Education offers programs leading to the Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Education degrees in Science Education with emphasis in biology, chemistry, computer science, earth and environmental sciences, mathematics, or physics.

Within the framework of the overall curriculum requirements, programs are planned to accommodate the professional goals of the individual graduate student. For students holding Class AA certification from the Mississippi State Department of Education, the doctoral program in each emphasis area can be planned to provide for Class AAAA advanced certification if desired. Graduates of the program are prepared as candidates for teaching positions at the secondary school, community college, and senior college levels as well as positions in curriculum supervision, curriculum development, educational research, and the informal delivery of education in their chosen discipline.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general admission and academic requirements for all graduate programs as set forth in this Bulletin, regular admission to the doctoral program in Science Education requires a master's degree, a Class AA teaching certificate in one of the emphasis areas if an advance in certification to Class AAAA is desired, three years of teaching experience at the secondary or college level, and a minimum GPA of 3.5 for all previous graduate work. Applicants are required to present for consideration verbal and quantitative scores on the Graduate Record Examination, three letters of recommendation, and a letter of intent expressing academic, professional, and research goals to the Center Director. Letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the center.

Initial admission to the program will be conditional for all students. Students are expected to possess proficiency at the undergraduate level in the chosen emphasis for advanced study. Students not proficient may be required to take additional undergraduate courses. Regular status will be granted with the completion of 12 semester hours of USM graduate courses numbered 600 level or higher with a 3.25 GPA, a positive recommendation of the Center Director, the removal of any deficiencies, and acceptable performance on the qualifying examination.

Program Requirements

The doctoral degree in science education requires a minimum of fifty-seven (57) semester hours of graduate work beyond the master's degree, excluding the hours for the dissertation and foreign language requirements, as specified below.

- (a) Twenty-four (24) semester hours in a content area with a minimum of 15 hours in an emphasis discipline.
- (b) Twenty-four (24) semester hours in science education including 3 semester hours of seminar, 3 semester hours of SME 691, with a maximum of 9 semester hours of SME 791 and a maximum of 3 semester hours of SME 792.
- (c) Nine (9) semester hours of electives to be chosen from science education, emphasis discipline, or related discipline and with a minimum of 3 hours in professional education

Additional requirements include demonstrated proficiency in educational statistics, proficiency in a foreign language if pursuing the Ph.D., and independent research culminating in an acceptable dissertation. The research may focus on a problem in the student's emphasis area that is related to the teaching/learning of the discipline or a more general educational research problem. The department requires a written qualifying examination. This examination is designed to assess both the student's fitness to pursue doctoral work and to provide diagnostic information to the student's committee in planning a program. The student's program will be directed by a five-member graduate committee consisting of two faculty members affiliated with the center for Science and Mathematics Education, one from the emphasis discipline, one from educational research, and one open for selection according to the student's research focus. The committee will approve the student's program plan and dissertation prospectus, and conduct the comprehensive examination, which is administered near the completion of the student's course work. Upon acceptance of the dissertation by the student's committee and at least four weeks prior to graduation, a final oral examination in defense of the candidate's dissertation will be administered. Furthermore, it is required that a report presenting the candidate's research be prepared and submitted to a refereed journal for publication.

The Institute of Marine Sciences offers a multidisciplinary graduate-level, research-oriented academic degree program. The Institute has three missions: research, education, and outreach. Research is marine-related, focused on all marine environments from the open ocean to coastal environments and from continental shelves to estuaries. Research areas are aquaculture, biodiversity and systematics, biological oceanography, chemical oceanography, coastal ecology, coastal oceanography, environmental fate and effects, fisheries science, geological oceanography, marine biology, marine chemistry, marine geology, marine sedimentology, numerical ocean modeling, science education, and physical oceanography.

Institute faculty are located on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and in Hattiesburg. Gulf Coast locations include the John C. Stennis Space Center, near Bay St. Louis, the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi, and the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs. Expertise in numerical modeling is provided by scientists in the Institute's Center for Ocean and Atmospheric Modeling (COAM). The Institute offers Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy programs in Coastal Sciences (through the Department of Coastal Sciences), Marine Science (through the Department of Marine Science) and Marine Biology (through the Department of Biological Sciences). Faculty in the Department of Geology, Department of Chemistry, Center for Science and Mathematics Education, and the Scientific Computing program are also associated with the Institute.

IMS Campuses

Gulf Coast Research Laboratory

The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory (GCRL), located in Ocean Springs, has offered summer courses in the marine sciences since 1947. GCRL has a three-fold mission of research, education, and service in the marine sciences. Scientific discipline areas encompass biology, chemistry, and geology of coastal and continental shelf waters. Over 160 researchers, technical and support personnel, and students work on this campus; research emphasis areas include aquatic animal health, marine aquaculture, aquatic biodiversity, coastal ecology, fate and effects of environmental pollutants, and fisheries science.

J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium

The state's window on the sea, the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium (MEC&A) is Mississippi's largest public aquarium. This facility, located in Biloxi, features 48 aquariums and a central 42,000-gallon Gulf of Mexico tank. Science education and a suite of hands-on marine education programs have earned the MEC&A an international, award-winning reputation.

Stennis Space Center

The Stennis Space Center (SSC) is home to more oceanographers than any other location in the world. Students and faculty have the opportunity to interact with more than 1,000 scientists, engineers, and technical personnel who work at this site located near Bay St. Louis, MS. Collaborations are possible with personnel at the Naval Research Laboratory, the Naval Oceanographic Office, the Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's National Data Buoy Center, the National Marine Fisheries Service, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Gulf of Mexico Program, the U.S. Geological Survey, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration laboratories, and other agencies.

IMS Academic Programs

The Department of Marine Science (MAR) graduate emphasis areas are biological marine science, physical marine science, geological marine science, and chemical marine science. The Department of Coastal Sciences (COA) offers specialized courses at the graduate level focused on research in the areas of aquaculture, coastal and marine fisheries, coastal geology, invertebrate zoology and biology, coastal ecology, parasitology, estuarine chemistry, toxicology, botany, applied molecular techniques, science education, and biodiversity and systematics. Undergraduates interested in preparing for graduate studies in Marine Science or Coastal Sciences should pursue a bachelor's degree program in their department of choice, developing a strong background in biology, chemistry, geology, physics, and mathematics through calculus. Students interested in the graduate Marine Biology program in the Department of Biological Sciences should review that section.

Over 27 upper-level courses in Coastal Sciences (COA), Marine Science (MAR), Biological Sciences (BSC), and Science and Mathematics Education (SME) are offered at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, mainly during the summer. The Institute and GCRL also cooperate with the Departments of Geology, Physics and Astronomy, and Chemistry and Biochemistry to provide state-of-the-art research and educational opportunities.

The Department of Marine Science offers both the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in Marine Science. Graduate level education and research programs are offered in four emphasis areas of marine science (biological, geological, chemical, and physical). These areas include numerical ocean modeling. The Marine Science faculty are drawn from its location at the Stennis Space Center (near Bay St. Louis), and from other departments in the College of Science and Technology (Hattiesburg). Scientists affiliated with the Naval Research Laboratory, Naval Oceanographic Office, National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, National Aeronautics and Space Administration and other agencies at the Stennis Space Center and elsewhere provide additional state-of-the-art research and educational opportunities in Marine Science.

The best preparation for students interested in pursuing a graduate degree in Marine Science would be to develop a strong working knowledge in calculus, applied mathematics, statistics, the basic sciences (biology, chemistry, geology, physics) and engineering. Experience with computers is highly recommended. We realize that not all students will have gained the ideal background for pursuing a M.S. or Ph.D. in Marine Science. Deficiencies will normally be made up during the student's first year.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general admission and academic requirements for all graduate programs as set forth in this Bulletin, regular admission to the Master's program in Marine Science requires successful completion of the Graduate Record Examination (verbal plus quantitative) and a high grade point average for the last two years of undergraduate study. Successful applicants usually score 500 or above on the verbal as well as the quantitative portions of the GRE and have grade point averages of 3.0 or above. Also required are three letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department. A letter of intent should also be sent to the department chair expressing personal academic, research, and career goals. This letter is used in two ways in the admission process. It provides a sample of the applicant's writing competency and communication skills, and provides information concerning the compatibility of the applicant's interests with departmental research interests. A minimum score of 560 is required on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) for applicants whose native language is other than English. Applicants who are not eligible for regular admission may be considered for conditional admission. Conditionally admitted students must maintain a 3.0 GPA for the first nine (9) hours of course work numbered 500 and above or on all course work taken while completing this nine (9) hour requirement. If this requirement is not met, the student is not allowed to remain in the program. Upon recommendation by the department chair and approval by the Graduate Dean, the conditionally admitted student may have his or her admission status changed to "regular admission." For students wishing to be considered for graduate assistantships for the academic year beginning in the fall semester, application materials should be received no later than March 1.

Program Requirements

A total of 34 hours of graduate level courses (18 hours of 600 level or higher) with a minimum GPA of 3.0 must be completed in order to fulfill the Master of Science degree requirements. All entering graduate students must complete the four core courses, generally by the end of their first year in residence. Students advance to candidacy for the M.S. degree by completing all the core courses with a grade of B or better, successfully passing the department qualifying examination (administered after the core courses are completed), and completing a thesis prospectus. A graduate student can accumulate no more than two Cs. Other program course requirements include six (6) hours of Thesis and at least one (1) hour of Seminar in Marine Science. The required courses account for 23 of the total 34 hours; the remaining 11 hours (courses numbered 600 and above) must be chosen by the student (after consultation with the student's adviser) from a list of elective courses approved by the department. More information on Marine Science degree requirements and additional course listings can be obtained by writing to the department chair.

Doctor of Philosophy Program

The Institute's Department of Marine Science offers a Doctor of Philosophy in Marine Science with specialization in a wide range of marine science fields, including biological, geological and physical oceanography, and marine chemistry. Other areas of specialization numerical ocean modeling. The Ph.D. program emphasizes excellence in research. Qualified students holding either a bachelor's or master's degree in a relevant field of science, mathematics, or computer science are encouraged to apply for admission to the Ph.D. program.

Students must meet the general requirements set forth in the Graduate Bulletin of the University of Southern Mississippi. The Ph.D. in Marine Science requires eighty-four (84) graduate hours beyond the bachelor's degree or fifty-four (54) graduate hours beyond the master's degree.

Admission Requirements

In addition to the general admission and academic requirements for all graduate programs as set forth in this Bulletin, regular admission to the Ph.D. program in Marine Science requires successful completion of the Graduate Record Examination (verbal plus quantitative) and a high grade point average for the last two years of undergraduate study as well as a 3.50 GPA on previous graduate study. Successful applicants usually score 500 or above on the verbal as well as the quantitative portions of the GRE and have a grade point average of 3.0 or above for undergraduate work and 3.5 on previous graduate study. During the last three years, the average GRE scores of successful Marine Science Ph.D. applicants have been 495 (verbal) and 698 (quantitative). Also required are three letters of recommendation from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department or school. A letter of intent should also be sent to the department chair expressing personal academic and research goals. A minimum score of 560 is required on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) for applicants whose native language is other than English. For students wishing to be considered for graduate assistantships for the academic year beginning in the fall semester, application materials should be received by the department no later than March 1.

The Department of Coastal Sciences offers both the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in Coastal Sciences. Given the interdisciplinary nature of this department, students interested in pursuing a degree in Coastal Sciences should develop a strong background and working knowledge in the basic sciences. Experience with computers and a basic background in statistics is recommended.

Master of Science Program

The Institute of Marine Sciences offers a Master of Science in Coastal Sciences with specialization in a wide range of subdisciplines including aquaculture, coastal ecology, biodiversity and systematics, coastal geology, environmental chemistry, estuarine and marine botany, fisheries ecology, geochemistry, parasites and diseases, and toxicology. Knowledge deficiencies will be eliminated through completion of elective courses as determined by the student's three-member graduate committee.

Admission Requirements

Granting of regular admission to the Master of Science Degree Program is based on several criteria, including but not limited to the following:

- 1) Submission of complete undergraduate transcript(s). Regular admission to the Master of Science Degree Program requires a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.75 in the last two years of undergraduate credit, and a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 in a science based major;
- 2) Submission of results of the general section of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). Successful applicants usually score 500 or above on both the verbal and the quantitative sections of the GRE and have an overall GPA of 3.0 or above;
- 3) A letter of intent stating interests and career goals as well as three letters of recommendation. The letters of recommendation should be from persons qualified to assess the applicant's readiness for graduate study and should be sent to the department. The department will not initiate its review of an application until the essay and letters of recommendation are provided. The essay is used as an example of the applicant's writing and communication skills, and provides information concerning the compatibility of the applicant's interests with departmental research interests. The essay and letters of recommendation should be sent to the Office of Student Services at IMS-GCRL; and
- 4) A minimum score of 560 on the paper test or 220 on the computer test is required on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) for applicants whose native language is other than English.

Because more qualified students apply to the Department of Coastal Sciences than can be accepted, admission is selective and a complete application must be submitted.

Conditional admission to the Department of Coastal Sciences is considered for students who meet Graduate School standards for conditional admission and who are sponsored by a member of the faculty of Coastal Sciences. The sponsor must provide a written statement indicating willingness to serve as the applicant's major professor. Conditional students cannot obtain a Departmental assistantship but can be awarded a research stipend from a major professor's grant.

Conditionally admitted students must maintain a 3.0 GPA for the first nine (9) hours of formal course work numbered 500 and above or on all course work taken while meeting this nine (9) hours requirement, not including research hours. If this requirement is not met, the student is not allowed to remain in the program. Upon recommendation of the department chair and approval by the Graduate Dean, the conditionally admitted student may have their admission status changed to "regular admission."

Students wishing to be considered for a limited number of graduate assistantships for the academic year beginning in the fall semester must have their completed package to the Graduate School no later than March 1. All applications for admission reviewed after this date will be considered if space is available, or will be placed in consideration for the next term.

Program Requirements

A minimum of thirty (30) graduate hours is required for this degree. Students must meet the general requirements of the Graduate School of The University of Southern Mississippi. Students advance to candidacy for the M.S. degree by completing the entire Program of Study (projection of coursework taken during tenure in Coastal Sciences; see below) developed in consultation with their graduate committee with a 3.0 average or above, completing an approved thesis prospectus, and successfully passing the oral and/or written thesis comprehensive examination.

The following list describes major additional requirements:

- 1) Choose a major professor and establish a three-member graduate thesis committee by the end of the third semester in residency;
- 2) Develop a Program of Study in consultation with major professor and thesis committee by the end of the second semester of residency. Graduate students cannot accumulate more than two Cs;
- 3) Submit a research prospectus approved by the graduate thesis committee by the end of the third semester in residency;
- 4) Pass an oral and/or written comprehensive examination by the end of the third semester in residency (administered by the thesis committee); and
- 5) Present an acceptable copy of the thesis to the graduate thesis committee at least ten days prior to a public defense of the thesis at a publicly announced meeting. (See Thesis Timetable in front section of this Bulletin.)

Doctor of Philosophy Program

The Institute of Marine Sciences offers a Doctor of Philosophy Degree in the Department of Coastal Sciences with specialization in a wide range of subdisciplines including aquaculture, coastal ecology, biodiversity and systematics, coastal geology, environmental chemistry, estuarine and marine botany, fisheries ecology, geochemistry, parasites and diseases, and toxicology. The Ph.D. program emphasizes excellence in research. Knowledge deficiencies will be eliminated through enrollment in elective courses as determined by the student's five-member graduate committee. Qualified students holding a bachelor's degree (B.S./B.A.) or M.S. degree in a relevant field of science are encouraged to apply for admission.

Admission Requirements

Granting of regular admission to the Doctor of Philosophy Degree Program is based on several criteria, including but not limited to the following:

- 1) Regular admission to the Doctor of Philosophy Degree Program requires consideration of the undergraduate overall GPA of 3.0 in a science-based major and a minimum GPA of 3.5 on all previous graduate work;
- 2) Submission of results of the general section of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). Successful applicants usually score 500 or above on both the verbal and the quantitative sections of the GRE and have an overall GPA of 3.0 or above;

The Institute of Marine Sciences (IMS) offers a selection of accelerated, field-oriented, graduate and undergraduate courses during the summer at its Ocean Springs campus, the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory (GCRL). Summer courses at GCRL are listed in this Bulletin under Marine Science (MAR) and Biological Sciences (BSC) and, where appropriate, are cross-listed by Geology, Chemistry, and Science and Mathematics Education. Summer courses are available for graduate credit. Graduate students may also conduct thesis, dissertation, and directed research at GCRL under the supervision of faculty in the Department of Coastal Sciences (COA).

Admission

Students are admitted to Summer Program courses on the basis of academic performance and credentials. Students are asked to apply directly to IMS/GCRL for admission to the accelerated summer courses so that their records can be reviewed for admission. Admissions will be made on a competitive basis, with a limited number of seats held open for general registration during the STARS program to accommodate the Marine Science and Coastal Sciences graduate degree programs and the Marine Biology undergraduate degree program within USM. Contact the Office of Student Services, Institute of Marine Sciences, Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, P.O. Box 7000, Ocean Springs, MS 39566-7000 for application materials. The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory is affiliated with 65 colleges and universities whose students participate in the summer academic program on a competitive basis at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Applications for admission to the IMS/GCRL summer academic program are accepted beginning the second week of January. Decisions on admission to Summer Program courses will be made during the last week of March. Date of application is used to award space in cases where academic credentials are similar; early application to the program is prudent.

Course Loads

The summer academic program courses are offered during two 5-week terms. Because courses are taught at an accelerated pace, i.e., an entire semester of lecture and laboratory is taught in five weeks, a student is allowed to enroll in only one course each term. Students are able to earn up to twelve (12) semester hours credit during the summer. Classes meet each weekday with particular times scheduled for field trips, classroom instruction, and laboratory work.

Housing/Meals for the Summer Program

Housing is available on campus in an air-conditioned dormitory (double occupancy). The dining hall serves three meals daily to dormitory residents. Commuters may also purchase meals on campus for a modest cost.

Fees
